MGMT 4303-010 – Strategic Management

Course Description/Overview

This is a senior business capstone course concerned with the study and development of strategy for the overall organization. The course is interdisciplinary in nature, requiring students to apply knowledge and skills learned in previous courses to solve problems of an organization operating in its social, political, legal, international, economic and ecological environment. Students will also be required to take an examination covering the common body of knowledge of the BBA degree.

Prerequisite Knowledge
Senior standing, completion of all business core courses, and English or Comm. 3352.

Course Technology
Students should be familiar with the use of word, excel and PowerPoint (or other acceptable presentation) software.

Classroom Health and Safety Protocols
Seating will be assigned for each student. Please sit in your assigned seat.

As a member of the Texas Tech University System, Angelo State University has adopted the mandatory Facial Covering Policy to ensure a safe and healthy classroom experience. Current research on the COVID-19 virus suggests there is a significant reduction in the potential for transmission of the virus from person to person by wearing a mask/facial covering that covers the nose and mouth areas. Therefore, in compliance with the university policy students in this class are required to wear a mask/facial covering before, during, and after class. Faculty members may also ask you to display your daily screening badge as a prerequisite to enter the classroom. You are also asked to maintain safe distancing practices to the best of your ability. For the safety of everyone, any student not appropriately wearing a mask/facial covering will be asked to leave the classroom immediately. The student will be responsible to make up any missed class content or work. Continued non-compliance with the Texas Tech University System Policy may result in disciplinary action through the Office of Student Conduct.

Class Meeting Times
Monday and Wednesday 2:00 – 3:15 PM, RAS 111

I will simulcast all my classes so anyone can, at their choice, attend online or in person during assigned class hours. Because this class enrollment is no more than the classroom's maximum (social distancing) capacity, all students are welcome to attend in person for every class session. If you prefer, you may also attend online for any or all class sessions. If you choose to attend in person, you must provide self-screening questionnaire daily, wear a mask, and maintain social distance in the building and in the classroom.

Please note that, while you may attend class online, you will be expected to be in the virtual classroom via WebEx at the times scheduled for class. Although I do not count attendance for this class toward your grade, if you miss a session it will be your responsibility to catch up with me or your team. Class sessions will be recorded until the team project work begins. My students from the online only class are also invited to attend these lectures and discussions, so we may have occasional visitors who are taking this class online. They are welcome to listen and ask questions, but I will not call them to ask a question. Your participation will be assessed by your team peers for the team project, and it will have a material effect on your individual final grade.

I will post WebEx links for each class session recorded on Blackboard. You can join WebEx sessions on your smartphone or computer, but for best results I recommend you download the WebEx app (you will get a prompt the first time you log in) and use a laptop with a camera. For those not familiar with WebEx, it is a video collaboration platform similar to Zoom and is a best-in-class video platform for business users.

Remote participants will also be called on to participate in discussions and answer questions, just as if you were in class. If you have a question to ask, you will submit it via chat. Much of our work in this class will be completed in small teams, including a computer simulation model during the second half of the class that will serve as a team project. Teams will compete against each other, and significant collaboration is required to complete the simulation.

Course Objectives

Learning Objectives:

Demonstrate analytical thinking, critical analysis, problem solving, use of technology and use of current information resources in the research and preparation of a professional-quality business case study by:

a. Critically analyzing and evaluating organizational mission statements and major organizational goals.
b. Scanning and evaluating an organization's external competitive environment.
c. Scanning and evaluating an organization's external general environment.
d. Critically analyzing and evaluating an organization's internal operating environment.
e. Evaluating the strength of an organization's competitive advantage.
f. Analyzing and evaluating the effectiveness of an organization’s functional, competitive, and corporate strategies.

Demonstrate competency in team building skills as well as interpersonal, oral and written communications by preparing and presenting a professional-quality business case study in both written and presentation formats.

Course Philosophy and Additional Skills Developed: This class and the assignments have been developed to engage students in discussion, small group work, and other activities to actively engage your participation. Therefore, the following ground rules are applied to the course:

1. Active participation - Everyone – including the students and the professor, will actively participate in the class on a daily basis. A portion of your course grade (as much as one full letter grade) depends on your active involvement in the course, and your group contributions will be measured by your peers on the group project.

2. Cooperation and Mutual Respect - As leaders, we must learn to create an atmosphere of trust in our work teams. This means appreciating the unique set of experiences, beliefs and values each member brings to class. Another important element of trust and respect is listening. Good leaders are notable for the ability to listen to others and ask meaningful questions. Respectful turn-taking in both sharing and listening is expected.
3. Creativity – You will be challenged to create new thought. When we think through something for the first time, we are creating our logic, purposes and reasons for thinking. We are making new assumptions. We are forming new concepts. We are asking new questions. We are making new inferences. We are working out a problem in a direction that is new to us.

4. Problem-solving – You will be required to not only identify problems but also to generate solutions and make recommendations based on a logical and thorough analysis of the alternatives.

5. Individual accountability – All members of the class will be held responsible for their own learning as well as the learning within their individual project teams. No member of any team should feel that he/she is doing more or less than an equal share of the project. Therefore, each team will be given the opportunity to sanction non-contributing team members through the following process: 1) verbal warning by the group with the professor as witness; 2) written warning by the team with a copy submitted to the professor; and 3) firing by the team by unanimous vote and sufficient written documentation provided to the professor.

Assignment Submission:
All assignments MUST be submitted through the Assignments link in the Blackboard site. This is for grading, documenting, and archiving purposes. Issues with technology use arise from time to time. If a technology issue does occur regarding an assignment submission, email me at lhettick@angelo.edu and attach a copy of what you are trying to submit. Please contact the IT Service Center at (325) 942-2911 or go to your Technology Support tab to report the issue. This lets your faculty know you completed the assignment on time and are just having problems with the online submission feature in Blackboard. Once the problem is resolved, submit your assignment through the appropriate link. This process will document the problem and establish a timeline. Be sure to keep a backup of all work.

In this class, your individual case studies will be reviewed by one of your peers. Twenty percent (20%) of your grade for the case studies will be based on the quality of the review you provide to your peer. For these assignments (Individual Case Part 1 and Individual Case Part 2) you will submit two versions – the draft version with peer review comments, and the final version with changes made following the peer review. Students will find and select a peer review partner in class.

- B = 80 – 89 %
- C = 70 – 79 %
- D = 60 – 69 %

Late assignments will be penalized one letter grade per class day.

Participation/Absenteeism

Peer evaluation of your performance as a team member will include participation. Your peer reviews can affect your group project scores by as much as 50% of the total points on the two group projects, making this rating worth 20% of your final course grade.

Final Exam

The final exam will be the presentation of the team’s CAPSIM analysis and key learnings.
