Course Description:

Students will engage with the history of the United States until the end of the US Civil War. Of particular interest are the political, economic, social, and cultural framework formed before and after the US War of Independence that allowed the Thirteen Colonies to unite into a nation and how the legacies of these laws, institutions, and traditions contributed to the environment that led to the US Civil War less than a century after the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Course Objectives:

A. To familiarize students with the broad historical narrative of the United States through the Civil War.

B. To help students to improve notetaking and study methods to prepare them for success in future courses.

C. To sharpen students’ critical thinking and analytical reading abilities.

D. To increase students’ skills in oral and written communication.
Required Text:

Class Meeting Format:
In order to maintain social distancing, students will be divided into two groups that will meet once a week for 50-minute sessions. Classes will include class and group discussions on historical topics covering the week’s key terms as well as the assigned primary source readings, textbook, and/or secondary source readings that were posted to Blackboard the week before. Students should bring their notes and readings to every class, be on time and attentive, and show a willingness to participate in discussion, all of which will count toward their final grades. Students should arrive for class with their assignments already completed.

For students who are unable to attend class, the instructor will record and post the lecture to Blackboard by the end of the day that the class met. Students who were unable to attend class will have an Alternative Assignment to complete that will count toward their in-class participation.

Schedule of course topics included at the end of the syllabus.

Grade Breakdown:
In-Class Participation/Alternative Assignment: 10%
Practice Quizzes: 5%
Writing Assignments (3 worth 5% each): 15%
Exam 1: 20%
  - Group A—September 15
  - Group B—September 17
Exam 2: 25%
  - Group A—October 20
  - Group B—October 22
Final Exam: 25% See: https://www.angelo.edu/services/registrars_office/final.php
  - Schedule included at the end of the syllabus.

In-Class Participation/Alternative Assignment:
Participation refers to active engagement in the class discussion of the readings as well as in group work. Just being in class will not suffice. Please be sure to look over the handout on participation that is included at the end of the syllabus.

Students who are unable to attend class will have an Alternative Assignment (posted to Blackboard each week) to complete that will count towards their in-class participation.
Practice Quizzes:
Practice quizzes (multiple choice) will be posted to Blackboard each week. These quizzes will be based on the assigned textbook readings. These are intended to help students to prepare for exams.

Students may take the quizzes as many times as they wish. They only need to complete the quiz one time before the due date to get full credit for the quiz. Students can miss two quizzes during each exam cycle without losing points toward their total Practice Quiz scores.

Writing Assignments:
Each week, the instructor will post a writing prompt to Blackboard for which students will be required to write a two-paragraph response. Students are only required to do one writing assignment during each exam cycle. While students are not required to write more than three writing assignments over the course of the semester, they can respond to more than three prompts in which case the instructor will count the three highest scores toward the student’s Writing Assignment grade. Rubric for writing assignments included at the end of the syllabus.

Exams:
Exams will be taken online during students’ regularly-scheduled class time. They will include both multiple choice and short response questions. Exams will be based on textbook readings, class discussions, and key terms. Students will receive a study guide at least a week prior to the exam.

Communication:
Students who need help for any reason should feel free to contact the instructor with any questions or difficulties. The instructor is available via email or in-person office hours.

Office hours are times when the instructor is available to speak with students and/or answer emails. Unless otherwise indicated, the instructor will be in her office during the times listed under office hours. Students do not need to make an appointment to come by during listed office hours. Nevertheless, anyone planning to speak with the instructor during these times should arrive in enough time to address questions or concerns fully. Students who are unable to communicate during the listed times may set up an appointment.

Classroom Etiquette:
Students should take notes and remain engaged during class. They are not permitted to use electronic devices to create video or audio recordings of class.

A respectful attitude is expected during class. Be considerate of one another’s opinions and feelings when asking questions or making comments. Students have the right to disagree with others, but this should be done in a mature manner and without personal attacks.
Students must turn off cell phones and put them away in their bags, pockets, or under their chairs during class. The only electronics that students are allowed to use during class are laptops or tablets for the purposes of notetaking and reviewing assigned readings. The only applications or windows that students may use during class are document viewers for the assigned readings and word processors for purposes of notetaking. Students found to be using other applications or doing work for classes other than HIST 1301 during class may be asked to leave and/or lose the privilege of using electronics in class.

Distracting behavior during class will result in the loss of In-Class Participation points and may mean being asked to leave class. Students who arrive late for class, should come into class quickly and quietly. If arriving late, students should be mindful not to walk in front of anyone who is speaking. If a student needs to leave the room during class, they should do so quietly.

Students are not permitted to eat during class. They may bring water if they wish.

Required Use of Masks/Facial Coverings by Students in Class At Angelo State University

As a member of the Texas Tech University System, Angelo State University has adopted the mandatory Facial Covering Policy to ensure a safe and healthy classroom experience. Current research on the COVID-19 virus suggests there is a significant reduction in the potential for transmission of the virus from person to person by wearing a mask/facial covering that covers the nose and mouth areas. Therefore, in compliance with the university policy students in this class are required to wear a mask/facial covering before, during, and after class. Faculty members may also ask you to display your daily screening badge as a prerequisite to enter the classroom. You are also asked to maintain safe distancing practices to the best of your ability. For the safety of everyone, any student not appropriately wearing a mask/facial covering will be asked to leave the classroom immediately. The student will be responsible to make up any missed class content or work. Continued non-compliance with the Texas Tech University System Policy may result in disciplinary action through the Office of Student Conduct.

Makeup Work:

Make-up exams will be handled on a case-by-case basis. Students who miss an exam must contact the instructor via email. It is not the responsibility of the instructor to inform students of missed exams. Every day after the exam date that a student fails to contact the instructor about the missed exam will result in the loss of ten (10) percentage points on the exam. (Ex: A student who misses an exam on July 3rd and does not contact the instructor until July 6th can receive no higher than a 70% on the make-up exam.) Students have seven (7) calendar days after the scheduled exam date to take the make-up exam. After seven (7) days, any student who did not sit for the exam will receive a 0% for the exam. While make-up exams will cover the same material, they may not have the same format as they would have had on the scheduled test date. With few exceptions, the final exam must be taken as scheduled.
For assignments submitted via Blackboard, students who turn in submissions after the deadline may lose up to 30% off the assignment grade. For quizzes, the instructor will not reopen an assignment after the deadline has passed.

Other than missing class for university-sponsored activities or religious observance, students do not need to call or send an email to the instructor regarding absences. They can view the lecture and complete the Alternative Assignment in Blackboard for the days missed. Students may make an appointment for office hours if they wish to do so to discuss missed material. Students should seriously consider meeting with the instructor if they fall behind on Blackboard assignments.

It is policy that incomplete grades be reserved for student illness or personal misfortune. Please contact faculty if you have serious illness or a personal misfortune that would keep you from completing course work. Documentation may be required.
