Cattle Feeders Management Associate Full-time and Intern

Headquartered in Wichita, Kansas, Cargill's Cattle Feeders division operates five cattle feedlots across Texas, Kansas, and Colorado. As a Management Associate, you'll be placed in various positions in both the feedlots and general office during the first year of your career. At the feedlots, you'll be exposed to Safety, Feed Yard Maintenance, Feed Milling and Distribution, Cattle Receiving, Health and Care, End-Point Management, Cattle Shipping and our alliance with Cargill Beef. Your general office training will include Cattle and Grain Procurement, Marketing, Risk Management, Accounting and Information Technologies. Management Associates spend their first year learning the ropes on various crews making the big move to supervise a crew of their own for hands-on experience.

Operations Associate

As an Operations Associate in one of Cargill Beef Meat facilities, you'll get the feel of how things work within each particular department. Here you will be exposed to a number areas including, but not limited to: production, QA, safety, and shipping that will give you the necessary tools to effectively run a department within one of our plant facilities. Because you'll have a complete understanding of the Cargill business, you'll take on your role as production supervisor with skills and confidence.
