Overview and Expectations:
In the first 30 minutes of a ninety-minute class, students will read, narrate, and discuss how to apply what is learned from their resource texts. After each lesson, the students will have 60 minutes remaining to begin their assignments. Classes will occur twice weekly, with assigned readings and written work to be completed between sessions.

The writing will sometimes take on a journaling feature as students reflect on assignments. At other times writing will move from shorter and longer narrations to formal essays. Formal essays use the “close-reading” approach to writing, in which a student reads the portion (a few lines to a paragraph) of the text over and over again and asks questions of the author. From this pondering, the students begin to compose thoughts about the question and the author’s response. This should be demonstrated orally prior to writing, so the students can see the intensity and perseverance needed to keep going back to the text. In the coursework, there is a document online, “Writing a Close Reading Essay,” which explains this process (ASI).

Main Course Objectives:
To perfect:

- Critical thinking, close reading, and academic writing;
- Clear, coherent, confident, and effective written communication.

Student Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of English 1301, students should be able to:

- Identify rhetorical purposes/writing situation and methods of organization appropriate to topic, thesis, and audience;
- Collect, read, analyze, and use information from various sources, e.g., your literature and history curriculum;
- Write a coherent essay observing appropriate grammatical, mechanical, and stylistic conventions;
- Write competently in the informative, analytical, and persuasive modes
- Evaluate, edit, and revise at all stages of the writing process.

Your semester work comprises 70% of your grade. Your final essay and supporting documents will make up 30% of your final score. Grades are determined using a rubric system on essays, containing six areas of measurement:

1. Content (50%)
2. Organization (10%)
3. Language/Coherece (10%)
4. Spelling, Grammar, and Mechanics (10%)
5. The Writing Process (10%)
6. Growing in Skill/Style (10%) (see website below for figurative language):

Per ASU’s Requirements, please read the following statements:

Academic honesty:

Academic misconduct includes cheating, plagiarism, collusion, falsifying academic records, misrepresenting facts, violations of published professional ethics/standards, and any act or attempted act designed to give unfair academic advantage to oneself or another student.

See the Angelo State University Student Handbook, Part II B: Academic Integrity for more information.

Academic Integrity
Plagiarism

Plagiarism is a serious topic covered in ASU’s Academic Integrity policy in the Student Handbook. Plagiarism is the action or practice of taking someone else’s work, idea, etc., and passing it off as one’s own. Plagiarism is literary theft.

In your discussions and/or your papers, it is unacceptable to copy word-for-word without quotation marks and the source of the quotation. It is expected that you will summarize or paraphrase ideas giving appropriate credit to the source both in the body of your paper and the reference list.

Papers are subject to be evaluated for originality via Turnitin. Resources to help you understand this policy better are available at the ASU Writing Center.

Copyright Policy

Students officially enrolled in this course should make only one printed copy of the given articles and/or chapters. You are expressly prohibited from distributing or reproducing any portion of course readings in printed or electronic form without written permission from the copyright holders or publishers.

Student Disability Services:

ASU is committed to the principle that no qualified individual with a disability shall, on the basis of disability, be excluded from participation in or be denied the benefits of the services, programs or activities of the university, or be subjected to discrimination by the university, as provided by the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA), the Americans with Disabilities Act Amendments of 2008 (ADAAA), and subsequent legislation.

The Office of Student Affairs is the designated campus department charged with the responsibility of reviewing and authorizing requests for reasonable accommodations based on a disability, and it is the student’s responsibility to initiate such a request by contacting:
