For Parents:
We are happy to have your student in the ASU Presidential Scholars Dual Credit Program. Taking dual credit courses will give your child a huge advantage when entering college. However, there are some things to keep in mind in supporting your student during their dual credit enrollment:

- Dual credit courses are college-level courses. The grade that the student earns will calculate into their GPA (grade point average) which could affect their future academic standing and financial aid eligibility. If the student is having issues with their courses, they should speak with their high school guidance counselor quickly. There is a deadline to withdraw from dual credit courses before a grade must be reported.
- Students should check with the major at their prospective public or private college/university to understand how their dual credit courses will fit into their degree plan and to ensure that they will transfer. To understand how these courses fit into an ASU degree plan, please refer to the Undergraduate Catalog or speak with an ASU academic advisor.
- If your student plans on coming here as a freshman (and we hope that they do), they do not need to request a transcript to be sent to ASU! The courses are already on their ASU record.

University Calendar:
ASU Dual Credit Courses follow the ASU Academic Calendar. This means that dual credit courses will start and end at the same time as the other ASU college courses. This may vary slightly from the high school calendar. Please refer to the course syllabus or speak with the instructor about the course schedule.

http://www.angelo.edu/services/registrars_office/academic_calendar.php

Technology Access Account
Most student technology services at ASU are accessible with your Technology Access Account. It will allow you to access network services in the labs, classrooms, via wireless, and from off campus. This account will also provide you access to RamPort (ASU’s portal). With the Technology Access Account, you will be given an ASU e-mail account that can be used both on and off campus through RamPort.

Upon admission to Angelo State’s dual credit program, you will receive an email allowing you to set up access to RamPort. Follow the instructions carefully and save the confirmation page for future reference. If you forget your username and/or password, please contact the IT Help Desk at (325) 942-2911. You will need to supply them with your Student ID number (CID). If you have trouble anytime logging into your account, please contact the Help Desk.

Selecting your Dual Credit Courses
You will sign up for classes through your high school counselor. Please contact your counselor to inquire about classes that are available and for which classes you are eligible to enroll. When selecting courses for dual credit, it is important to consider your future educational goals. You should begin researching colleges and universities and majors early to determine which courses would best suit your goals. The information provided below should assist you in selecting your courses.

Texas Common Course Numbering System
https://www.tccns.org/

The Texas Common Course Numbering System (TCCNS) is a voluntary, co-operative effort among 136 Texas community colleges and universities to facilitate transfer of freshman and sophomore level general academic coursework. TCCNS provides a shared, uniform set of course designations for students and their advisors to use in determining both course equivalency and degree applicability of transfer credit on a statewide basis. When students transfer between two participating TCCNS institutions, a course taken at the sending institution transfers as the course carrying the same TCCNS designation at the receiving institution.

Texas Core Curriculum
Students have flexibility to choose courses from an institution's core curriculum. However, that flexibility may be limited by the student's major. For example, most science majors have prescribed math and science requirements as part of their degree program requirements. Students should also be aware that most degree plans only require a certain number of courses in the core. For example, a student majoring in a science field will most likely only need one course in the creative arts core curriculum. This means that students should choose to take just one music, art, or theatre course.
Students should always consult with an academic advisor or counselor at their prospective college or university to determine what courses might be applicable to their major and consult with their high school counselor to ensure they are needed for high school graduation requirements.

The Texas Core Curriculum contains the following requirements:

- Communication- 6 credit hours (2 courses)
- Mathematics- 3 credit hours (1 course)
- Life and Physical Science- 6 credit hours (2 courses)
- Language, Philosophy, and Culture- 3 credit hours (1 course)
- Creative Arts- 3 credit hours (1 course)
- American History- 6 credit hours (2 courses)
- Government/Political Science- 6 credit hours (2 courses)
- Social and Behavioral Sciences- 3 credit hours (1 course)
- Component Area Option- 6 credit hours*

*An institution may wish to include in its core curriculum courses that address exemplary educational objectives not covered in the preceding broad discipline categories. Such courses may include computer literacy, kinesiology, health/wellness, interdisciplinary or linked courses, or other courses that address a specific institutional role and mission.

