ISSA 6311 – Special Operations and Intelligence: Creating Strategic Effects

Course Description/Overview

Over the last ten years, special operations forces have become a core element in America’s response to trans-national terrorism. These units have trained and advised foreign military and paramilitary forces; captured or killed thousands of Al Qaeda and Taliban commanders and foot soldiers; and conducted a variety of operations around the globe. This course will focus on the ways in which special operations forces have been incorporated into national security strategy and policy. Through the use of a series of case studies, students will investigate the differences between special operations forces and other elite units; scrutinize the roles and missions of these organizations; understand their unique intelligence support requirements at tactical, operational, and strategic levels; consider the influence of popular culture; and probe the impact of bureaucratic politics and organizational culture between the special operations community and international allies, Congress, the interagency community, and conventional military forces.

Rubrics

Discussion forums and writing assignments will be graded using a standardized rubric. It is recommended that you be familiar with these grading criteria and keep them in mind as you complete the writing assignments. There are two rubrics. Click the link to download the PDF document:

For a writing style, students will adhere to the standard published in The Chicago Manual of Style (17th edition). [Updated 21 October 2019]

Angelo State University employs a letter grade system. Grades in this course are determined on a percentage scale:
A = 90 – 100 %
B = 80 – 89 %
C = 70 – 79 %
F = 69% and below.

Some thoughts on late work:

- Don’t be late. In the professional world, late is often too late. In the intelligence profession and in related fields, being late with written assessments - even with the right assessment or with brilliant work - oftentimes means arriving after the LTIOV - latest time information is of value. Sometimes lateness is unavoidable. If you know you will be late, let me know ahead of time. In these instances, some accommodation may be possible.
- Primary posts are due by 1159 CST on Fridays, and response postings are due by 1159 CST on Sunday, after which time no participation is possible (without permission).

Discussion Posts

The Discussions are directly related to the assigned readings. Upon completion of the assigned readings, you are expected to engage in an ongoing discussion/debate with your classmates. Your contributions to the discussion forums will be graded for quality and a detailed analysis linking the material to a critical appraisal of theory, policy, and practice. In all cases, students must cite in-text and provide a full bibliography/works cited at the end of their post for all citations mentioned in the post.

Main post:
These posts should be the equivalent of 1 page in length or a minimum of 300 words and should include one outside source, 400 to 600 words should be the norm (i.e., a source outside the regular readings assigned for the week/course). Note 300 word is the minimum not necessarily A+ work i.e. be thorough so if you put together an unoriginal, unorganized post, underdeveloped post don’t be surprised (depending on the quality) B- or C grade. The specific discussion assignment is located in each unit Week by clicking on the Discussion link. Initial posts are due by 11:59PM CST on Friday in each week of the course.

Keys:
- Don’t just repeat the authors or even worse other students.
- Fully develop your position, so me you understand the literature but make a specific point.
- INTEL is information + analysis – information alone is just history – analysis tells me what it means. Always, in my courses include analysis in all your work.
- With the point above make sure there is a point i.e. the so what.
- Remember your written word is the only way I have of assessing what you know so take time and make sure to send in quality products.
- Make sure you edit your work (this kills some otherwise good papers).

Comment Post:
Comment posts are responses you make to the discussion posts that you and your classmates post each week. You are required to make a minimum of two (2) comments each week that are due by 11:59PM CST on Sunday in each week of the course. Comment posts should be meaningful. Merely agreeing or disagreeing with a classmate will not be looked upon favorably and will result in a loss of points. A meaningful post is one that moves the discussion forward in some substantive way through providing one’s perspective, additional information through research, or reframing the discussion in some new way. You are expected to engage in an ongoing discussion/debate with your classmates. Your comments will be graded for quality, and relevance. Your comments will also be graded based on your ability to engage in critical thinking.

PowerPoint:

Presentation 1

Complete a PowerPoint presentation complete with focus on one of the SOCOM units. Highlight one key aspect or subunit with larger unit. Focus on the capabilities! I do not want a generic/off the shelf version. I need in-depth (but unclassified) information. Due Sunday of Week 2

Presentation 2

Complete a PowerPoint presentation complete with focus on one a SOCOM unit’s situation/plan/operation/mission. Discuss the objective, obstacles and how the task planned. Also discuss the organization and outcome. Finally answer the question why was this unit chosen for the mission i.e. capabilities. Due Sunday of Week 6

Paper:

Assignment 1

Complete a paper describing a SOF unit, organization and mission (choose a unit be specific not a branch). Also give in depth analysis for how your unit engages or has engaged in effects based operation. You can give either a historical example or discuss its current operations in EBO terms. Chances are not going to have an exact fit – in other words you will need make the case and show an understanding of EBO.

These papers should be 5-7 pages minimum (of text) in length (does not include references), maximum 12-point font, 1-inch margins, include your name, and utilize proper APA citation format. This assignment is due by 11:59 PM CST on Sunday of Week #4 of the course. Use at least six sources – at least four need to be independent of the course i.e. not included in the course readings). All papers require a bibliography not included in the minimum number of pages.

Assignment 2
Find a historical situation/plan/operation/mission (you can use the same one in your ppt 2) of a SOCM unit. Give a detailed account of all phases of the operation from Intelligence, Planning to event and outcome. Discuss how the task organization of this unit either fit or didn’t fit the mission. This assignment will be graded how thorough it is. Discuss how cognitive and/or cultural biases affected the operation.

These papers should be 8-10 pages in length minimum (does not include references), maximum 12-point font, 1-inch margins, include your name, and utilize proper APA citation format. This assignment is due by 11:59 PM CST on Sunday of Week #7 of the course. Use at least ten sources – at least four need to be independent of the course i.e. not included in the course readings). All papers require a bibliography not included in the minimum number of pages.

NOTE For all assignments: Papers need a title page, a standard bibliography (not included in the page count). While heading and subheading are permitted make sure your paper meets the minimum text requirement – any attempt to stretch the paper will be seriously frowned upon i.e. standard font, no extra spacing (beyond double spacing), no long quotes, no filler.
