Course Description:
COMM 1315 is a course designed to help students across academic majors to learn how to communicate effectively in public by understanding and analyzing the audience and situation then creating an appropriate message. Core public speaking skills are message clarity, organization, language, delivery, and the use of multimedia and presentation technology. Emphasis will be placed on presenting a variety of speeches throughout the semester.

Course Online:
This section of COMM 1315 is being delivered online. You may or may not have had experience with online courses. If you have had experience, you know that there is nothing complex about taking a course online. Being self-motivated and staying up-to-date on all assignments are essential to your success. I will hold weekly office hours (both face-to-face and online), and also will be available via email, to clarify expectations, answer questions and provide feedback.

Particularly, this online class is delivered synchronously – meaning that all of us will participate in the class at the same time from the place of our choice. To do that, first make sure that you have necessary equipment, technology, and other resources that enable you to watch, join, and participate in the class. If you find your usual online connection spot (e.g., from your room) has technological difficulties (e.g., issues of bandwidth that doesn’t allow you to listen and talk effectively, background noise, lighting problem, microphone trouble, etc.) – in short, any kind of difficulties for participating in the class – then, you may need to find a different spot or find technological solutions. Remember: even if you may join the class from your room, you still need to be fully present and participate. Seek help from the ASU IT center for any tech problems.

Technology Support at Angelo State IT Service Center:
Students are expected to have access to a reliable computer with an Internet connection, with necessary software (MS Word, PowerPoint, Adobe Reader, Media Player, Quicktime, etc.), and a camera (to record your speeches; cell phone video cameras are just fine). If you have any technological issue or concern, please contact the ASU IT Service Center:
Address: ASU Station #11020
Website: https://www.angelo.edu/services/technology/support/
Walk-up: Mathematics-Computer Science Building #111
Phone: (325) 942-2911; Toll Free: 1-866-942-2911
To Open a Support Ticket: ITSupport@angelo.edu
For General Questions: ServiceCenter@angelo.edu
Blackboard:
We will be using Blackboard to conduct this class, and it is your responsibility to ensure that you can access and navigate this site. Please visit https://help.blackboard.com/ for online tutorial for Blackboard, for more information about Blackboard.

Your weekly learning materials are provided in the Content for each week as well as through the Announcement. Here you may find online lectures and supplemental material related to the chapters, and you will find the information for the week. A typical week will include reading the assigned chapter(s), reading and/or viewing the supplemental materials, and posting speeches, assignments, and responses in the Discussion area. Again, contact ASU IT if you have any problems.

Student Learning Outcomes:
• Critical Thinking Skills (CT): Gather, analyze, evaluate, and synthesize information relevant to a question or issue; Develop and demonstrate a logical position (i.e., perspective, thesis, hypothesis) that acknowledges ambiguities or contradictions.
• Communication Skills (CS): Develop, interpret, and express ideas through effective written, oral, and visual communication.
• Teamwork Skills (TW): Consider different viewpoints as a member of a team; Work effectively with others to support and accomplish a shared goal.
• Attitudes and Behaviors Displaying Social Responsibility (SR): Demonstrate intercultural competence, knowledge of civic responsibility, and engagement in the campus, regional, national, or global communities.
• Attitudes and Behaviors Displaying Personal Responsibility (PR): Demonstrate the ability to evaluate choices, actions, and consequences as related to ethical decision making.

COURSE POLICY

Course Syllabus Statement on Required Use of Masks/Facial Coverings by Students in Class At Angelo State University:

As a member of the Texas Tech University System, Angelo State University has adopted the mandatory Facial Covering Policy to ensure a safe and healthy classroom experience. Current research on the COVID-19 virus suggests there is a significant reduction in the potential for transmission of the virus from person to person by wearing a mask/facial covering that covers the nose and mouth areas. Therefore, in compliance with the university policy students in this class are required to wear a mask/facial covering before, during, and after class. Faculty members may also ask you to display your daily screening badge as a prerequisite to enter the classroom. You are also asked to maintain safe distancing practices to the best of your ability. For the safety of everyone, any student not appropriately wearing a mask/facial covering will be asked to leave the classroom immediately. The student will be responsible to make up any missed class content or work. Continued non-compliance with the Texas Tech University System Policy may result in disciplinary action through the Office of Student Conduct.

