OP 42.04: Academic Status (Graduate Students)

DATE: January 2, 2017

PURPOSE: This Operating Policy and/or Procedure (OP) is intended to define the academic requirements for continuation of graduate study.

REVIEW: This OP will be reviewed in June every three years, or as needed, by the dean of the College of Graduate Studies and Research with recommended revisions forwarded through the Graduate Council to the provost and vice president for academic affairs then to the president by July 15 of the same year.

POLICY/PROCEDURE

1. Academic Status

a. Good Standing

A graduate student with regular status is academically in good standing if his or her grade point average for all graduate work completed at Angelo State University is at least 3.00.

b. Probation

When a regular status graduate student's grade point average drops below a 3.00, the student is placed on academic probation. A graduate student who is granted provisional admission is considered to be on academic probation until the provisions under which the student was admitted are satisfied. A thesis student who receives an NP grade is placed on probation.

c. Dismissal

A regular status student whose grade point average is 2.00 or lower may be dismissed from the College of Graduate Studies and Research. A student on probation, as defined above, may be dismissed from the College of Graduate Studies and Research if the student's grade point average is below a 3.00 during the probationary period, drops below a 3.00 in any subsequent semester, or if a second NP grade is received. A student whose performance is unsatisfactory on both the first and second administration of his or her Comprehensive Examination will be dismissed from the College of Graduate Studies and Research. A student will be dismissed if so recommended by the appropriate department committee.
