Course Communications
Please feel free to stop in (in person or virtually) during office hours; if you need to see me and can’t make office hours, let me know and we can set something else up.

I will have my WebEx room open during all office hours if would like to meet with me virtually. There is a link on the course Blackboard page where you can simply click on the link to “join” the office hours meeting. Complete instructions on contacting me through WebEx are also included on Blackboard.

I will also be happy to meet with your virtually through WebEx at times outside of normal office hours if you so desire. Please send me an email if you desire such a meeting and we will set a time to meet.

Outside of class and office hours, the best way to contact me is via email. I will work hard to return all emails received during business hours within 24 hours of receiving them. Emails received on weekends or during holidays will be replied to by the following Monday or the next working day in the case of holidays.

Please be professional in all email correspondence with me. This means that you have a subject line that is germane to what your are writing me about, a salutation (at least addressing me by name), a message that is well written in full sentences that are free of spelling and grammatical errors, and a proper closing (at least your name). Emails that don’t meet these standards will be returned with a note asking for corrections.
Course Description
“Case analysis involving strategy and tactics for the solution of marketing problems; decision-theory stressing the interdisciplinary nature of marketing management,” (ASU Catalog). Furthermore, the purpose of this course is to provide students with the insights and skills necessary to become a marketing manager. Students will apply course concepts and practice making marketing decisions by participating through cases in class discussions and a case presentation.

Course Prerequisite
Marketing 3321, 3322, and three elective hours in Marketing

Required Materials

Harvard Business Publishing Coursepack ($40.50), purchased through this link by Feb. 7: https://hbsp.harvard.edu/import/602303

Course Technology
Blackboard will be the main repository for materials for this course and will be used to administer quizzes throughout the term. You will also need to use a presentation program such as PowerPoint for your group presentation.

Student Learning Outcomes
After completing this course, you should be able to:

- Define and explain the concept of marketing strategy.
- Understand how to formulate and implement specific marketing program decisions (e.g. product, pricing, channel, and promotion decisions) in support of selected strategic initiatives.
- Understand how and when to employ specific quantitative and financial analyses essential to marketing strategy development and evaluation.
- Identify, explain and use a number of different marketing strategies a firm can pursue related to the marketing mix.
Assessment
Students can expect the following assessments during the term:

Quizzes
Short pre-discussion quizzes, which you will take on Blackboard, will be used for each chapter and case covered in the course. Specific times for these quizzes will be discussed in class and given on Blackboard, but generally, they must be taken by class time on the days listed in the course schedule below.

Exams
Two exams will be given during the term. Students should expect these exams to consist of multiple choice questions. Questions on the exam will test knowledge and application of the student’s knowledge. Exams will be given in class.

Make up exams will be given only for reasons deemed legitimate by Professor Moody and should be avoided if at all possible. If you have to miss the exam for any reason, you must notify Professor Moody in advance, if you are ill or otherwise incapacitated a short phone message or email will suffice.

Cases
Cases will be used in this class so that you can analyze marketing situations and make decisions based on that analysis. Individually, you will need to come to class ready to discuss the case being covered on case days; participating in the case discussions will be a key part of your grade in this class.

For each of the cases used in class (except the first case), two groups of students will be in charge of presenting parts of the case to the class. These groups will meet with Dr. Moody at least one week prior to the dates of their presentations to make sure they are on the right track with their presentations. Groups will consist of five students.

Simulation
Prior to spring break each of you will complete a marketing management decision simulation.

Participation and Attendance
I will take attendance through the use of a daily sign-in sheet. I expect all students to attend class regularly and be prepared to actively involve themselves in the learning process. You are allowed two un-excused absences before poor attendance will affect your grade.

Participation in class discussions is a key component of your grade in this class.
Course Grades

Please keep in mind that in MKTG you are graded on your performance on the graded elements of the course—you are not graded on effort. Your final class grade will depend solely on how you perform on all aspects of the course and no other factors.

The following cutoffs will be used to determine final grades in MKTG 4325:

- A 900 - 1,000 points
- B 800 - 899 points
- C 700 - 799 points
- D 600 - 699 points
- F Below 600 points

Your semester grade will consist of the following components.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>Points</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Exams (2 @ 100 points each)</td>
<td>200</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Quizzes (13 @ 20 pts. each)</td>
<td>260</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Group Presentation</td>
<td>140</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Class Participation and Professionalism</td>
<td>400</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total</td>
<td>1,000</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Extra Credit Work

No extra credit work will be available for students in this class. Students should prepare for exams and assignments to the best of their ability. Attendance, participation, and solid work is expected from all students.

Professionalism

As noted above, students are expected to conduct themselves professionally in all matters related to this class. This means students should prepare all assignments in a professional manner and conduct themselves in a professional manner in class and online (in class-related emails). Inappropriate verbal comments directed toward others in class and/or inappropriate written comments in assignments will not be tolerated.

