Course Description: SPAN 1411/1412 (4 credit hours including lab. Continued development of basic Spanish language skills in listening, speaking, reading and writing within a cultural framework. Students acquire the vocabulary and grammatical structures necessary to communicate and comprehend at the highest beginner to low intermediate level.
Pre-requisite: at least two years of high school Spanish, or Beginning Spanish I.

Additional Information:
This course is founded on interaction, communication, and culture and is geared at improving all aspects of Spanish language-speaking, listening, reading, writing and knowledge of the Hispanic culture. Strong emphasis will be placed on reading and speaking the language; therefore, the course entails a great deal of reading preparation and oral practice of the language during class time. You will exchange real-life information about yourself in a variety of activities. You will continue to acquire and improve upon your aural comprehension by listening to me and others speak in class, which will be conducted primarily in the target language (Spanish), and by listening and responding to the comprehension exercises in MySpanish Lab (MSL), as well as any additional materials presented in class. It is recommended that you spend time outside of class exposing yourself to the Spanish language by watching Spanish-speaking programs, listening to Spanish radio stations, choosing print materials of personal interest that are in Spanish, and engaging in interactions with others that speak the language. You will continue to acquire and improve your speaking ability by using Spanish with the whole class and in small activity groups. Nevertheless, it is always important to understand the basic principles of grammar in order to become more proficient, and this will require that you learn said principles and rules, which will be discussed in English.
In learning such an array of communication skills you must diligently practice and strive for improvement. It is impossible to “cram” for a language class and expect satisfactory results as communicative competence is built gradually over a period of time. You will be given ample resources to help you succeed and you will be held to high expectations in all aspects of this course.
Havening and maintaining an active email account as well as online access will be essential for this course. Please note campus computer lab locations and times.

Assignments: Assignments are to be prepared before class. Each assignment will be due at the beginning of class unless otherwise stated. Assignments will include readings and textbook exercises (oral and written/typed), supplementary worksheets, the MySpanish Lab (MSL) assignments and any other activities designed to stimulate and reinforce foreign language acquisition. Please prepare your assignments carefully and expect to participate in class. On average you should study an amount of time equal to that spent in class. Assignments will not be accepted incomplete or late (after I’ve taken them up). This includes arriving late to class. Please note that in this class, utilizing translation websites for written assignments in Spanish will not be allowed and will infringe upon the guidelines of academic integrity.

*A grade of ‘C’ or better is required in order to continue to the next level of Spanish at ASU.

Attendance Policy: Class attendance is mandatory! You are expected to be on time and to remain the entire class period. If you leave prior to the dismissal of class, you will be counted absent. Three tardies will constitute an absence. Attendance will be taken at the beginning of each class period.

Missed assignments: There will be no make-up work, quizzes (scheduled and/or pop), nor make-up exams. If you will be absent, contact me prior to the scheduled class, as homework that is due may be turned in early. It will not be accepted otherwise!
Oral Final Exam: Every student must take the comprehensive Oral Final Exam (interview). Attendance is very important and has proven to be one of the most influential factors in passing/completing the course! Each student with 2 absences or less may exercise the option to take the Written Final Exam (see below).

Written Final Exam: The written-final exam is scheduled for (1411) in May according to the official Plains HS calendar. It is comprehensive and must be taken at the scheduled time. Students with 3 or more absences must take the written final exam. It will average with the oral final component. Though students missing an exam during the semester is extremely rare, if for any reason a student misses an exam they can replace one “0” with the comprehensive final. Likewise, a student having taken all scheduled exams may replace one low exam grade with the comprehensive final or take it to average with their oral final grade.

Special Notice: If at any time you decide to quit attending class or have been absent 4 times it is your responsibility to follow the appropriate procedures and drop the course. I strongly encourage you to visit with your professor before dropping any course. If you are absent from class 4 times, without an excused absence and have not initiated the drop, expect to be dropped from the course by the instructor and receive the grade of “F”.

Class Conduct: You should be courteous and respectful to your classmates and me, your instructor, at all times. It is my belief that learning best occurs in a supportive and respectful atmosphere. It is expected that you will conduct yourself in a responsible manner. Rudeness and disruptive behavior will not be tolerated. Tardiness, sleeping and visiting with classmates will not be permitted since such activities inhibit the learning atmosphere. Cell phones are not appropriate in class. Should you carry one, please turn it off upon entering the classroom. Tablets and laptops are to be used for e-book access only. If any infractions occur, I will visit with you at that time. If you are told to leave the class for disruption you will accrue an absence. If the problem persists, you will be withdrawn from the class and receive the grade of “F”.

Academic Integrity: Cheating and plagiarism constitute serious offenses and will not be tolerated. (Refer to the SPC General Catalog and Student Guide). For this class, the use of online translators/websites for written assignments is considered cheating.

Diversity Statement: In this class, the instructor will establish and support an environment that values and nurtures individual and group differences, and encourages engagement and interaction. Understanding and respecting multiple experiences and perspectives will serve to challenge and stimulate all of us to learn about others, about the larger world and about ourselves. By promoting diversity and intellectual exchange, we will not only mirror society as it is, but also model society as it should and can be.

Students with Disabilities--ADA Statement: Students with disabilities, including but not limited to physical, psychiatric, or learning disabilities, who wish to request accommodations in this class should notify the Disability Services Office early in the semester so that the appropriate arrangements may be made. In accordance with federal law, a student requesting accommodations must provide acceptable documentation of his/her disability to the Disability Services Office.
