Course Description:
This course is a survey of the history of sports, games, recreation, and physical education in the United States since the late-nineteenth century. Through primary and secondary source readings, podcasts, and videos, we will use sports as a pathway to understand citizenship, race, gender, and nationalism in US history. Additionally, we will examine how individuals, communities, and governments have used sports—and exclusion from sports—to define American identity.

Course Objectives:

A. To familiarize students with the broad historical narrative of US history through the lens of sports.

B. To help students to improve notetaking methods to prepare them for success in future courses.

C. To sharpen students’ critical thinking and analytical reading abilities.

D. To increase students’ skills in oral and written communication.
Required Text:

Class Meeting Format:
In order to maintain social distancing, students will be divided into two groups that will meet once a week for 50-minute sessions. Classes will include class and group discussions on historical topics covering the week’s key terms as well as the assigned primary sources, textbook, and/or secondary sources that were posted to Blackboard the week before. Students should bring their notes and readings to every class, be on time and attentive, and show a willingness to participate in discussion, all of which will count toward their final grades. Students should arrive for class with their assignments already completed.

For students who are unable to attend class, the instructor will record and post the lecture to Blackboard by the end of the day that the class met. Students who were unable to attend class will have an Alternative Assignment to complete that will count toward their in-class participation.

Schedule of course topics included at the end of the syllabus.

Grade Breakdown:
In-Class Participation/Alternative Assignment: 15%
Precis 1—15% (Due to Blackboard February 19)
Precis 2—20% (Due to Blackboard March 19)
Precis 3—20% (Due to Blackboard April 16)
Annotated Bibliography—15% (Due to Blackboard April 30)
“Think Piece”—15% (Due to Blackboard May 11)

In-Class Participation/Alternative Assignment:
Participation refers to active engagement in the class discussion of the readings as well as in group work. Just being in class will not suffice. Please be sure to look over the handout on participation that is included at the end of the syllabus.

Students who are unable to attend class on their assigned day will have an Alternative Assignment (posted to Blackboard each week) to complete that will count towards their in-class participation. Students do not need to call or send an email to the instructor regarding absences from class, they are permitted to do the Alternative Assignment without prior permission.

When attending class, keep in mind that students who arrive late for class (after roll call), will receive one-third of an absence. Students who are late for class, MUST make sure that the instructor recorded their attendance. Failure to do this may result in a tardy being counted as an absence.
Students who need to leave before the end of class should inform the instructor before class begins. Depending on how early a student needs to leave, it is up to the discretion of the instructor to decide if the student will need to complete the Alternative Assignment to get credit for Participation. The instructor reserves the right to call roll at the end of class, and students who have left before the class ended without explanation will be marked as absent and required to complete the Alternative Assignment.

Students must be present for at least 50% of a class period to receive credit for attendance. Otherwise, they will need to do the Alternative Assignment.

Students may miss one (1) class/Alternative Assignment before the midpoint of the semester (March 10) without penalty. They may miss another one (1) class/Alternative Assignment after the midpoint of the semester (March 10) without penalty.

Precis Writing Assignments:

Students will write three Precis Writing Assignments over the course of the semester. Each Precis Writing Assignment will consist of four precis for each writing assignment—two on assigned secondary sources and two on assigned primary sources from the Reading Assignments. Each precis should be a two-paragraph review of a source that addresses the argument and/or purpose of the source and its methodology (evidence, organization, etc.) as well as an assessment of the strengths and weaknesses of the source. For further guidance, see:

https://writing.wisc.edu/handbook/assignments/nonfictionanalysis/

Annotated Bibliography:

Students will complete a review of ten sources from the course with at least two being from the Optional Readings from the weekly Reading Assignments. Students may replace one or both of the Optional Readings with an outside source of their choosing, but they must arrange this with the instructor by March 10 by meeting with the instructor during office hours (virtual or in-person). While the entries for the Annotated Bibliography will resemble the Precis, student should incorporate any available instructor comments if they decide to use any previously submitted precis in their final Annotated Bibliography. For further guidance on writing an Annotated Bibliography, see:

https://owl.purdue.edu/owl/general_writing/common_writing_assignments/annotated_bibliographies/annotated_bibliography_samples.html

“Think Piece”:

3-5 Pages—Students will engage the question: “How can I use this class in the future?” Students must cite at least two of the assigned or optional readings from the course Reading Assignments. Citations should use Chicago Manual of Style formatted footnotes. Additionally, students should provide information such as why they decided to take this course and what their future goals are. If they wish, students may do an alternative assignment such as a syllabus or digital project, but this must be arranged by March 10 by meeting with the instructor during office hours (virtual or in-person).
Communication:

Students who need help for any reason should feel free to contact the instructor with any questions or difficulties. The instructor is available via email or in-person office hours. When emailing the instructor, students should include their course number (Ex. HIST 4324). They do not need to include their CIDs.

