TEA/SBEC
• The PPR will become one test---all level, beginning in September 2011. It will have the same items and content as prior leveled exams

• The Composite Social Studies certification will end in 2013 and will be converted to separate certification areas: Geography, Government, Economics, History. The reasoning is that a candidate can fail one section of the test and still pass the entire test.

• The Composite Science certification will also end in 2013 for the same above stated reasons. There will be separate certification areas in Life Science, Chemistry, and Physics.

TEA/SBEC
• SB174 passed during the last legislative session
• It addresses Field Experiences and
• It requires a Principal’s Survey regarding first year teachers
• This year there is a pilot form for a Supervisor’s Survey
• UT has contracted to conduct the Project on Educator Effectiveness and Quality (PEEQ), a survey to determine what makes effective first through third year teachers, tracking back to individual educator preparation programs
TTU Initiatives
- Collaboration working toward sponsored doctoral cohorts at ASU Educational Administration is currently underway
- A new Dean of the College of Education is arriving from Arizona. Increased collaboration is anticipated when the dean is in place

National Council on Teacher Quality – information and clarification
- NCTQ board members want to privatize all public schools
- NCTQ national survey of teacher preparation programs and results were published in US News and World Report magazine (FYI: UT declined to participate)
- The study took its information only from syllabi and textbooks. It was clearly an old input model. ASU is and was opposed to the structure and implementation of the survey. The results are questionable at best.

The Texas Legislative Session
- Was relatively quiet for universities except for budget concerns
- There were 2 school counseling bills. One stating that every counselor preparation program must include college advising training. The other one stated that counselors need to be certified for various levels, elementary, middle, secondary, etc.

QUESTIONS/CONCERNS/SUGGESTIONS/IDEAS
- What about all level PE? The certification is no longer offered. A candidate must choose a major in a teaching content field and then minor in Kinesiology.
- What about a General Education degree? It is being worked on with the BA of Individual Studies
- Comment on the Ag Ed certification: Invest time in the development of the program to make it good. Many Ag Ed teachers also teach shop and they need those skills too.
- Technology: Do we prepare candidates to work with C-SCOPE? It is usually a personnel interview question. YES, it is presented during student teaching seminars
- FYI: Remind your teachers of the summer Pearl of the Concho Writing Project and the Tx Math Grant Program.

End of Meeting: Adjourned to business meeting at 11:15am.
