

Anthony D. Bartl

Angelo State University
Tony.Bartl@Angelo.edu

Education

Ph. D. in Political Science, Baylor University, Spring 2012

Dissertation: The Principled Constitutionalism of Justice Anthony M. Kennedy,
David K. Nichols (advisor and committee chair)

Primary Concentration: American Politics – Constitutional Law

Secondary Concentration: Political Theory

M.A. in Political Science, Baylor University; B.A. in History, Northern Illinois University

Academic Positions

Lecturer in Political Science, Angelo State University, Aug 2010-present

Adjunct Lecturer, Baylor University, Fall 2008-Spring 2009

Teaching Experience

Classes Taught

American Constitutional Law I – POLS 4301, Angelo State University

American Constitutional Law II – POLS 4301, Angelo State University

Judicial Process and Behavior – POLS 3361, Angelo State University

Federal and State Government I – POLS 2301, Angelo State University

Federal and State Government II – POLS 2302, Angelo State University

American Constitutional Development – PSC 2302, Baylor University

Education as an Agent for Change, Northern Illinois University

Discussion Leader / Teaching Assistant

Civil Rights and Liberties, Baylor University, Spring 2008

The American Presidency, Discussion Sections, Baylor University, Fall 2007

Democracy in America, Northern Illinois University, Spring 2004

Constitutional Law I, Northern Illinois University, Fall 2003

Introduction to American Government, Northern Illinois University, Spring 2003

American Foreign Policy-Making, Northern Illinois University, Fall 2002

Colloquia and Lectures

Baylor Honors Colloquium, April 15, 2010– Robert Penn Warren’s All the King’s Men

Academic Service

Pre-Law Advisor, Angelo State University, Aug. 2010 – Present

Mock Trial Team, Faculty Advisor and Coach, Fall 2011 – Present

Search Com. for American Government Position, Angelo State University, Fall 2011

Conference Participation

Author

“The Principled Constitutionalism of Justice Kennedy’s First Amendment Jurisprudence” – paper to be presented on a the panel, Jurisprudence, Federalism and the Supreme Court, in San Francisco at the annual meeting of the Western Political Science Association, April 1, 2010

"Aristotle in Paradise: The Son of God as Milton's Magnanimous Man" – paper presented in Chicago at the annual meeting of the Midwest Political Science Association April 2009

“Citizens and Human Beings under Law” – paper presented in Chicago at the annual meeting of the American Political Science Association in September 2007

“Human Being and Citizen under the Law” – paper presented in Albuquerque at the annual meeting of the Southwestern Political Science Association in March 2007

“Shakespeare’s Erotic Tyrant” – paper presented in New Orleans for the annual meeting of the Southern Political Science Association, January 2005

“Why the Atheists Are Wrong about David Hume” – presented in Boston for the annual meeting of the Northeastern Political Science Association, Nov. 2004

“Popper, Plato and Prudence” – paper presented at the annual meeting of the Midwest Political Science Association in Chicago, April 2004

Discussant

“Justice and Tyranny in Shakespeare,” a panel at the annual meeting of the Midwest Political Science Association in Chicago, April 2009

“Human Nature, Citizenship, and Foundings” a panel at the annual meeting of Southern Political Science Association in New Orleans, January 2007

Fellowships and Awards

Bradley Graduate Fellowship, Lynde and Harry Bradley Foundation, 2007-2008

Editorial Experience

Editorial Intern, Rhetoric and Public Affairs, Martin J. Medhurst, ed., 2007-2009

Academic Interests

Constitutional Law
Political Institutions
Political Theory

Presidency
American Political Thought
Politics and Literature