Day(s), Time & Location - Online

E-Hours - The instructor is available via email using only your Rammail/Angelo email address (angelo.edu). You should receive a response within 24 hours.

Please post all questions related to assignments in the Class Cafe. Send an email for other questions. Email is the most accessible way to contact all instructors. While it is important to maintain good communication with your instructor, Internet connectivity problems and home computer problems are not considered adequate excuses for missing assigned class work.

Course Description
This course will focus on the development of curriculum. Candidates will explore curriculum models, targeted audiences, learning objectives, appropriate resources, and learning activities and assessments. Candidates will develop and evaluate a resource guide.

Required Text
Learning Objectives and Outcomes
By the end of the course, the candidate will:

- Identify different curriculum development models used to complete the process.
- Design a curriculum overview of selected skills and knowledge related to a specific topic; write goals and objectives to address the curriculum overview topic.
- Create a curriculum document appropriate for the identified issue.
- Evaluate curriculum using original rubric for a specific situation.

Methods of Instruction
Since this course is primarily online, students (candidates) are responsible for understanding the assignments and learning the material. If questions arise, it is important to ask the instructor immediately for help since many of the tasks build on one another.

Candidates are responsible for on time participation in discussion boards and other learning activities. Individual tasks are expected and will be used to determine the final grade.

Class will consist of wikis, online discussions, blogs, individual participation, and papers. Candidates will be expected to contribute significantly to discussion boards to ensure the continuation of the conversation.

Course Requirements
The purpose of graduate education is to provide for advanced and specialized training beyond the baccalaureate program. Graduate study is intended to strengthen the academic and professional competence of the candidate, to develop the candidate’s capacity for independent study, to familiarize candidates with past and current research, to train the candidate in the techniques of research, and to enable the candidate to relate his or her research to the investigations of other scholars and derive significant implications from the relationships.

Graduate study presupposes a broad background of knowledge, an adequate preparation in appropriate fields of study at the baccalaureate level including writing ability, and a command of skills required to carry on intensive research and investigation with a high degree of resourcefulness and self-direction. Generally speaking, only candidates with superior undergraduate academic records and self-motivation are qualified to pursue study at the graduate level.

It should be noted that graduate studies differ from undergraduate studies in the following respects: (1) The candidate is expected to assume greater responsibility and to exercise more individual initiative. (2) More extensive and intensive reading is required. (3) Greater emphasis is placed on productive research, with particular emphasis on the use of primary materials. (4) Seminar methods are employed with greater frequency, as greater class participation by the candidate is required. (5) Less instruction is provided in content, survey-type lecture courses. (6) Writing includes a scholarly voice and argument and critical analysis with credible evidence.
Graduate study thus involves far more than the passing of a given number of courses and the fulfillment of certain minimum requirements. The candidate cannot be content solely with earning acceptable grades. The candidate must continually satisfy the Graduate Faculty in the major field by displaying superior intellectual powers and scholarly commitment in order to maintain graduate status and good standing in the school.

1. Candidates’ Participation:
Candidates should participate actively and enthusiastically in all online discussions. Readings and learning experiences will prepare candidates for discussions.

When prompted by learning modules, discussion boards, PowerPoint presentations, or at any other direction for participation, the minimum response from each candidate is: (1) to post a thoughtful well-developed and supported response to the original or initial posting and/or question; and (2) to post two responses that encourages continued discussion to other candidates’ initial postings. More frequent responses are both allowed and encouraged so that each candidate can learn from peers and professor’s insights. Read instructions carefully. Some assignments require more than two response posts.

2. Candidates’ Written Work:
• Demonstrates content quality and clarity that emphasizes depth and breadth, reflection and insights, scholarly discussion using scholarly voice, vocabulary, argument, and critical analysis.
• Clearly shows a high level of understanding regarding classroom discipline/ the topic of discussion.
• Demonstrates writing quality and clarity, including mechanics, spelling, grammar, appropriate language, and APA style.
• Demonstrates appropriate and accurate inclusion of authority to support discussion, with citations that follow a scholarly APA format.
• Demonstrates appropriate use of respectful person-first language (e.g., “student with dyslexia” rather than “dyslexic student”).
• Demonstrates an overall appearance according to APA format (title, page, 12 pt. font, 1 inch margin, double spaced, etc.), completeness, and timeliness.