Using Dual Credit Courses towards a Degree at Angelo State University

Students taking courses as part of the core curriculum at Angelo State University will have those courses applied to their core if they choose to attend ASU as an undergraduate. However, even at ASU, certain majors require specified courses to meet degree requirements. For a list of major requirements, please visit https://www.angelo.edu/academics/. Be aware that degree requirements can change from year to year and may vary slightly by the time a high school student attends ASU as an undergraduate student.

If the course you are taking is not part of the core curriculum, degree applicability will depend highly on the major you are selecting. For instance, all Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) programs at ASU require 12 credit hours (4 courses) in foreign language. If a student elects to take Spanish dual credit courses and chooses a B.A. program at ASU, those courses will apply to their degree. However, if a student elects to take Spanish dual credit courses at ASU and chooses to major in Chemistry as part of a Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree; those courses may only count as electives. The amount of electives required varies depending on the major you choose; however, elective hours are usually very limited.

All B.A. and B.S. degree programs at ASU require students to select a minor. A minor is 18 hours (approximately 6 classes) within a particular field. If a student takes several Spanish courses but decides to major in a B.S. field where foreign language courses are not required, the student could elect to minor in Spanish so that those courses will be used towards their minor requirement.

Transferring Your Dual Credit Courses to another College or University

If a student plans on transferring ASU dual credit courses to another college or university, it is important to consult with your prospective college or university and the major that you wish to pursue to ensure the courses you are taking will apply to your intended degree. Visit the university websites for information about majors, course requirements, and transferability of courses. Transcripts can be ordered online at https://www.credentials-inc.com/tplus/?ALUMTRO003541.

Printing Your Class Schedule

You will want to print your schedule from Ramport a few days prior to classes starting. Occasionally, class locations change from the time that you register to the time that classes start. Printing your schedule closer to the first day of classes ensures that you’ll have the most accurate location for your class. Find the building of your class on the campus map and determine where you should park.

Printing Your Schedule in Ramport

1. Sign in to your RamPort student account with your ASU username and password.
2. Select the Dual Credit tab on the left and then scroll down to the Registration section.
3. Click on the View Schedule icon.

FERPA

FERPA stands for The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974. FERPA, as amended, establishes requirements regarding the privacy of student records. FERPA governs:

- The release of student records maintained by the university
- Access to student records

The university must notify students annually of their rights to:

- Inspect and review their student records
- Request to amend their student records
- Limit disclosure of personally identifiable information contained in student records
- File a complaint with the Department of Education concerning an alleged failure by the university to comply with FERPA

Parental Access to Student’s Records

When a student reaches the age of 18 OR is attending a postsecondary institution, regardless of age, FERPA rights transfer from the parent to the student. Parents of Angelo State University students may not receive non-directory information unless the student creates a FERPA/Proxy Authorized User from their secure RamPort account.

Filling Out Proxy Access Information

Steps to set up a FERPA/Proxy Authorized User:

1. Sign in to your RamPort student account with your ASU username and password.
2. Select your name in the upper right corner, and then select My Info.
3. In the FERPA section click Grant FERPA/Proxy Access.

FERPA

Give your parents or guardians FERPA/Proxy access so that ASU can request students can still only be placed by students.

Click on “Add Authorized User” to set up an account for a third party (i.e. Mom, Dad, Counselor).
5. Read the text on the page and make sure that you understand the implications and responsibility of granting a FERPA/Proxy Authorized User access to your records and information.

6. Type in the required information including a valid email address for the Authorized User. This is not your email address. This email will allow the Authorized User to receive communications necessary to finalize the setup of their account access.

