An overview of geomapping concepts and terminology. Application of geomapping (GIS: Geographic Information Systems) software to analyze geological information. Topics include relational databases, spatial data analysis, and digital mapping.

Prerequisite and Co-requisite Courses

None

Student Learning Outcomes

Learning outcomes will be evaluated by lab assignments and projects. At the end of this course, the student will be able to:

1. Use ArcGIS software to create original final products.
2. Create, edit, and manage data using GIS.
3. Analyze datasets to identify if spatial patterns exist.
4. Design maps to visually communicate spatial relationships.
5. Create databases which are conducive to collaboration.

Course Delivery

This is a face-to-face course with learning resources and supplemental materials posted in Blackboard. Due to the nature of this course, there are no lectures, it is imperative that you show up to class every week. The assignments can be completed outside of classroom hours, in computer labs on campus that have ArcGIS (CAV 031, VIN Research Annex). I will make accommodations for those with letters from the office of student affairs (ADA).

You will also be expected to complete and turn in coursework via Blackboard.¹

Required Texts and Materials

- Textbook: Getting to Know ArcGIS, 4th edition, by Law, M. & Collins, A.
- ASU email account which you check regularly
- Blackboard course site

Technology Requirements

To successfully complete this course, students should have access to their Angelo State OneDrive account. I highly recommend using a flash drive of at least 4GB of storage. Between the OneDrive account and the flash drive, you should have more than enough storage for all the data.

Communication

Faculty will respond to email and/or telephone messages within 24 hours during working hours Monday through Friday. Weekend messages may not be returned until Monday.

Written communication via email: All private communication will be done exclusively through your ASU email address. Check frequently for announcements and policy changes. In your emails to faculty, include the course name and section number in your subject line.

Grading

Evaluation and Grades

Course grades will be determined as indicated in the table below.

Assessment	Percent of Total Grade
Weekly Lab Exercises	55%
Midterm Project	15%
Final Project	30%
Total	100%

Grading System

Course grades will be dependent upon completing course requirements and meeting the student learning outcomes.

The following grading scale is in use for this course:

A = 90.00-100 points

B = 80.00-89.99 points

C = 70.00-79.99 points

D = 60.00-69.99 points

F = 0-59.99 points (Grades may be rounded up)

Assignment and Activity Descriptions

You are not automatically dropped if you stop attending class; April 28th is the last day to drop a course.

A typical class meeting will be a daily lab exercise with supplemental information and discussion to aid in understanding the material.

All assignments are to be turned in individually, but you can work together and ask each other questions. I will recognize if you turn in the same work as another classmate; any plagiarism will result in an automatic zero grade for that assignment. There will be no make-ups for missed assignments or projects. You may lose points on assignments and projects if they are turned in late.
