Course Description/Overview:

This course provides understanding of the basic elements of intelligence – collection, analysis, dissemination, counterintelligence, and covert action – through an understanding of the U.S. Intelligence Community (IC) as well as through a review of past historical events in which intelligence has played a key role. Students will examine the difference between intelligence and information; and extrapolate from that the various steps of the intelligence cycle, as well as their purpose.

Students will review the "lessons learned" that have come out of U. S. intelligence successes and failures; and specify the role of the Department of Homeland Security and resulting changes to the IC. The course will also give students an understanding of, and keen insight into, the role intelligence agencies play in strategy and policy development, and how policymakers use (or misuse) intelligence estimates. Finally, the course will review intelligence failures, consider intelligence reform issues, and evaluate the need for change. The intelligence reform lesson will emphasize the importance of preparing intelligence for and providing it to policymakers and our nation's warfighters in a manner that results in information sharing and underscores a renewed post-9/11 commitment to conduct intelligence activities in a manner that fully respects and protects American civil liberties and privacy.

Students will look at two case studies illustrating intelligence-policy failures and how such failures influence threat assessments, military strategy, and foreign policy.

These questions are at the heart of recent national security controversies, including the 9/11 attacks and the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan. In each case the relationship between intelligence and policy broke down — with disastrous consequences. This course is an intense examination of how the intelligence process and its various disciplines such as collection, analysis, and dissemination of intelligence integrate with one another and contribute to addressing the national security issues and intelligence challenges facing the United States. The course is designed to be interactive, value your experiences and your well-thought-out positions and opinions, and to give you an opportunity to showcase your intellect as an active participant in, and contributor towards, the national dialogue and debate on hot topics of the day.
Course Readings:

Either edition is fine for our purposes in this class. Do not worry about getting the 7th edition. While there are some changes they are not critical to a course that is an introduction.

Course Objectives

Objective 1: Demonstrate how the intelligence cycle functions.

Objective 2: Understand the key intelligence functions.

Objective 3: Demonstrate a working knowledge of the intelligence-policy challenges facing the United States and how the intelligence and policy nexus form our framework for national security.

Objective 4: Demonstrate how the Intelligence enterprise contributes to the policymaking process.

Objective 5: Comprehend the complexities of intelligence reform requirements in view of failures in the intelligence – policy nexus.

Objective 6: Understand the complexities and challenges of intelligence reform measures

Grading Policies:
Grades will be based on the demonstrated ability to comprehend, apply, and analyze fundamental principles, integrate relevant concepts, and present them in appropriate forms. Weekly participation in the discussion threats is expected and forms a substantial part of the grade for this course. Discussion board posts are due each Friday evening, posted by midnight Central Time.
Responses to your classmates’ posts are due no later than the following Sunday by midnight Central Time. Posts time-stamped after the due times will be considered late.

Angelo State University employs a letter grade system. Grades in this course are determined on the following scale:

- A = 90 – 100%
- B = 80 – 89%
- C = 70 – 79%
- D = 60 – 69%
- F = 59% and below

Failure to submit any major assignment may result in an incomplete (‘I’) being submitted. After a period of time, if not reconciled, an incomplete grade will be changed to an ‘F.’

Overall Expectations and Grading Standards:
1. Work that is incomplete and inaccurate, which demonstrates an inability to apply information to actual situations, is not of passing quality;
2. Work that is complete and accurate, which demonstrates a basic understanding of the material, and perhaps an ability to apply information to actual situations at a fundamental level, is ‘C’ level work;
3. Work that is complete and accurate, which demonstrates a firm understanding of the material, and an ability to effectively apply information to actual situations at a high level, is ‘B’ level work; and
4. Work that exceeds standards of completeness and accuracy, which demonstrates a superb understanding of the material, and an ability to apply and analyze material, is ‘A’ level work.

Discussion Board Post Guidelines
Each discussion board post should be, at a minimum, approximately 200 words, citing sources as appropriate. You do not need to use formal footnotes or endnotes. For the posts use in-line citations with author’s last name, year of publication, and page number. For example, if you were quoting material from an article I wrote in 2015 and the material was on page 86 the citation would be: (Canedo 2015: 86). The citation goes immediately after where you include the cited information. Responses to your classmates’ discussion posts should be approximately 100 words each. I will not word count your posts or responses unless they obviously look short. I recommend writing your posts and responses in Word or another program so that you can check spelling, grammar, and formatting. While these are not formal papers I do expect you to use proper formats. No partial sentences, unfinished thoughts, or informal language usage will be acceptable. Additional guidance will be provided as necessary.

Your discussion posts should use course material to fully address the question. While I will not be grading on the quality of citations in the discussion posts, it is a good time to practice how to correctly cite sources if you are unfamiliar with how to do so. Responses to initial posts must go beyond observations such as “nice post” or “you raise some good points” but actively engage the issue(s) raised by your classmate’s initial post. Failure to do so will result in a low mark for that week’s discussion post grade. Feel free to comment to more than two classmates, but that is not required.

Writing Guidelines for Midterm Essay and Final Essay:
Each writing assignment deals with the topic under discussion. Writing assignments should be 4-6 ages or 8-10, depending on the assignment. The goal of each assignment is not to have you write lengthy papers but to demonstrate understanding of the topic and the ability to concisely and adequately discuss it.

