Tests
We will have three tests and a cumulative final examination. The exact dates and coverage of these tests will be announced in class. However, as a planning guide, you may expect to take the first test during the fifth week of classes, the second test during the eighth week of classes, and the third test during the thirteenth week of classes. The final exam will be held as specified in the course schedule. I do not intend to give makeup tests. That means you need to be present and ready to do your best each day, but especially on test days.

Daily Work
Daily work will consist primarily of homework problems from the textbook, supplemented by some in-class quizzes. Late work, including in-class quizzes for which you were absent, is not accepted.

Grade Calculations
Your grade on the daily work will count for 10%, your test average will count for 60%, and the cumulative final examination will count for 30%; then the usual grades (90 and above ↔ A, 80-89 ↔ B, 70-79 ↔ C, 60-69 ↔ D, and less than 60 ↔ F).
Student Learning Outcomes

1. The students will demonstrate an understanding of factual knowledge including the mathematical notation and terminology used in this course. Students will read, interpret, and use the vocabulary, symbolism, and basic definitions used in precalculus pertaining to the real numbers; exponents and radicals; polynomials, factoring, and rational expressions; equations and inequalities; functions; polynomial and rational functions; inverse functions; exponential and logarithmic functions; and graphs and their transformations.

2. The students will describe the fundamental principles including the mathematical rules and theorems arising from the concepts covered in this course. Students will identify and apply the laws and formulas that result directly from the definitions; for example, rules of exponents, exponential and logarithmic properties, the quadratic formula, slope and formulas for the equations of lines, the Intermediate Value Theorem, and the limit laws.

3. The students will apply course material using techniques and procedures covered in this course to solve problems. Students will utilize the facts, formulas, and the techniques learned in this course to simplify algebraic expressions; graph functions; and solve equations and systems of equations.

4. The students will develop specific skills, competencies, and thought processes sufficient to support further study or work in this field or related fields. Students will acquire a level of proficiency in the fundamental concepts and applications in precalculus necessary for success in calculus.
