Course Delivery

This is an online course offering. The course will be delivered via the Blackboard Learning Management System. The course site can be accessed at ASU's Blackboard Learning Management System.

Technology Requirements

1. A personal computer. This course is entirely online. As such, it is important that you have unrestricted access to a computer so that you can access course materials and engage fully in the class. To do this, a personal computer is required. Also, on your computer you may need Java (https://www.java.com/en/download/) and Quicktime (http://support.apple.com/kb/dl837) software in order to view videos or media.

2. Blackboard Course Management System. This class will be taught using Blackboard. Therefore, you must have access to Blackboard on a daily basis. Information and updates will be posted to Blackboard. You should set your notifications in Blackboard to make sure that you receive important updates. It is recommended that you run Blackboard using an internet browser other than internet explorer.

3. ASU e-mail address. You are responsible for checking your ASU e-mail address on a daily basis. Notifications about the course will be sent via blackboard to your ASU e-mail address. No other e-mail address is acceptable for use in this course.

Communication

Email is the best way to contact your instructor and graduate teaching assistant. All emails should include “PSY XXXX” in the subject line. All emails should include your first and last name.

Grading

Evaluation and Grades

Course grades will be determined as indicated in the table below.

Grading System

Course grades will be dependent upon completing course requirements and meeting the student learning outcomes. The following grading scale is in use for this course:
A = 270-300
B = 240-269
C = 210-239
F \leq 209

Methods of Assessing Learning Outcomes

Learning outcomes will be assessed via weekly discussion posts, research presentations, and an exam.

Discussions

Students are required to participate in discussions about the readings and lectures. The discussions serve two purposes: (1) to apply course material through critical thinking and (2) demonstrate your understanding of the major social psychological phenomena. Discussions will require you to either generate a post about relevant material related to the readings and lectures for the week or generate a post related in response to a post by your instructor.

There will be weekly discussions, totaling 5 discussions, in which 100 points can be earned by participation in the discussions. Students participating fully, with thoughtful relevant comments will be given full credit (questions/comments that go beyond the text or PowerPoints). Minimal and/or redundant comments will earn partial credit. Posts should elaborate on course material, include references to the textbook and at least one scholarly article, and also provide at least one thoughtful question. Posts need to be at least 1000 words and fewer than 2000 words. Replies need to be between 250 to 500 words. Each discussion will require students to create at least 1 post and 2 replies to other students’ posts. Extra posts/replies will not be granted extra credit.

Post = 15 pts  Replies = 5 pts. (2.5 each)

Group Research Project/Presentation

As graduate students, it is imperative that you become good consumers of research and learn skills related to presentation and working interpersonally with others. Thus, you and another student will review, read, and present on the specific research related to the weekly topics (in the module). You will be required to write a cogent integrated research review of the articles and present your overview to the class in a video format. These videos and reviews will be due on Thursday each week (respective to each assigned group).

-ASU Library link to search from articles: http://www.angelo.edu/services/library/
  ➢ Synthesis will be due before the date listed on the syllabus schedule and submitted before class time through BlackBoard. Check the syllabus schedule for paper due date.
  ➢ Be sure to submit all documents as a word document file, any other files that cannot be opened will not be read and will be assigned a grade of ZERO points.
  ➢ APA style: Title page with running head; You do not need an abstract; Page numbers in upper right hand corner; References (if used) must be cited in APA format
  ➢ No late assignments will be accepted and no make-up assignments will be given. Any form of Plagiarism (see Academic Dishonesty Policies) will receive a zero.

Exam

There will be one exam (100 points) given in the course. Exams are designed to assess students’ factual knowledge, understanding of principles and theories, and ability to apply critical thinking. Exams may be comprised of any of the following: multiple choice, short answer, true/false, matching, ordering, and/or essay questions. The exams will be based on class PowerPoint materials, discussions, and material from the textbook. Exams will be available to access for 24 hours and due on the date(s) listed on the syllabus. Exams will be timed; students will be allotted 1 hour and 30 minutes to take the exam. Thus, once you started the exam, be prepared to work straight through without pulling up other windows or taking time to look up material. Make up exams will only be given in extenuating circumstances and the student may be required to prepare an essay on the material. If a student is allowed to make up an exam, then the student will have only 1 week and 10 points will be deducted from the exam.

