2014 SUMMER INSTITUTE ON TEACHING AND LEARNING
MAY 15-16,2014

OVERVIEW

The ASU Summer Institute on Teaching and Learning is a program designed to help faculty participants reflect upon their teaching and student learning. Exploring issues related to pedagogy, faculty teaching, and student development are time intensive events and faculty rarely have time to engage in interdisciplinary conversations regarding techniques and shared educational goals. The ASU SITL will provide participant faculty the unique opportunity to explore effective, multi-disciplinary approaches to teaching and engaging students.

The CITR is accepting applications from faculty members willing to attend a 2-day Summer Institute on Teaching and Learning held locally. The CITR will fund breakfast, lunch, and various snacks for participants. The 2014 SITL has received generous support from Angelo State's HSI grant.

Please note: This year's SITL includes morning workshops designed for registered participants and afternoon sessions open to the entire ASU Faculty.

Applications are due to the CITR by 4:00 p.m. on Friday, April 11, 2014. The CITR will notify applicants of their status by Wednesday, April 16. Past attendees are welcome to apply.

All sessions will be held at the Tom Green County Library downtown (3rd floor). We will provide breakfast and lunch both days of the SITL.

Application Process:

Interested faculty should complete the application attached to this form. For more information about the sessions, contact the CITR at 942-2782 or citr@angelo.edu. A tentative schedule is posted on the CITR homepage at http://www.angelo.edu/dept/citr/faculty_resources.php.