Delivering, Recording, & Uploading Speech:

For your speeches scheduled for real-time delivery, find a secure location to give a speech, and set a camera (the frame/angle) to include your whole body (not just the upper-part of your body, or face only, nor sitting down) – Important: I need to watch your whole-body movement (performance) including your use of face, hands, and posture. Also, make sure your speech can be heard, loud and clear – if your speech cannot be heard by your audience and me, we can’t grade your speech (therefore resulting in reduced or a zero credit for the speech). Please speak clearly and loudly, if you are not wearing a microphone to amplify your voice.

For your recorded speeches, please record and upload your speech to YouTube (or Kaltura) – then, provide a link to the video by the due date/time. The principle for recording is the same – capture/record your whole-body performance. Also, when you record your speech, do NOT edit/cut/paste your speech over multiple takes – record in one continuous shot/attempt. If you edit your video, this will result in an automatic F for the speech. Similarly, make sure your recorded speech can be heard (or seen) – if the speech, in the recording, cannot be heard or seen by your audience/me, it will result in reduced or a zero credit for the speech.

If you are not familiar with the process of uploading a video, please give it a trial run far before the actual due date so that you will not run into uploading problems. Sometimes the uploading may be slow on YouTube; therefore, I recommend not waiting until the last minute to upload your video. Late submissions generally receive penalties (e.g., 10 points deduction in every 24-hour period), and a habit of late submissions may be reflected in the final grade too.

When you upload your speech on YouTube, you will have the option to make it private or public. You must make your speech PUBLIC in order for us to view and grade your speech; I also recommend you set your speech with the caption option on. If you are concerned about someone getting to the video through a simple search, give your speech title a name that would not be searchable, for example 87tyuii4o3847. Nobody would be able to guess that nor would it come up in a simple search (you may delete the link once the semester is over). Or, alternatively, if you are concerned about YouTube, you may use Kaltura Media that works directly in Blackboard (let me know if you like this option). Once the speech is uploaded, you will provide the class/me a link. Before sending the class/me the link, make sure that you or someone else tests that link to ensure that it works.

Format for Writing Assignments:

Students should upload written assignments (e.g., outline) in one of these formats: .doc, .docx, or (Mac users) Rich Text. Do not send your paper that may require additional ‘permission’ to read your paper (e.g., Google Doc Share, MS Word Share, etc.). The file name should start with YOUR NAME and should identify the assignment (e.g., Joe (or Joanne) Student, Informative Speech Outline). If formatting is important for your project, then when you submit your work as an attachment you should preview it to be certain your formatting is correctly reproduced. If it isn’t, you may also need to submit the document in PDF to demonstrate correct formatting. Again, never submit work without your name and identifying information on it.

Late Speeches:

If you do not submit a speech by the due date/time, and do not have a legitimate reason for doing so (e.g., hospitalization, attending university sponsored events, funeral of close family member, etc.), YOU WILL RECEIVE A ZERO for that presentation. Technical difficulties, uploading problems, and/or nonworking YouTube links, etc. are not legitimate reasons and will result in your receiving an F for the assignment. Only if you are excused through the school or the instructor will a student be allowed to make up a speech. If you have a legitimate reason (as noted above) for not submitting your assignment, you are REQUIRED to contact the instructor to learn of your new due date.

Late Tests & Assignments:

If you miss a test due to an excused absence (e.g., hospitalization, attending university sponsored events, funeral of close family members, etc.), you must make the test up within a reasonable length (no more than one week, desirably less). All arrangements for making up for work should be made prior to the absence, if possible, and is the student’s responsibility. A typed, signed, and dated explanation must be given to the instructor upon returning to class.

Similarly, all assignments must be submitted by the due date/time. Any paper that is not in my possession/access by when it is due is considered “late submission.” This includes any papers put in wrong folders or papers sent via wrong email. The late submission will have 10 points deducted in every 24-hour period.

Note: Schedule your assignment submission ahead of time. I cannot overemphasize the importance of developing drafts. I believe in the improvement of your writing over developing drafts, so I tend to offer more and fuller feedbacks on drafts than your final submission (I focus on grading, when you submit your final work).

Note: When you turn in your assignments (or any inquiry) via email, I will acknowledge my receiving of your email. Please give a day or two, but if you don’t hear from me (a short reply email of receipt that I got your email), please send me an email again.