Testing via Respondus™ Monitor

Access to quizzes and exams will be through Respondus™ Lockdown Browser and will be video recorded via Respondus™ Monitor [See Other Required Materials below for a list of needed equipment]. Use of another electronic device is prohibited. There are two practice quizzes: a) one is a Webcam test and b) a short 10 question practice quiz over ASU trivia that is not graded. These tools will be available to the student to assure accessibility. Students are highly encouraged to go through these practice quizzes in advance of taking a graded quiz. This process will allow you to become familiar with the technology associated with testing and improve the testing environment. These quizzes, instructional videos, and more information regarding Respondus Monitor can be found under the Respondus Monitor Help tab in your Blackboard course.

HELPFUL LINKS

As you may know, Respondus Monitor is a companion tool to Respondus LockDown Browser. Monitor is a tool to proctor the online exam. Here is some more information regarding Respondus LockDown Browser and Monitor:

Attendance/Participation: This course allows considerable flexibility for students but there is a structure that must be maintained. Be sure you attend class through logging into BlackBoard often, creating action plans, reviewing the assignments due, and contacting the instructor when necessary.

Student Responsibility and Attendance

Online: This class is asynchronous, meaning you do not have to be on-line at a certain time. There are readings which you will have to complete to be able to adequately participate in individual and group assignments. In order to complete this course successfully, you do have to participate in all course activities i.e. discussion boards, course projects, etc. Students are expected to engage in course activities and submit work by due dates and times. The hope is that students will make substantive contributions which reflect integration of assigned materials as well as any outside readings as appropriate. Scholarly contribution is an expectation.

This course allows considerable flexibility for students but there is a structure that must be maintained. Instruction will be paced on a schedule shown below. Course work will always be completed during the noted time frame. Assignments will be available to students to allow for plenty of time to achieve course objectives. All assignments are due before midnight (by 11:55 p.m. of the assigned day) on the day noted below in the schedule, with the exception of the final exam. No late work will be accepted.

Please note, students must access the course within the first week. Failure to do so will result in being blocked from the course and receive a failing grade, unless the student drops the course by the last day to receive a “W”

Assignment Submission

All assignments MUST be submitted through the Assignments link in the Blackboard site. This is for grading, documenting, and archiving purposes. Issues with technology use arise from time to time. If a technology issue does occur regarding an assignment submission, email me at drew.curtis@angelo.edu and attach a copy of what you are trying to submit. Please contact the IT Service Center at (325) 942-2911 or go to your Technology Support tab to report the issue. This lets your faculty know you completed the assignment on time and are just having problems with the online submission feature in Blackboard. Once the problem is resolved, submit your assignment through the appropriate link. This process will document the problem and establish a timeline. Be sure to keep a backup of all work.

Student expectations

1. Students are expected to take responsibility for their success in class. You are encouraged to be active participants in the education process by asking questions and keeping up with the course materials and deadlines.
2. If you have any concerns related to this class, you are encouraged to speak with your instructor in a timely manner. As a general rule, you should raise any issues within less than one week of receiving a grade or completing a given project.
3. Students will be expected to access the Blackboard online classroom on a regular basis for announcements, course materials, assignments, and grades.
4. The instructor reserves the right to use plagiarism prevention software.

Modules

The online course format is separated into weekly modules. You can find modules on the left-hand side of the screen under the Modules and Discussion tab. Each module corresponds to the activities and assignments due for that week. Feel free to also view the course schedule (below) for the due dates of the assignments and readings.

Readings

It is expected that each student will have the required reading during assigned times (see course schedule). Reading your text will be crucial for your success within an online course format. Some material in the text may be challenging upon first read, but lectures will be easier to follow if you have read the chapter.

Class Sessions

- Class will consist of Learning Modules, Lecture Materials (video and/or PowerPoint presentations, Readings, quizzes, exams, and/or other activities.
While some lecture materials will overlap with book material, I will be expanding and clarifying book information.
Media presentations and demonstrations may be used or hyperlinks provided to help illustrate the concepts being discussed.
Classes may include discussions, group projects, films, and activities.
Questions and comments are always welcome! (Please be respectful.)

DISCLAIMER: This class examines a variety of cultural and personal issues and subjects students to ideas and material that they may find disagreeable. The class will also subject students to aspects of human sexuality and sexual content in specific lectures. If students are unable or unwilling to tolerate other perspectives or their own value systems in the context of the class, then they are encouraged to speak with the instructor regarding their concerns and may wish to reconsider their enrollment in the course. Should you have any questions, concerns, or suggestions at any time during the semester, please feel free to contact me.