Office hours are times when the instructor is available to speak with students and/or answer emails. Unless otherwise indicated, the instructor will be in her office during the times listed under office hours. Students do not need to make an appointment to come by during listed office hours. Nevertheless, anyone planning to speak with the instructor during these times should arrive in enough time to address questions or concerns fully. Students who are unable to communicate during the listed times may set up an appointment.

Classroom Etiquette:

Students should take notes and remain engaged during class. They are not permitted to use electronic devices to create video or audio recordings of class.

A respectful attitude is expected during class. Be considerate of one another’s opinions and feelings when asking questions or making comments. Students have the right to disagree with others, but this should be done in a mature manner and without personal attacks.

Students must turn off cell phones and put them away in their bags, pockets, or under their chairs during class unless they are using them for the purposes of class work. Students need to remove all headphones prior to roll call. The only electronics that students are allowed to use during class are laptops or tablets for the purposes of notetaking and reviewing assigned readings. The only applications or windows that students may use during class are document viewers for the assigned readings and word processors for purposes of notetaking. Students found to be using other applications or doing work for classes other than HIST 4324 during class may be asked to leave and/or lose the privilege of using electronics in class.

Distracting behavior during class will result in the loss of In-Class Participation points and may mean being asked to leave class. Students who arrive late for class, should come into class quickly and quietly. If arriving late, students should be mindful not to walk in front of anyone who is speaking. If a student needs to leave the room during class, they should do so quietly.

Students are not permitted to eat during class. They may bring water if they wish.

Required Use of Masks/Facial Coverings by Students in Class At Angelo State University

As a member of the Texas Tech University System, Angelo State University has adopted the mandatory Facial Covering Policy to ensure a safe and healthy classroom experience. Current research on the COVID-19 virus suggests there is a significant reduction in the potential for transmission of the virus from person to person by wearing a mask/facial covering that covers the nose and mouth areas. Therefore, in compliance with the university policy students in this class are required to wear a mask/facial covering before, during, and after class. Faculty members may also ask you to display your daily screening badge as a prerequisite to enter the classroom. You are also asked to maintain safe distancing practices to the best of your ability. For the safety of everyone, any student not appropriately wearing a mask/facial covering will be asked to leave the classroom immediately. The student will be responsible to make up any missed class content or work. Continued non-compliance with the Texas Tech University System Policy may result in disciplinary action through the Office of Student Conduct.

Makeup Work:

For assignments submitted via Blackboard, students who turn in submissions after the deadline may lose up to 30% off the assignment grade. Students should not submit any assignments to the instructor’s email. Assignments will not be graded if submitted to the instructor’s email. If a drop box has already closed, students should contact the instructor about reopening the box.

If students need to miss class for any reason, they do not need to call or send an email to the instructor regarding absences. They can view the lecture and complete the Alternative Assignment in Blackboard for the days missed. Students may make an appointment for office hours if they wish to do so to discuss missed material.

Students are responsible for turning in assignments on time regardless of if they missed class for an excused reason such as university-sponsored activities, religious observances, or a DSS accommodations for Covid-19.

If they fall behind on Blackboard assignments for any reason, students should schedule a virtual or in-person meeting with the instructor as soon as possible.

It is policy that incomplete grades be reserved for student illness or personal misfortune. Please contact faculty if you have serious illness or a personal misfortune that would keep you from completing course work. Documentation may be required. History Department Statement on Plagiarism & Academic Honesty

Plagiarism is a serious topic covered in ASU’s Academic Integrity policy in the Student Handbook. Plagiarism is utilizing someone else’s writings, ideas, or works without providing due credit or proper citation. Plagiarism is literary theft. Quotation marks and, if instructed by me or in the assignment criteria, footnote/endnote citations should be utilized in order to note the source of a work or idea. If you are unsure about a citation, contact me with your question or visit this helpful website to avoid common plagiarism pitfalls. There is no excuse for plagiarism. It is your responsibility to plan your semester and time effectively to avoid putting yourself in a situation where you might turn to plagiarism. A digital plagiarism detection program (e.g. SafeAssign or Turn-it-in) will be used to check your work. Be intentional about submitting original work, complete with proper citations.

Academic misconduct is not limited to plagiarism. Academic dishonesty might also include copying somebody else's work, submitting somebody else's work as your own, failing to cite sources, or signing another student into class. Although discussing your work with classmates may be helpful, you must also be aware of “unauthorized collaboration” as a form of academic misconduct.

The History Department’s policy is that violations of the academic honor code will result in a 0 on an assignment for the first offense and a 0 in the entire class for subsequent offenses. In-class forms of plagiarism, such as signing in for another student, will be considered on a case-by-case basis, and I reserve the right to fail violators from this course on their first violation in egregious cases of misconduct. All academic integrity violations will be referred to the Executive Director of Student Affairs, who may impose additional sanctions if warranted as outlined in the Code of Student Conduct. Once a student has been notified of an academic integrity allegation, the student may not drop the course until the academic integrity processes are complete. If a student drops or withdraws, the student will be reinstated to the course.