Grading:
At the end of the semester, grades are assigned STRICTLY BY POINT TOTAL. For example, if you have accumulated 899 at the end of the course, you will receive a B rather than an A (even though an A is a point away). Over the course of the semester, however, I will give you a number of opportunities (e.g., writing reaction papers; see below Extra Credit Assignments) to earn extra credit points. So, if you need an A be sure to accumulate enough points (900) to earn an A.

Note: Please do not tell me what grade you NEED in my course. Grades are not based on need; they are based on a student’s performance on the tests and course assignments. I will NOT change grades at any point based on need. If you need a certain grade, be certain to earn enough points to merit that grade.

Extra Credit Assignments:
During the semester, I will provide several opportunities for extra credit points (worth a total of 20 points). For example, you may watch a speech listed in the America’s 100 Speeches in the 20th Century (https://www.americanrhetoric.com/top100speechesall.html), and write one-to-two page reaction paper (what you learned, found interesting/troubling, questions for thought, etc.) – then, you can earn 5 extra-credit points. You can repeat this, up to 20 full extra-credit points (4 reaction papers). Points earned from these reaction papers will simply be added into your total accumulation of points for the class. Therefore, missing or not doing reaction papers will not hurt your grade but help your grade.

Grading Concerns:
After I return any graded assignments, I will not discuss any grading questions for a 24-hour period. After 24 hours have elapsed, I will be happy to address any grading concerns you might have. All grading concerns MUST be addressed WITHIN TWO WEEKS after the assignment is returned.

Participation & Class Etiquette:
The classroom (virtual or on-site) is a special environment where students and faculty come together to promote learning and growth, and where the general goals of academic freedom are maintained. Student conduct that disrupts the learning process will not be tolerated and may lead to disciplinary action and/or removal from class. Personally, I believe good participation involves with good listening and asking good questions that reflect a genuine attempt to grapple with the assigned readings and with what other people are saying in class. Thus, to earn full participation credits, be a good listener and ask good questions.

Academic Misconduct & Honor Code Policy:
Plagiarism in your speech will result in a zero for the speech and will result in an ‘F’ in the course regardless of your numerical average, and the instructor may pursue additional measures. Speeches are to be the original composition of each student. Outside sources are required for each assignment with proper verbal citation in the speech and in a bibliography as required.

Violations of academic integrity are very serious matters and are clearly documented in the ASU Student Handbook. The work a student submits in a class is expected to be the student’s own work and must be work completed for that particular class and assignment. Plagiarism means intentionally or knowingly representing the words or ideas of another as one’s own. This may include your own previous work. Plagiarism includes quoting or paraphrasing from other sources without acknowledging/citing the source of your information or presenting quoted material as your own words. You must be very clear about attribution of sources and you must know how to cite sources in a presentation, outline, and bibliography. Please see full Honor Code Policy at http://www.angelo.edu/cstudent/documents/pdf/Student_Handbook.pdf

Religious Holiday Observance:

- “Religious holy day” means a holy day observed by a religion whose places of worship are exempt from property taxation under Texas Tax Code 11.20.
- A student who intends to observe a religious holy day should make that intention known in writing to the instructor prior to the absence. A student who is absent from classes for the observance of a religious holy day shall be allowed to take an examination or complete an assignment scheduled for that day within a reasonable time after the absence.
- A student who is excused under section 2 may not be penalized for the absence, however; the instructor may respond appropriately if the student fails to complete the assignment satisfactorily.

Disability Statement:

The Student Life Office is the designated campus department charged with the responsibility of reviewing and authorizing requests for reasonable accommodation based on a disability. It is the student’s responsibility to initiate such a request by contacting:

Mrs. Dallas Swafford, Director of Student Development,
University Center Suite 112B,
Phone: 325-942-2047, or Fax: 325-942-2211
E-Mail: dallas.swafford@angelo.edu

Title IX at Angelo State University:

Angelo State University is committed to providing and strengthening an educational, working, and living environment where students, faculty, staff, and visitors are free from sex discrimination of any kind. The University prohibits discrimination based on sex, which includes pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, and other types of Sexual Misconduct. Sexual Misconduct is a broad term encompassing all forms of gender-based harassment or discrimination including: sexual assault, sex-based discrimination, sexual exploitation, sexual harassment, public indecency, interpersonal violence (domestic violence and/or dating violence), and stalking. As a faculty member, I am a Responsible Employee meaning that I am obligated by law and ASU policy to report any allegations I am notified of to the Office of Title IX Compliance. This is done in order to connect students with resources and options in addressing the allegations reported. As a student, you are encouraged to report any incidents of sexual misconduct directly to ASU’s Office of Title IX Compliance and the Title IX Coordinator. You may do so by contacting:

Michelle Miller, J.D.
Title IX Coordinator
Mayer Administration Building, Room 210
325-942-2022
michelle.miller@angelo.edu

You may also file a report online 24/7 at www.angelo.edu/incident-form.

