TEACHING STRATEGIES
A variety of teaching methods will be employed in this course. These may include assigned readings & questions, case studies, internet resources, written assignments, lectures & discussion (in-class and online discussion), group assignments, quizzes.

- Web-based discussions and journals
- Multimedia presentations
- Videos and interactive videos

- Students are expected to be “active learners.” It is a basic assumption of the instructor that students will be involved (beyond the materials and lectures presented in the course) discovering, processing, and applying the course information using peer-review journal articles, researching additional information and examples on the Internet, and discussing course material and clinical experiences with their peers.

ASSIGNMENT/ACTIVITY DESCRIPTIONS
Please note: Rubrics for all assignments and activities are located at the end of this syllabus.
CLASS PARTICIPATION:

This is a flipped course, meaning that students are expected to be prepared to participate in the classroom. The expectation is that students will have completed reading and online assignments prior to arriving for class. Class Participation will be noted through students completing various in-class activities, interacting in group discussions, and making this an engaging classroom.

QUizzes:

There are weekly quizzes (7) designed to help students review the material they are learning and determine what topics they need to review in more depth. Students must log into the Davis Edge website with the Course ID # provided by the instructor to access these quizzes, as well as additional optional learning activities.

Journals:

There will be a couple of journal assignments during this course. Journaling offers a way for students to interact privately with the instructor. There will be posted questions for students to consider before submitting a reflective journal entry. Directions for journals will be located in the weekly modules in which they are due. A grading rubric will be available in the Blackboard online course.

These assignments are intended for the student to have the freedom to speak his/her mind or share private experiences related to the assigned topic in a safe environment. Journal entries are private between each student and the instructor.

AA/NA MEETING SUMMARY:

There will be one written assignment in this course. In order to gain a better understanding of Substance Use & Addiction, students will be required to attend an open AA/NA Meeting of their choice and write a summary of their experience. Specific information about this assignment and grading rubric will be available in the Blackboard online course.

ATI COMMUNITY HEALTH PRACTICE QUESTIONS:

All students will complete the RN Mental Health Online Practice 2016 A and B exams prior to the end of the semester. Students must receive an 85% or higher on each practice exam in order to receive a grade on this assignment. The instructor is able to view each student’s results on the ATI website (no additional turn-in is needed).

Exams:

There will be exams (3) spread throughout the course. Students must adhere to academic honesty rules and guidelines when taking exams. Students must use Respondus Lockdown Monitor in order to take all exams. Information on the exams can be found in the Weekly Modules.
FINAL EXAM:

There will be a cumulative final exam. Students must adhere to academic integrity rules and guidelines when taking the exam. Students must use Respondus Lockdown Monitor in order to access this exam. Information, including a Blue Print, can be found under the Final Exam tab in Blackboard.

- Angelo State University Student Handbook located on the ASU website: http://www.angelo.edu/student-handbook/
- ASU Nursing Program Undergraduate Student Handbook, located on the Nursing website http://www.angelo.edu/dept/nursing/handbook/index.html

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITY & ATTENDANCE

Use of electronics during class

It is my goal to create a classroom environment that respects the rights of students and teachers to focus on the tasks of the day without distraction. In my experiences as a teacher and a student, I have found that allowing laptops and other technology in class opens up a universe of distractions that even the best students find hard to resist. There is also evidence to support that (1) students using mobile devices or laptops during class earn lower grades than those who do not use technology, and (2) students sitting within view of others’ laptop screens, even if they themselves are not using technology, also earn lower grades. Link to summary of the study: http://www.cpr.org/news/story/getting-college-students-hang-and-learn

Computer policy: Despite the evidence that computers in the classroom may be detrimental to the learning community, I recognize the environmental benefits of using computers versus paper, and that you are young adults and should be treated as such. Therefore, I expect you to act like adults and I will allow computers in the classroom as long as they are used strictly for class-related activities (e.g., taking notes in Power Point or Word, searching for information related to a topic we are discussing). BUT, if any extracurricular computer activities are noted by me, you will lose your computer privileges for the rest of the semester and you will need to take any future notes by hand.

Cell phone policy: Unless you are expecting an important call (e.g., sick family member, sister in labor, cat having his teeth cleaned), there is no reason I can think of that you need your cell phone on or nearby during class, unless I specifically ask you to use your cell phones for an in-class activity. Think of my classroom as the local movie theater: you and your fellow patrons have paid good money to be here, and there is absolutely no texting allowed during class!! I reserve the right to ask offenders to leave the classroom. No talking on the phone or using your phone period, unless you have cleared it with me first.

In general: Students who persistently engage in behaviors that are disruptive to the teaching/learning process may be required to leave the setting.

Attendance:
Class attendance is necessary and required for successful and satisfactory completion of all course objectives; therefore, students must attend all course sessions. If a situation arises that prevents the student from attending, he or she should contact the instructor ASAP, preferably before lecture begins.

According to the undergraduate handbook, a week’s worth of cumulative absences in any one course will result in faculty evaluation of the student’s ability to meet course objectives and may result in failure of the course. Three tardies (over 5 minutes late for lecture, campus laboratory, or clinical) will equal 1 hour of absence. Failure to meet these requirements hinders the student’s ability to complete the course. Attendance will be checked for each lecture.

