Course Description: This course is designed to explore elementary and secondary school curriculum and instructional trends as well as current controversies in education. All assignments and readings, including research done by other class members, constitute readings in curriculum trends and issues.

Required Texts:
Optional Text: If you have not had the Research course (6391) you might want to go ahead and purchase the APA Manual. Education uses American Psychological Assoc. style, and you must use this in writing your papers. A new edition just came out, so I will be accepting EITHER the 5th or 6th edition for fall 2009.
Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (5th or 6th ed.)

Course Goals: The graduate student will be able to:
• Produce a personal definition of curriculum.
• Explain the history of curriculum development.
• Examine curriculum perspectives and procedures.
• Explore theories, change, and leadership in curriculum.
• Investigate current controversies relating to curriculum.
• Describe selected curriculum theorists and their viewpoints.
• Post and monitor Blackboard Discussions relating to individual research topic.
• Debate online in a synchronous chat with other class members monitored by the professor.

IDEA Information:
Essential objectives for this course include the following:
• Gaining factual knowledge
• Learning fundamental principles, generalizations, and theories
Important objectives are as follows:
• Acquiring skills working with others as a member of a team
• Developing skill at expressing oneself orally or in writing
• Learning to analyze and critically evaluate ideas, arguments, and points of view
Methods of Instruction: This course will consist of extensive readings and research in the area of curriculum; individual and group online discussions/chat sessions; small group and individual research projects submitted online; and peer evaluations of products.

Course Requirements:
1. Required readings in textbooks
2. Accessing Blackboard and checking angelo.edu e-mail regularly
3. Group and Individual Research Projects submitted online
4. Peer evaluations of research projects
5. Online submission of current events in curriculum
6. Internet communications/discussions/chat in Blackboard on a regular basis
7. Successful completion of mid-term and final exams
8. Completion of all assignments submitted on time to the professor

Assignments: The assignments will be explained in greater detail in Blackboard as they are due. All written assignments, presentations, media presentations, etc. must follow the writing style found in the 6th edition of the American Psychological Association Publication Manual (APA Manual). APA Format is critical!! Course Information in Blackboard includes basics for citations in APA style. You may find further help online. If you have not had the graduate research class, you may need extra help. Turn in your work ahead of time for proofreading by your professor and/or get a peer to edit your work.

Course Evaluation and Grading: The course grade will be weighted based on the following components:

1. Mid-term exam 15%
2. Final exam 15%
3. Group Research Project & peer evaluations 15%
4. Individual Research Project & peer evaluations 15%
5. Discussion Board Postings (5) 10%
6. Current Events in curriculum (4) 10%
7. Group online debate and written argument 10%
8. Political essay 10%

Number grades will be given on a 100 point scale. Letter grades will be given as follows:
100-90 = A Excellent work
89-80 = B Better than average
79-70 = C Average work
69-60 = D Below standard work
Below 60 = F Failure

ASU Policy for Persons Seeking Accommodations:
Persons with disabilities that may warrant academic accommodations must contact the Student Life Office in the University Center, Room 112, in order to request such accommodations prior to any accommodations being implemented. You are encouraged to make this request early in the semester so that appropriate arrangements can be made.

ASU Academic Honor Code:
Angelo State University expects its students to maintain complete honesty and integrity in their academic pursuits. Students are responsible for understanding the Academic Honor Code, which is contained in both print and web versions of the Student Handbook. Plagiarism or the use of Internet Web, etc. prepared papers is strictly forbidden. Faculty utilize Internet search links that assist in identifying plagiarized materials.

Course Content and Tentative Calendar:
(Assignments are due by midnight of the date listed below. Points will be deducted for each day work is late.)

Jan. 19-24
Assignment 1 (See Assignments link in Blackboard.) due by Jan. 24:
Personal definition of curriculum – Please do before beginning your readings in the curriculum textbook. Submit all assignments to professor as an e-mail attachment.

Reading Assignment 1:
Curriculum textbook - Chapters 1 & 2 – Curriculum Character and History
Taking Sides – Issue 7 – “No Child Left Behind ”

Jan. 25-31
Discussion Board 1 due by Jan. 28. (See Assignments link in Blackboard for Ongoing Assignments.) Discussion Board is a link in Blackboard where questions and comments are posted from the professor and individual students. You will be expected to make at least 2 comments for each Discussion Board assignment each time one is due. I try to give you several choices, so you do NOT have to comment on everything! At the end of the term, you will be the moderator of your own Discussion Board for other class members on your Individual Research Topic. (Instructions to follow)

Current Event 1 due by Jan. 31. (See Assignments link in Blackboard for Ongoing Assignments.) Current Events in curriculum provide a summary of an article from a recent newspaper, journal, and online source. You must have one from each reference type during the semester, cited in APA style. (See sample Current Events in Course Information.) Virtually any topic concerning education can be related to curriculum in some way. All Current Events for the week will be compiled and linked under Course Documents by the professor. These reviews then become part of your reading assignment and topics for discussion in later Discussion Boards. A sample online source is listed in External Links in Blackboard – the Association of Supervision and Curriculum Development. Please be sure online sources are reputable. Newspapers and journals may also be reviewed online, but do not count as your online source – APA citation format will indicate the origin of the source.
Feb. 1-7
Reading assignment also includes reading Current Events 1 from all class members posted as a Word document in Course Documents.

Discussion Board 2 due by Feb. 7.

Post questions and answer comments made by classmates, starting April 18. You must also post 2 comments (or more) on other people’s topics. Completion of Discussion Board 5 due May 5.

This assignment is similar to the written argument for the group debate. Choose a topic from your syllabus list, textbook, or Taking Sides that has not been covered previously. Briefly explain both sides of the issue, then choose which side you support. Provide one outside source and your own personal argument to defend the side of your choice. 1-2 pages minimum.
April 26-May 2
Reading assignment includes Individual Research PowerPoints posted in Blackboard under Course Documents. Peer Evaluation forms found in Course Information. Please copy and paste to submit all evaluations to professor as one Word document.

Peer evaluations due May 2.

May 3-9
Discussion Board 5 due May 5. This includes your own posting and monitoring of your Individual Research topic discussion, as well as posting to at least 2 other classmates.

Review for final exam:
- Chapters 5-9 in Marsh & Willis textbook
- Taking Sides Issues 14 & 18
- Political Essay and Group Debate Material

You will need a copy of your personal definition of curriculum given the first week of class. If you do not have it, please ask professor ahead of time to send a copy before beginning the test.
See “Testing Advice” in Course Information.

Final Exam - online – weekend of May 7-9.
Available 5:00am Friday morning through Sunday at 11:55pm.
Contact professor if you are having problems with Blackboard.
Home phone: 944-1223 Cell phone: 450-3816
Final exam will be released for your review after all students have finished. Please contact the professor if you have questions about your grade. I will be turning in your final grades as soon as the tests are completed. You must catch me immediately if you have a question!! Look in Blackboard grade center as soon as possible because I try to grade them as they come in to me.