If you are wishing to speak to someone about an incident in confidence you may contact the University Health Clinic at 325-942-2171, Counseling Services at 325-942-2371 or the ASU Crisis Helpline at 325-486-6345.

The Office of Title IX Compliance also provides accommodations related to pregnancy (such as communicating with your professors regarding medically necessary absences, modifications required because of pregnancy, etc.). If you are pregnant and need assistance or accommodations, please contact the Office of Title IX Compliance utilizing the information above.

For more information about Title IX in general you may visit www.angelo.edu/title-ix.

Project Assignments

• Informative Speech (200 points = 150 for speech + 50 for outline)
  (Due 3/9 – 3/18)

Give a 5-7 minute speech on a topic to inform your audience, in a professional, engaging, and extemporaneous style. Particularly, your speech is to inform on a current, controversial topic of state, regional, national, or international importance – in other words, your topic is ‘the controversy of X.’ The topic (controversy) should be significant – one about which the class needs to be informed, and it needs to be presented in a balanced way of informing both sides of the controversy. Therefore, your audience should not be able to tell which side you are on regarding the topic – later, you will have a chance to advocate one side/camp in your persuasive speech.

For example, if you choose to give a speech about “the controversy of ‘Enhanced Interrogation’ (a.k.a., ‘Torture’),” you need to present the two (2) strongest arguments in support (pro) of the practice, and the two (2) strongest arguments in opposition (con) to the practice – or, it can be 3 pro points and 3 con points. All four points should be equally balanced and advanced with supporting information (such as statistics, examples, testimonies, narratives).

Here is an example of topic, specific purpose, and central idea statements:

Topic: Controversy of “Enhanced Interrogation” (a.k.a. “Torture”)
Specific Purpose: To inform my audience about the controversy over the pros and cons of “enhanced interrogation techniques” (a.k.a. “torture”)
Central Idea: The controversy of “enhanced interrogation” (a.k.a. “torture”) revolves around, and is animated by, two debated questions – on its legality and its effectiveness.

The main body of your speech may be organized like this:

I. The first main question is – “Is it legal?”
   A. Yes, it is legal.
   B. No, it is not legal.
   [Transition]
II. The second main question is – “Is it effective?”
   A. Yes, it is effective interrogation technique for intelligence.
   B. No, it is not effective interrogation technique for intelligence.

Or, an alternative organization can be:

I. The proponents of “enhanced interrogation” are based on two grounds – with respect to its legality and effectiveness.
   A. Yes, it is legal.
   B. Yes, it is effective interrogation technique for intelligence.
   [Transition]
II. The opponents of “torture” are based on two grounds – with respect to its legality and effectiveness.
   A. No, it is not legal.
   B. No, it is not effective interrogation technique for intelligence.

In short,
- Your speech is 5 – 7 minutes long.
- You must use at minimum 4 different sources to support your speech – at least one example, one statistics, one testimony – and, at least, one academic book, one academic journal article, and one interview (or interview cited in a news article).
- The different types of supporting materials must be labeled in your outline (e.g., Example, Testimony, Statistic, etc.).
- You must incorporate a visual aid in your speech.
- You must submit your completed, fully developed, typed preparation outline.

Outline samples are provided in the Content folder. Here is an idea/structure of preparation outline:

• Persuasive Speech (200 points = 150 for speech + 50 for outline)
(Due 3/30 – 4/8)

In your informative speech, you presented us two sides of a controversial issue. For this speech, you are required to pick one of the sides and persuade us to agree with you regarding this issue. Your speech may be a speech of fact or value, but it may not be a policy speech. A speech with a question of fact tries to persuade us that something is true or not true. A speech with a question of value tries to persuade us that something is ethical or unethical. A policy speech tries to persuade us that the audience should or should not do something.

Let us look at the three types:
Let me use ‘torture/enhanced interrogation’ as my topic to demonstrate the differences in the specific purpose statement.

• Question of Fact: To persuade my audience that people who experience torture, whether to give or receive, experience traumatic suffering both physically and mentally.

