“I chose ASU because it has an excellent Agriculture Department. My career aspirations are to complete my degree in food animal science and marketing and then become a USDA meat inspector.” – Sabrina Robles, San Antonio

“ASU has a lot of resources that supplement the lectures, such as the MIR Center. After being here and completing my degree, I can honestly say that Angelo State was a great choice for me. I believe I’ve gained the same amount of knowledge, if not more, that I would’ve at a larger university.” – Leesha Crayton, Mayer, Minn.

“I like the degree options and the friendly faculty and staff in the ASU Agriculture Department. I grew up in agriculture and was actively involved in 4-H. I plan to use my ASU degree for a career as a rangeland management specialist for the Natural Resource Conservation Service.” – Rode Mills, Fort Stockton

“I grew up around ranching, and that influenced me to continue my family’s work with livestock. Because I have a lot of experience in livestock production, I decided that pursuing the agribusiness degree would be a good plan to start my career by adding some knowledge of how to manage a business.” – Cody Harrelson, Crane
