

The Naked Roommate
(And 107 Other Issues You Might Run Into in College)

September 17, 2009 CJ Davidson, University Center

On Thursday, September 17th at 7:30pm in the CJ Davidson Room of the Houston Harte University Center, author, songwriter and syndicated columnist Harlan Cohen will share his thoughts on the keys to college success.

Cohen specializes in advice for college students. He began his career by writing for Indiana University's campus newspaper. For his most recent book, "The Naked Roommate," he interviewed more than 1,000 students on more than 100 college campuses, asking them what one piece of advice they would give themselves if they could go back in time. His show mixes stand-up comedy, original songs and an opportunity for audience members to have anonymous questions answered.

ASU Residential Programs is sponsoring this FREE event. All ASU faculty, staff and students are invited to attend.
