- Short report (newspaper / journal article) (50%):
  You will submit a one to two page written report summarizing a newspaper / journal article on any topic in personal finance. Obviously, you cannot write a two page summary of an article that is half a page long, so you must select accordingly. Detailed information about this is given on the guidelines.

- Blackboard assignments (40%):
  This course has a Blackboard page. You will complete on-line assignments for each module on the free websites that link from Blackboard such as Cash Course. You are also required to finish all the modules on the Information Literacy Blackboard course. Online assignments will consist of worksheets, simulations, and simple quizzes like the ones you see on the Info. Lit. course. Your average score on those assignments will make up 40% of the course grade.

- Campus Activity Report (10%):
  You will attend a campus event and make a short report about it. It could be a conference, guest speaker, Study Abroad presentation, concert, play, debate etc. Of course, you should attend as many of those as you can in order to become part of the cultural and intellectual life of the university. But, for our class, you must attend at least one such event. You must document your attendance with a signature from the person in charge of the event. The report should be about one to two pages long, double spaced, 12 pt. font. As with all of your work, it must not contain any grammatical errors or typos. In the report, you describe the event, why you chose to attend it, what you gained from it.
POLICIES:
- Attendance will be taken in each class. Each class missed will reduce the grade by 5 point out of 100. Miss two and you are down to 90 etc.
- No late submission will be accepted. Any item after a deadline is a zero.
- No make-up will be given because there is no exam, per se.

UNIVERSITY RESOURCES
Students will be informed about the learning resources and support available to them such as Academic Support Services and Student Support Resource Guide. They will be strongly encouraged to attend university events to feel like an integral part of the ASU community.