7. “Expand Authorized User” to set up the relationship and description of your Authorized User. Be as specific as possible. Your user will receive an email and once he/she logs in to their secure account and submits the required information, your FERPA/Proxy is complete. At this point, ASU staff and faculty can discuss your educational and financial records with this user.

Parking on Campus

Students are required to purchase a parking permit to take classes on the ASU campus. Dual credit students are not required to pay for the parking permit, but you still must register your vehicle and pick up your parking permit from the Parking Office. Dual credit students will be required to park in the B Lot Parking Zones. Signs are posted in the parking lots designating each lot as A, B, C, D, etc.

You are encouraged to get to campus early to ensure a parking space is available. You will need to arrive early in order to park close to your building or to allow time to park and walk. You must order your parking permit online. It will show you a cost, but we will apply a scholarship to your bill to cover the cost of the parking permit.

Ordering your Parking Permit

RamPark is an on-line parking registration program for students which you will be able to access during the online registration period.    b. Click OK to add and enter required info
8. Click Purchase Permit
9. Confirm the permit type and charge
10. Print out receipt if using a computer that is connected to a printer

Picking Up Your Parking Pass

Your parking permit will NOT be mailed to you. You must pick up your parking permit from the Parking Services Office. You can pick up your parking pass within two weeks of the first day of classes.

NOTE: The parking pass expires at the end of the summer term. If you are beginning dual credit classes in the summer, you must buy a parking pass for the summer term and for another parking permit for the fall term if you plan to continue during the school year.

Please submit the application/renewal at least 10 days prior to the beginning of each term you are enrolled with ASU. Send all supporting documentation upon submittal of the initial application. Documentation is required. These items can be sent to:

An online introduction is also available to view in Blackboard.

1. Sign in to your RamPort student account with your ASU username and password.
2. Select the Blackboard icon on the top right hand corner.

Dropping Classes

If you are not performing well in the class, you can drop your class before the drop deadline (see University Calendar). This could affect your financial aid eligibility in the future; however, failing a class may also affect your financial aid eligibility. If you are considering dropping the course, you MUST contact your high school counselor who will begin the process of dropping your course.

Dual Credit Grades

Your instructor will assign you with a letter grade of A, B, C, D, or F. Enrolling in an Angelo State dual credit course will result in an institutional GPA at Angelo State. All coursework obtained through ASU will be calculated in the institutional GPA. Your overall completion rate of college courses does include courses taken as dual credit and the overall completion rate of college coursework will be used to determine your financial aid eligibility in the future.

Checking Your Grades

Your grade will be available in RamPort the week after classes conclude. You can log-in to RamPort to view the grades that you received.

1. Sign in to your RamPort student account with your ASU username and password.

Probation and Suspension for Dual Credit Students

Dual Credit Academic Probation

Students are placed on academic probation at the end of any term when a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.00 is not attained in college-level courses. Students are not subject to academic probation until a minimum of six semester hours of ASU dual credit courses has been attempted. Students on academic probation will be allowed to enroll in the next term, but may not register for more than 6 hours of dual credit courses in that term.

Dual credit students who enroll while they are classified as being on academic probation may continue to enroll in succeeding terms providing they achieve at least a 2.00 GPA each term, even though their cumulative GPA is still below 2.0.

Dual Credit Academic Suspension

Dual credit students who enroll in dual credit courses while on academic probation will be suspended from the succeeding long-term if they fail to achieve at least a 2.00 GPA in dual credit courses for that term. Students who are placed on academic suspension at the conclusion of the spring term are not eligible for enrollment in dual credit courses the following fall semester. Angelo State University has a responsibility to maintain order within the University community and to discipline those who violate its standards, rules and/or policies. Enrollment requires students to share this responsibility. Students agree to abide by the standards, rules and/or policies set forth in this Student Handbook, the Undergraduate Catalog, the Graduate Catalog and other official University publications, as well as the Texas Education Code.
