ASU[®] UP & COMING scholars PROGRAM

angelo.edu/ucscholars

Up & Coming Scholars

Established in 1994, the Up & Coming Scholars program allows worthy high school students of good academic ability the chance to plan, prepare for and pursue a college degree.

Selection Process and Criteria

- Students who rank in the top one-third of their class at the end of their freshman (ninth grade) year are invited to apply for the Up & Coming Scholars program during the fall semester of their sophomore year.
- Once selected, students must maintain an academic standing in the top half of their class each year.
- Program participants in good standing are required to meet the admission standards of all students seeking admittance to ASU.
- If program requirements are not met and/or guidelines not followed, the student will be removed from the program.

Participating Schools

- Central High School
- Lake View High School
- Ambleside School of San Angelo
- Cornerstone Christian School
- Texas Leadership Charter Academy

Don't see your school? Ask your counselor or principal to contact the program coordinator to discuss becoming a participating school.

High School Students

Benefits*

- A special ID card granting the same privileges as ASU students, including:
 - Library privileges
 - Use of designated campus computer labs
