Catalog Description:
A study of the development and modification of human interaction including topics such as social motives, social influence, aggression, attraction, attitudes and group processes.

Course Overview:
The course will include weekly written assignments over chapter material from the textbook, articles, and videos submitted to discussion boards. A written project will be created and assembled over the course of the 8-week course culminating in a final paper. Self-motivation and self-initiation are required for successful online learning. Please pay close attention to the assignment due dates.

Course Objectives:
• Developing specific skills, competencies, and points of view needed by professionals in the field most closely related to this course.
• Learning to apply course material to improve thinking, problem solving, and decisions.
• Learning to analyze and critically evaluate ideas, arguments, and points of view.
• Developing skill in expressing myself orally or in writing.

Attendance:
In order to successfully complete an online class, the student must visit the Blackboard course site on a regular basis, and participate in all classroom discussion boards and assignments. All course work has specific due reduce over the course of the semester (see Grading Rubric).

Course Evaluation Assignment - At some point in the last few weeks of the semester, you will receive an email with the course evaluation. Please do not delete this email, as completing the course evaluation is an assignment for this class. You will need to send me an email after completing the course evaluation giving me one of the questions that you answered from the evaluation – NOT how you answered the question, as your answers are confidential, just one of the questions so that I will know to give you credit for the assignment.