• Question of Value: To persuade my audience that torture is unethical.

• Question of Policy: To persuade my audience that all US agencies should not use torture (a.k.a. ‘coercive/enhanced interrogation techniques’) to induce intelligence. (Can’t use this type.)

Time: Your speech for this assignment must remain 5-7 minutes.

Sources: You must have a minimum of 5 different sources (that are verbally cited) for this speech which includes at least one academic book, one academic journal article, and one interview.

Supporting Information: You need to include each type of supporting information in this speech. You need to have at least one statistic, one narrative, one expert testimony, and one peer testimony, and one brief example. For all your other supporting information, you can repeat the different types as you like, but I need to hear them all at least once. PLEASE LABEL THEM IN YOUR OUTLINE. See example outline for idea of how to do this.
Special Occasions Speech (100 points)
(Due 4/15)

Prepare and deliver a special occasion speech. This speech is meant to allow your personality to shine through. Below are the things you need to take into consideration when preparing for this speech.

The majority of speech will be graded on your conversational style. Being that the speech is short, you should be able to look up quite a bit and look at notecards very little. However, have fun with it.

That being said, look below and decide which of the three you will be doing: wedding toast, eulogy, or acceptance speech.

1. Wedding Toast (approximately 2-3 mins)

   I. Opening – Thank audience for attending the affair. Who are you?
   II. Introduce the bride and groom
   III. Story about your interactions with the bride, groom or both. (should be about their relationship)
   IV. Humor - Pick something that applies to them and is appropriate (maybe)
   V. Toast - Brief and touching or funny (So let’s raise our glasses…)

2. Eulogy (approximately 2-3 mins)

   I. Opening – Who are you?
   II. Explain your relationship with the deceased.
   III. Description of the deceased.
   IV. A story that captures your relationship with the deceased.
   V. Final thoughts.

   • DO NOT THANK THE AUDIENCE.

3. Acceptance Speech (approximately 2-3 mins)

   I. Thank that audience for selecting you as the recipient of the award and name the award.
   II. Tell us about the people that helped you get to this place in your life. (Do not simply list names, tell us how).
   III. Tell us what the award means to you.
   IV. Tell us the things you had to do to get this award.
   V. Give a final thought for receiving the award.
• MMS Speech (200 points = 150 for speech + 50 for outline)
(Due 4/22 – 5/4)

Topic: You need to select a non-profit organization that you will persuade your audience to become a volunteer at this organization. Therefore, everyone’s Specific Purpose Statement (SPS) will be: To persuade my audience that they should become a volunteer for __________. Or something similar. For this persuasive speech, you must use the Monroe’s Motivated Sequence as a main persuasive logic to organize your speech (i.e., six steps to persuade: Step one, to get attention; Step two, to establish the need; Step three, to satisfy the need; Step four, to visualize the future; Step five, to call for action).

Time: 5-7 minutes

Sources: Minimum of 5 different, credible sources to qualify for an A

Types of Supporting Info: Try to incorporate a variety (statistics, narratives, expert testimony, peer testimony, examples, etc.) of supporting material – at least one each category. For all your other supporting information, you can repeat the different types as you like, but I need to hear them all at least once. PLEASE LABEL THEM IN YOUR OUTLINE. See sample outlines for idea of how to do this (in the Content folder).

Visual Aid: You must use some type of visual aid for this speech. Re-read visual aid chapter. Can be an object, brochure, presentation, picture – anything that you refer to during the speech. If you choose to use a PowerPoint, make sure that you follow the design guidelines:

- Contrast – Dark background, light font; Light background, dark font
- Repetition – Same font colors used for slides, all slides the same template
- Alignment – Align pictures and fonts according to sections. Do not center everything.
- Proximity – Not too crowded, not too empty. Good use of space.

- 6 slides needed. – First slide is title slide, then one slide for each step of Monroe’s Motivated Sequence.
- Do NOT make your PowerPoint text heavy. Just enough so your audience can keep up.
- Remember: contrast, repetition, alignment, and proximity.
• Final Demonstration Speech (100 points)
  (Due 5/11)

For your final exam/project, record a 5-7 minute speech to demonstrate how things get done or performed, upload your speech to the YouTube (or Kaltura), and then provide a link to your speech. For example, think about a cooking demonstration, a work-out demonstration, a yoga demonstration, how to make a hand-made mask, etc. The key to a successful demonstration speech is effective use of visual aids and actual demonstration or ‘performing’ of your speech topic. In a nutshell, here is what you want to avoid: just imagine if a cook is supposed to demonstrate how to make a _____ (e.g., BBQ), but she simply reads her recipe through her demonstration without showing how it is actually done. The point is to show (and demonstrate) how it’s done, rather than to tell.

