You have been officially admitted to ASU. Overflow Housing: At the point that all regularly available bed spaces are filled, we will begin assigning students to overflow spaces at Concho Hall. Given space considerations and the temporary nature of overflow assignments, we may not be able to accept room or roommate requests for students in overflow housing. For these reasons, roommate request lotteries may be suspended during the overflow assignments process.	Roommate request lottery is: During the Roommate Request Lottery, you will be able to log in through your MyHousing account, beginning at your assigned lottery time, and request a specific individual(s) to be your room/suitemates. This is roommate request and matching only. You may also update your meal plan preferences at this time. Some things to keep in mind: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Check your MyHousing account a few days before the start of the lottery to view your assigned “start” time. Requests must be mutual. You and your prospective roommate(s) must each log in to your separate MyHousing accounts and request each other. Roommate requests will override building requests. Roommate requests MUST be participating in the same lottery process. If you don’t request a specific individual(s) as room or suitemates, you will be matched prior to being assigned to a room, based on the information you provided in your personal and building preferences. 	To view your room assignment and available roommate contact information: Log in to your MyHousing account on or after the date indicated. Your future roommate’s ASU email address will be included so that you may attempt to contact them ahead of time. Please note: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Some students, particularly first-time students, may not have activated their ASU email accounts yet. You may not get an immediate response, so please don’t assume that they don’t want to contact you. Room and roommate assignment information can change. This is particularly true for roommates and suitemates as students request changes or their plans to attend ASU change. Please check your assignment info periodically.
