“The Existence of an area of free land, its continual recession, and the advance of American settlement westward, explain American development.” Frederick Jackson “Deemphasize the frontier and its supposed end, conceive of the West as a place and not a process, and Western American history has a new look.” Patricia Limerick, *The Legacy

“The boundaries of the American West are a series of doors pretending to be walls…Geography did not determine the boundaries of the West; rather, history created them. The West that American recognize in the twentieth century is their own work.”
Richard White, It’s Your Misfortune and None of My Own, 1991

Course Objectives
The purpose of this class is to introduce students to the history of the American West, defined for our purposes as the area beyond the Mississippi River. It will cover the period from the arrival of people to the Americas through the contemporary issues that face the region today. We will look at how a variety of different groups have shaped the West into the region it is today.

The class will be primarily lecture with some time dedicated for preparing to do the research paper.

Required Texts
- Harriet Fish Backus, Tomboy Bride: One Woman’s Personal Account of Life in the Mining Camps of the West. Ingram Publisher Services. ISBN-10: 151326205X

  University of Nebraska Press, 1972. ISBN-10: 083280254
Assignments and Grades
Your final grade for this class will be based on two short papers (100 points each), two exams (100 points each), and a research paper proposal (100 points) and the final research paper (200 points). The tests will be primarily essay with some short answer or multiple choice as well.

Grading Scale: 700-630: A
629-560: B
559-490: C
489-420: D
419 and below: F

Assignment Due Dates
Linderman, Pretty-shield due in class on February 7th.
Paper Proposal, list of sources, and first page: February 24th.
Midterm: March 6th.
Baccus, Tomboy Bride due in class on April 3rd.
Research paper due in class on April 24th.

Final Exam: Monday, May 4th from 3:30-5:30.

Papers
The two short papers must be between 3 and 5 pages typed, double spaced, with a thesis and proper spelling and punctuation. Specific instructions for each paper will be given separately.

The longer research paper will be 10-15 pages double-spaced with specific instructions to follow separately. The intention is to create a senior-level research paper, incorporating both primary and secondary sources, that would be of the quality that could be submitted to a journal for publication.

Exams will be a combination of multiple choice and essay, both will be taken primarily from class lectures.

Student Learning Outcomes
- Students will be able to analyze cause and effect in the history of the settlement of the American West and the United States.
- Students will be able to analyze the relationship among American economics, politics, demography, and social structure in the American West.
- Students will be able to construct an essay which synthesizes assigned readings and lectures into a coherent, fact-based narrative that demonstrates critical thinking skills.
Plagiari

Cheating of any sort will not be tolerated, and cheaters will automatically fail this class and be reported to the administration.

The Learning Environment

Please be courteous to your classmates and refrain from talking during lectures. Also, turn cellphones off, and please don’t answer your phone in class. Please arrive on time, and if you are late, then quietly enter without causing a disturbance. PLEASE DO NOT USE A LAPTOP IN CLASS AS WELL AS THEY HAVE PROVEN TO BE A DISTRACTION FOR OTHER STUDENTS.

Attendance Policy. More than ten absences during the semester will result in the drop of one letter grade. An additional grade will be dropped for every three additional absences.

Religious Holidays: Students who will miss class to observe a religious holiday may count that as an excused absence if they have contacted the instructor in advance.

Appendix A: Scoring Rubric for writing assignments
Rubric for Assessment of Core History Essays for Achieving Desired Student Learning Outcomes

Component 1: Historical Thesis/Argumentation
1 Point: There is no historical thesis, there are multiple theses, or what there is of an argument is not developed.
2 Points: There is the outline of a historical thesis or argument, but requires further elaboration.
3 Points: There is a clearly developed historical argument.

Component 2: Supporting Historical Evidence
1 Point: There are no specific historical textual evidence provided and no evidence of having done any reading and assimilating of secondary or primary sources, depending upon the nature of the written assignment.
2 Points: There are a few historical textual examples given, but more specific evidence and citation is needed to develop paper fully.
3 Points: There is ample historical textual evidence used where appropriate to bolster thesis.

Component 3: Clarity/Quality of Composition
1 Point: There is no indication that the student has command of the basic requirements of clear/quality composition. These basic requirements of clear composition include, for example, appropriate paragraph breaks, correct spelling, topic sentences, clear sentence transitions, and subject agreement.
2 Points: There are indications that the student has attempted, and partially succeeded, in following the basic requirements of clear/quality composition. However, there is room for improvement in, for example, spelling or sentence transitions.
3 Points: The written work follows the basic requirements of clear/quality composition.

Component 4: Organization of Essay
1 Point: The student hobbled together incoherent, rambling sentences and paragraphs with little consideration of organizing a clear, developed essay that could be easily followed by a reader.
2 Points: The student partially succeeded in composing an organized essay. More improvement in order and logic of flow is needed.
3 Points: The student has written a well organized, coherent, and logically flowing paper.
Component 5: Historical Sense

1 Point: The student exhibits little understanding of historical chronology, change over time, and the relationship among various actors and societal forces which shape the contours of History. The student is not able to analyze the relationship among politics, economics, and social change.

2 Points: The student demonstrates a general sense of the significance of chronology, change over time, and the relationship among various actors and societal forces which shape the contours of History. More development, especially of the interplay between actors and events (societal forces), is needed. The student is partially able to analyze the relationship among politics, economics, and social change.

3 Points: The student has firm command of chronology, understands that change occurs as a process over time, and fully develops the interplay between actors and events. The student is able to analyze the relationship among politics, economics, and social change.