3. Candidates’ Communication:
Candidates should maintain open communication with the instructor. Ask questions in a timely manner to provide time for the instructor to respond prior to due date (allow 24 hours for a response). Candidates are expected to check Blackboard and ASU email on a regular basis, preferable daily. Candidates are expected to complete assignments and meet all deadlines for submission of coursework.

Required Readings
Provided within Blackboard modules.
Communication
Candidates must communicate with all instructors via only the ASU e-mail system. Candidates must also access and use Blackboard, Ramport, and Angelo e-mail. Candidates must access Blackboard regularly for electronic posting of the syllabus, assignments, announcements, scoring information, and instructions.

Candidates should contact the ASU Help Desk at 325-942-2911 to learn about Blackboard, how to access and navigate it, or other technology assistance. This should be done EARLY in the class, preferably before the first class day.

Research Writing Style
In the Department of Curriculum and Instruction all candidates should adhere to American Psychological Association Publication Manual (APA) when completing written assignments, and when applicable, in other electronic or media-style presentations. The APA Manual is available at the ASU library, at the bookstore, or on-line at www.apa.org.

If a template is provided follow those instructions.

Attendance Policy
Active participation in course activities and accessing online course materials constitutes attendance. When prompted by learning modules, discussion boards, PowerPoint presentations, or at any other direction for participation, the minimum response from each candidate is: (1) to post a response to the original or initial posting and/or question; and (2) to post two substantive responses to other candidates’ postings to continue the conversation. More frequent responses are both allowed and encouraged so that each candidate can learn from peers and professor’s insights.

Absences for Observance of Religious Holy Day
Students can find information on the observance of religious holy days in Operating Policy 10.19. Because of the online nature of this course, there is not a specific attendance requirement.

Persons Seeking Accommodations
ASU is committed to the principle that no qualified individual with a disability shall, on the basis of disability, be excluded from participation in or be denied the benefits of the services, programs or activities of the university, or be subjected to discrimination by the university, as provided by the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA), the Americans with Disabilities Act Amendments of 2008 (ADAAA), and subsequent legislation.

The Office of Student Affairs is the designated campus department charged with the responsibility of reviewing and authorizing requests for reasonable accommodations based on a disability, and it is the candidate's responsibility to initiate such a request by contacting:

Title IX
Angelo State University is committed to providing and strengthening an educational, working, and living environment where students, faculty, staff, and visitors are free from sex discrimination of any kind. Sexual discrimination, sexual misconduct, public indecency, interpersonal violence, sexual assault, sexual exploitation, sexual harassment, and stalking are not tolerated at ASU. You are encouraged to report any incidents to ASU’s Title IX Coordinator Michelle Boone at michelle.boone@angelo.edu or using ASU’s online form at http://www.angelo.edu/services/title-ix/file-a-complaint.php

Academic Honesty
Angelo State University expects its students to maintain complete honesty and integrity in their academic pursuits. Candidates are responsible for understanding the Academic Integrity Policy, which is contained in the Student Handbook at http://www.angelo.edu/student-handbook/.

Plagiarism is strictly forbidden, and ASU instructors may utilize Internet search links that assist in identifying plagiarized materials.

Grading and Assignments
Each assignment will be worth a varying number of points. Grades will be determined by the percentage of the total possible points earned.

Late Assignments
All activities should be submitted by the scheduled due dates. A 10% grade reduction may occur for each day the assignment is late. Extensions will be administered on a case-by-case basis with the appropriate documentation according to the departmental policy.

Assignments
More detail and specific due dates for assignments will be posted in Blackboard.
Course Calendar of Due Dates

You are expected to read all material in each module before submitting an assignment. The instructions and scoring expectations are included in the module. All activities should be submitted by 11:59 pm (CST) on the date scheduled. A 10% grade reduction may occur for each day the assignment is late. Extensions will be administered on a case-by-case basis with the appropriate documentation according to the departmental policy.
