Art History I surveys the history of art from around 30,000 BCE to around 1200 CE, introducing major monuments of painting, sculpture, architecture, and other arts created in Europe, Egypt, and the Americas.

OBJECTIVES: In ARTS 1303, you will learn how to think, talk, and write about art and its history. Upon completing the course, you will be able to recognize the primary themes and subjects in the art of various cultures, identify the hallmarks of regional and period styles, explain the chronology of art history, and relate works of art to human history. You will have acquired the language of art criticism through the description, analysis, and interpretation of works of art; developed your powers of critical thinking through readings, written assignments, and class discussion; and gained an informed appreciation for various methodological approaches to the discipline of art history and the ways in which museums collect, preserve, study, and exhibit works of art.
