About This Course
The content of Biology 1309 includes generalizations and specifics of environmental biology. You are expected to understand and remember the facts presented and to demonstrate an ability to work with those facts. This information will be presented during lecture, in the laboratory and through reading your textbook and other assigned material.

Student Learning Outcomes (SLO)
The objective of the study of a natural sciences component of a core curriculum is to focus on describing, explaining, and predicting natural phenomena using the scientific method. Courses involve the understanding of interactions among natural phenomena and the implications of scientific principles on the physical world and on human experiences.

The SLO’s for this course and the associated activities include:

- Critical Thinking
  - (CT1) Students will gather, analyze, interpret and evaluate data.
    - Students will conduct experiments in the lab, gather data and then analyze their results.

- Communication
  - (CS1) Students will communicate information via written means on lab activities and projects.
    - Students will conduct lab experiments and communicate their findings in writing to each other and their instructor.

- Empirical & Quantitative Skills
  - (EQS1) Students will collect and analyze quantitative data.
    - Students will take measurements as part of a lab experiment. They will analyze their data and generate conclusions.
  - (EQS2) Students will make observations to test a hypothesis and generate conclusions based on their observations.
    - Students will make directed observations, gather data and then analyze their results.

- Teamwork
  - (TW2) Students will work together on applied learning activities and collaborate with one another to support course goals.
    - Students will conduct experiments in the lab in groups, gather data and then analyze their shared results.

Internet Access and E-mail

Some assignments and course materials will be available on the Blackboard web site http://blackboard.angelo.edu/.

All private communication will be done exclusively through your ASU email address. Check frequently for announcements and policy changes. In your emails to me, please include the course name and section number in your subject line.

Attendance

You are expected to attend all lecture and lab periods. The single most important thing you can do to get a good grade in this course is to show up. I will take attendance regularly. You will get a zero on the assignment if you are not present. Quizzes and other in-class activities may not be made up. The only exceptions that are made require prior permission.

Exams

There will be four exams given during the semester, including a comprehensive final exam. Each examination will include information presented in class and out of your textbook. Each test will be comprehensive - that is it will include material presented at any time during the course. This is unavoidable because early topics of discussion are built upon and expanded as the course progresses.

Exams will be mostly multiple-choice but may include a few short answer questions. Exams will cover material covered up through the last class day before the exam.

The final exam will be approximately twice the length and number of points as the previous exams.

Missing an exam is a very serious matter. If you have a documented legitimate excuse, such as severe personal illness, a death in your family, or a university-sponsored event, you must notify me before the exam or very promptly afterward. I will work with you if you act responsibly. If you miss an exam for any other reason or do not notify me promptly then I will use the score you get on the final exam to replace ONE missing exam grade. You will receive a zero if you miss more than one exam.

As a reward to those of you who put in the necessary work, the final exam is optional if you have an “A” average in all of your work at the end of the semester.

Laboratory

BIOL 1109 Man and the Environment Laboratory is recommended but not required. Our experience has been that students who are enrolled in lab do better on tests and get a better grade in the lecture. This is probably due to the additional time study concepts and practical or hands on experience of the students that participate in lab.

Final Grade Calculation

Your grade in this course will be determined by adding together all of the points you earn on your tests, quizzes and any other assignments and then dividing this number by the total number of points possible. You can anticipate that about 80% of our lecture points will come from tests. “Extra credit or bonus” assignments will be added in to the total you earned without adding them into the number of possible points.

Your semester grade will be determined using the scale:

- 90 – 100% = A
- 80 – 89% = B
- 70 – 79% = C
- 60 – 69% = D
- <60% = F

Rounding off of averages or the use of a curve may occur at the instructor’s discretion.