As is explained earlier, when you give your speech (to demonstrate), make sure your camera/recording includes your whole body, so that I can watch your use of gestures and body movements. Do not have elaborate camera movements; although visual aids are important for this speech, still your body/self is the main vehicle of presentation – do not let your visual aids take over your speech, while yourself disappears from the camera/center. Also, do not edit (cut/paste) multiple recording of your speeches – once you record, it MUST be “one-take” (one complete recording). You may use note-cards (index cards), but do not read your outline throughout the speech; if you hold your outline with both hands and read it for your speech, your eye-contact, gestures, and ‘talking with’ your audience will be limited (hence your grade). Again, use one visual aid (at least) for your speech/demonstration.

• Weekly Quizzes (110 points total)

You will find weekly quizzes & discussion questions in the Discussion folder, for each chapters we read for the week. Please read the chapters carefully, and answer to each question. For short discussion questions, answer in about a paragraph, or a half-page, in single-space (about 150 words per answer). It may help to work through a few drafts, before you post your final answer, to make sure your answer is clear (with examples), engaging (with respect), and complete (with accuracy). Also, respond to your peer’s answers (at least THREE people’s posts).

• Peer Evaluations (40 points = 10 points each for Informative, Persuasive, Special Occasions, & MMS Speech Evaluations)

Student peers will offer their evaluation of peers’ speeches. Each student will send me/instructor an email of (1) numeric evaluation of each speech s/he watches (10 points maximum), as well as (2) qualitative comments (constructive criticism) to suggest possible improvement points for the speaker. I will reflect the numeric evaluation in the grading, and compile/forward all the qualitative comments to each speaker.
General Criteria for Grading Speeches

“F” – Speech uses fabricated or plagiarized material. Speech is also not extemporaneous (read or memorized).

“D” – Speech shows lack of a clear thesis or purpose, short of preparation made to deliver in an extemporaneous style, not meeting all technical requirements of the assignment, not using appropriate research to support her points, and/or lack of effective organization to develop her case. Speech also may be carelessly or unprofessionally delivered/ performed.

“C” – Speech meets basic expectations of a specific assignment, while it may not do anything more. Speech chooses a topic that is original and appropriate to the audience and occasion, articulates a clear thesis/purpose statement, provides appropriate research to support her points, utilizes an effective organization to develop her case, and demonstrates an extemporaneous style. The speech, while appropriate and professional, is otherwise non-exceptional.

“B” – Speech is not only appropriate and professional, but is performed in an engaging and dynamic style, with few errors. Speech has an original and challenging topic, advances a clear thesis/purpose, reflects a greater depth of research, professionally identifies credible sources, effectively keeps the audience’s attention, uses dynamic gestures and body movements, utilizes effective transitions, and demonstrates a strategic development/organization of her case. The speech is a better speech, but does not demonstrate excellence that would be required to be considered exceptional.

“A” – Speech goes beyond that required for a “B” speech, to choose an original, challenging, and creative topic, to demonstrate excellent audience analysis and adaptation, and to reflect a greater depth of research, in a clear authorial voice in command of the materials. In addition, the style is elegant, verbally and nonverbally, indicating careful attention to present a well-constructed, well-thought-out response that advances understanding, stimulates thought or is otherwise evidence of exceptional presentation. In short, an “A” is an exceptional performance of excellence.

As a further explanation of these criteria, consider the following comments:

- A “C” speech is a good speech – It simply does not do any more than is being asked.
- A “B” speech is a better speech, but does not reveal excellence that would be required to be considered exceptional.
- An “A” is an exceptional performance. Simply meeting the expectations is not the equivalent of an “A.”

Note: The following contains checklists for grading speech and outline. These checklists have equivalent items/issues as the general criteria for grading speeches explained above. Make sure you work on drafts/rehearsals and receive my feedbacks. I can offer more and fuller feedbacks when your work is ‘in-progress’ rather than ‘final.’
Speech Preparation Outline Rubric (Informative, Persuasive, & MMS)

Outlines must be typed and complete