We are all expected to abide by the ASU Norris-Vincent College of Business Code of Ethics

Students, faculty, administrators and professional staff of the College of Business should always:

- Be forthright and truthful in dealings with all stakeholders
- Take responsibility for one’s actions and decisions
- Serve as an example of ethical decision-making and behavior to others
- Admit errors when they occur, without trying to conceal them
- Respect the basic dignity of others by treating them as one would wish to be treated
Academic Honesty
Students are expected to maintain complete honesty and integrity in all work. Any student found guilty of any form of dishonesty in academic work is subject of disciplinary action and possible expulsion from ASU.

Students caught cheating on exams will be given a grade of zero for the exam and reported to the university’s office of student conduct.

While you may work with others on the assignments for this course, you should not turn in work that is exactly the same as another student (except for group project work). Should two students turn in assignments that are exactly the same, the assignment will be scored in a normal manner and each of the two students will receive one-half of the resulting grade. If three students turn in the exact work the grade will be divided by three as it is assigned to each student, and so on.

Plagiarism
Plagiarism is a serious topic covered in ASU’s Academic Integrity policy in the Student Handbook. Plagiarism is the action or practice of taking someone else’s work, idea, etc., and passing it off as one’s own. Plagiarism is literary theft.

In your work, it is unacceptable to copy word-for-word without quotation marks and the source of the quotation. It is expected that you will summarize or paraphrase ideas giving appropriate credit to the source both in the body of your paper and the reference list.

Material you create for class are subject to be evaluated for originality via Turnitin. Resources to help you understand this policy better are available at the ASU Writing Center.

Students caught plagiarizing their own or another’s work in this class will at a minimum receive a grade of zero on the assignment in question, depending on the extent of the issue, they may also be reported to the university’s office of student conduct.

Policy on Disabilities
Angelo State University is committed to the principle that no qualified individual with a disability shall, on the basis of disability, be excluded from participation in or be denied the benefits of the services, programs, or activities of the university, or be subjected to discrimination by the university, as provided by the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA), the Americans with Disabilities Act Amendments Act of 2008 (ADAAA), and subsequent legislation.

The Office of Student Affairs is the designated campus department charged with the responsibility of reviewing and authorizing requests for reasonable accommodations based on a disability, and it is the student’s responsibility to initiate such a request by contacting Ms. Dallas Swafford, Director of Disability Services, at 325-942-2047 or through email at dallas.swaffod@angelo.edu.
Policy on Religious Observances
A student who intends to observe a religious holy day should make that intention known in writing to the instructor prior to the absence. A student who is absent from classes for the observance of a religious holy day shall be allowed to take an examination or complete an assignment scheduled for that day within a reasonable time after the absence. See ASU Operating Policy 10.19 Student Absence for Observance of Religious Holy Day for more information.

Course Drop
To view information about how to drop this course or to calculate important dates relevant to dropping this course, you can visit:
March 28 is the last day to drop a course during the spring 2019 semester.

Incomplete as a Course Grade
The incomplete grade, a grade of I is only given when the student is unable to complete the course because of illness or personal misfortune. An I that is not removed before the end of the next long semester automatically becomes an F. To graduate from ASU, a student must complete all I’s. Please contact faculty if you have serious illness or a personal misfortune that would keep you from completing course work. Documentation may be required. See ASU Operating Policy 10.11 Grading Procedures for more information.

Grade Appeal Process
A student who believes that he or she has not been held to appropriate academic standards as outlined in the class syllabus, equitable evaluation procedures, or appropriate grading, may appeal the final grade given in the course. The burden of proof is upon the student to demonstrate the appropriateness of the appeal. A student with a complaint about a grade is encouraged to first discuss the matter with the instructor. For complete details, including the responsibilities of the parties involved in the process and the number of days allowed for completing the steps in the process, see Operating Procedure 10.03 at:
http://www.angelo.edu/content/files/14196-op-1003-grade-grievance.

Title IX at Angelo State University
Angelo State University is committed to providing and strengthening an educational, working, and living environment where students, faculty, staff, and visitors are free from sex discrimination of any kind. Sex discrimination, sexual misconduct, public indecency, interpersonal violence, sexual assault, sexual exploitation, sexual harassment, and stalking are not tolerated at ASU.

As a faculty member, I am a Responsible Employee meaning that I will report any allegations I am notified of to the Office of Title IX Compliance in order to connect students with resources and options in addressing the allegations reported. You are encouraged to report any incidents to ASU's Office of Title IX Compliance and the Director of Title IX Compliance/Title IX Coordinator. You may do so by contacting:
Michelle Boone, J.D.
Director of Title IX Compliance/Title IX Coordinator
Mayer Administration Building, Room 200
325-942-2022
michelle.boone@angelo.edu

You may also file a report online 24/7 at www.angelo.edu/incident-form

If you are wishing to speak to someone about an incident in confidence you may contact the University Health Clinic and Counseling Center at 325-942-2173 or the ASU Crisis Helpline at 325-486-6345.

The Office of Title IX Compliance also provides accommodations related to pregnancy (such as communicating with your professors regarding medically necessary absences, modifications required because of pregnancy, etc.). If you are pregnant and need assistance or accommodations, please contact the Office of Title IX Compliance utilizing the information above.