Make sure to use proper grammar, formatting, and styles for your papers. The preferred format is APA Style. Detailed instructions on APA Style can be found at: https://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/560/01/. Follow these guidelines with a couple of caveats: You do not need to use a page header/running head and you do not need to include an abstract for the assignments. Do use a title page and a separate page for your references. APA does not recommend the use of footnotes or endnotes, but you should use them in your papers. I prefer you use endnotes for citing where you explicitly use a source; footnotes should be used if you need to add an explanatory sentence or two that would not fit in your paper. I do not expect you to need to use footnotes.

You may also use Chicago Style if you choose, detailed information on the Chicago Style can be found at: http://www.chicagomanualofstyle.org. Regardless of what style you choose, make sure to be consistent within each paper. Otherwise, standard formatting applies: 1 inch margins, double-spaced, common font such as Times New Roman 12 point. Make sure to cite your sources appropriately. Please submit your writing assignments as Word documents. If you do not have access to Microsoft Word, please let me know so that we can make other arrangements (copy the paper directly into the assignment section of Blackboard for the appropriate week). Other formats will not be accepted.
Course Organization/Learning Outcomes/and Required Readings:

Part I: Understanding the Purpose of Intelligence

Week 1: Defining Intelligence in the Context of National Security
Week 1 Lesson Outcomes:
1. Explain what intelligence is in the context of national security.
2. Comprehend which agencies comprise the Intelligence Community (IC) and the important roles and contributions each makes towards forming and shaping US national security policy.
3. Explain why we have 16 separate and distinct agencies representing the IC.

Required Readings:
Office of the Director of National Intelligence. 2009. “Overview of the United States Intelligence Community for the 111th Congress”

Week 2: Key Functions of Intelligence – Who Does What?
Week 2 Lesson Outcomes:
1. Describe the agencies comprising the Intelligence Community (IC).
2. Describe three key functions of the intelligence enterprise – Collection, Analysis, and Dissemination – and how they interact between the intelligence process and policy.
3. Explain the intelligence "macro" cycle and the process for executing key intelligence functions.
4. Comprehend how the intelligence cycle works and contributes to national security policy.

Required Readings:
Office of the Director of National Intelligence. 2009. “Overview of the United States Intelligence Community for the 111th Congress”

Week 3: Covert Intelligence and Counterintelligence Operations
Week 3 Lesson Outcomes:
1. Comprehend what covert intelligence is and means as opposed to clandestine operations.
2. Comprehend the value of success and failure of covert operations.
3. Comprehend the risk and challenges with conducting covert and counterintelligence operations.
4. Comprehend the difference between counterintelligence and covert operations.
5. Explain what counterintelligence is and why it is a necessary function.
Required Readings:

Recommended Readings:
Long, Austin. 2016. “The Limits of Special Operations Forces” PRISM 6, 3. [Instructor will provide copy of article].

Part II: The U.S. Intelligence Enterprise and the Role of the Policymaker

Week 4: The Limits of U.S. Intelligence

Week 4 Lesson Outcomes:
1. Describe how the relationship between intelligence and policy can impact intelligence effectiveness.
2. Describe how 9/11 has changed the intelligence – policy nexus.
3. Comprehend how the policymaker uses intelligence to shape national security policy.

Required Readings:

Week 5: The Intelligence and Policymaker Relationship

Week 5 Lesson Outcomes:
1. Describe how the IC contributes to the policymaking process regarding US security challenges and the protection of US national security interests.
2. Explain how policy failures contribute to intelligence failures, and how the reverse also occurs.
3. Comprehend the difference between policy-making bodies and the IC, and the potential for tension at each stage in the intelligence process.
4. Explain how intelligence assessments help in formulating national security policy.

Required Readings:
Murphy, James, and K. Wayne Smith.1993 “Making Intelligence Analysis Responsive to Policy
Week 6: Intelligence Failure: Case Studies of 9/11 and Weapons of Mass Destruction

Week 6 Lesson Outcomes:
1. Explain the intelligence missteps that led to the intelligence-policy failure of WMD in Iraq.
2. Describe the key failures that led up the 9/11 attacks on the U.S. and understand the "sharing" arguments.
3. Describe how the intelligence process can fail when providing intelligence estimates to policymakers.
4. Understand how the politicization of intelligence can shape national security policy.

Required Readings:

An additional reading may be provided.

Part III: Intelligence and Accountability

Week 7: Intelligence Oversight Responsibilities and Ethics

Week 7 Lesson Outcomes
1. Comprehend the intelligence and national security policy challenges facing America today as presented by the global terrorist threat and the necessity of intelligence oversight.
2. Describe the role of intelligence and national security policy regarding the ongoing fight against terrorist and violent extremist organizations, and why the PATRIOT ACT is an important part of our national efforts to combat extremists wishing to do harm against America and her allies.
3. Evaluate how the death of Bin Laden changes the national security and intelligence nexus.
4. Comprehend, in the context of intelligence oversight, the changes in the U.S. National Security and Intelligence enterprise following the 9/11 attacks from 2001-2007.

Required Readings:

Recommended Readings:
Omand, David, and Mark Phythian. 2018. “Ethics, Intelligence, and the Law.” Chapter 2 in Principled Spying, 40-71. [Instructor will provide copy of article].

Week 8: Intelligence Reform and Future Threats to U.S. National Security

Week 8 Lesson Outcomes:
1. Comprehend why intelligence reform is needed and why it is important.
2. Describe the challenges of Intelligence reform.
3. Comprehend why intelligence reform is difficult.
4. Describe how intelligence reform enhances national security.

Required Readings:
McConnell, Mike. 2007. “Overhauling Intelligence” Foreign Affairs 86, 4. [Instructor will provide copy of article].