Course Instructors strive to grade all assignments and papers within one week after the due date. Quizzes will have an automatic score after testing but the instructor will review the test within a week and grades will be modified if any changes need to be made. Students may contact the instructor and discuss concepts missed on the quizzes. Contact your instructor for any questions you may have regarding exam reviews.

COMMUNICATION

- Please use the email address/phone numbers provided under faculty information in the syllabus or information in blackboard to contact your faculty
- Although most of the time, email is answered within a few hours, please allow 24 hours minimum for a response (Monday-Friday)
- Use email first, unless there is an emergency. Should an emergency arise please call instructor directly using her cell phone number

Faculty will respond to email and/or telephone messages within 24 hours during working hours Monday through Friday. Weekend messages may not be returned until Monday.

Written communication via Blackboard: It is an expectation of this class that you use formal writing skills giving appropriate credit to the source for your ideas. Follow APA (2010) 6th edition (2nd Printing or higher only) guidelines for referencing.

Written communication via email: All private communication will be done exclusively through your ASU email address. Check frequently for announcements and policy changes.

Virtual communication: Office hours and/or advising may be done with the assistance of the telephone, Skype, Join.me, Google Hangouts, etc.
Classroom communication: Please follow these tips for interacting with your peers in our online classroom.

On Blackboard Use Good "Netiquette":
- Check the discussion frequently and respond appropriately and on subject.
- Focus on one subject per message and use pertinent subject titles.
- Capitalize words only to highlight a point or for titles. Otherwise, capitalizing is generally viewed as SHOUTING!
- Be professional and careful with your online interaction. Proper address for faculty is by formal title such as Dr. or Ms./Mr. Jones unless invited by faculty to use a less formal approach.
- Cite all quotes, references, and sources.
- When posting a long message, it is generally considered courteous to warn readers at the beginning of the message that it is a lengthy post.
- It is extremely rude to forward someone else's messages without their permission.
- It is fine to use humor, but use it carefully. The absence of face-to-face cues can cause humor to be misinterpreted as criticism or flaming (angry, antagonistic criticism). Feel free to use emoticons such as 😊 or :) to let others know you are being humorous.

(The "netiquette" guidelines were adapted from Arlene H. Rinald's article, The Net User Guidelines and Netiquette, Florida Atlantic University, 1994, available from Netcom.)

ASSIGNMENT SUBMISSION
In this class, most assignments need to be submitted through the Assignments link in the Blackboard course site. The instructor will collect some assignments at the end of class with certain group activities completed in class. This is for grading purposes. Issues with technology use arise from time to time. If a technology issue does occur regarding an assignment submission, email me at lenore.cortez@angelo.edu and attach a copy of what you are trying to submit. This lets your faculty know you completed the assignment on time and are just having problems with the online submission feature in Blackboard. Once the problem is resolved, submit your assignment through the appropriate link. This process will document the problem and establish a timeline. Be sure to keep a backup of all work.

LATE WORK OR MISSED ASSIGNMENTS POLICY
Due dates and times for assignments are posted. Failure to submit your assignments on the assigned date will not be accepted without prior approval. Requests for extensions will be considered only for emergency situations (e.g., death in family, health emergency of self/family member. Family vacations and work schedules are NOT emergencies). Because “life happens,” it is advisable to not wait until the last minute to complete your assignment. The student must notify their instructor prior to the absence, unless there is an emergency, and must make arrangements within 48 hours after the absence for the retake. Faculty has the right to offer an alternative form of the exam and/or to deduct up to 10 points from the exam grade. Instructor reserves the right to require documentation for emergencies that delay submission of assignment.
If you miss an exam or quiz, you will receive a zero for the missed exam or quiz. There are no make-up exams/quizzes. If you are late to an exam/quiz, then you will only be allowed the remaining dedicated time for that exam.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Academic integrity is expected on all work. Students are expected to maintain complete honesty and integrity in their educational experiences. Any student found guilty of any form of dishonesty in academic work is subject of disciplinary action and possible expulsion from ASU. All codes and policies are set forth in the University Student Handbook of Angelo State University http://www.angelo.edu/student-handbook/ as well as the Department of Nursing Undergraduate Student Handbook http://www.angelo.edu/dept/nursing/handbook/index.html.

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism at ASU is a serious topic. The Angelo State University’s Honor Code gives specific details on plagiarism and what it encompasses. Plagiarism is the action or practice of taking someone else's work, idea, etc., and passing it off as one's own. Plagiarism is literary theft.

In your discussions and/or your papers, it is unacceptable to copy word for word without quotation marks and the source of the quotation. We use the APA Style Manual of the American Psychological Association as a guide for all writing assignments. Quotes should be used sparingly. It is expected that you will summarize or paraphrase ideas giving appropriate credit to the source both in the body of your paper and the reference list. Papers are subject to be evaluated for originality via Bb Safe Assignment or Turnitin. Resources to help you understand this policy better are available at the ASU Writing Center http://www.angelo.edu/dept/writing_center/academic_honesty.php.

PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES AND SPECIAL ACCOMMODATIONS REQUEST

“Disability Services is part of the Office of Student Affairs at Angelo State University. Angelo State's Office of Student Affairs works to ensure that qualified students with disabilities have equal access to all institutional programs and services. The office advocates responsibly for the needs of students with disabilities and educates the campus community so that others can understand and support students with disabilities.”
