ASU CORE CURRICULUM OBJECTIVES FOR ENGLISH 1302 AND RELATED COURSE ASSESSMENTS:

Students in English 1302 will practice the following core curriculum learning objectives in critical thinking, communication, teamwork, and personal responsibility. Students will then demonstrate their capabilities in these objectives by writing a variety of essays.

Critical thinking will be demonstrated in a final reflection essay.

- Students will gather, analyze, evaluate, and synthesize information relevant to a question or issue by employing problem-solving strategies that generate positions and arguments and by examining the basic principles of information-gathering to support a thesis.
- Students will then develop and demonstrate a logical position (i.e. perspective, thesis, hypothesis) that acknowledges ambiguities or contradictions by analyzing and evaluating their own communication and that of others to raise questions, make assertions, and generate discussion about a topic or question.

Communication will also be demonstrated in a final reflection essay.

- Students will develop, interpret, and express ideas through effective written communication by taking into consideration audience, purpose, circumstances relevant to written communication, by using relevant and appropriate content for the specific rhetorical situation in order to express their purpose(s) effectively.

Teamwork will be demonstrated in various assignments.

- Students will consider different viewpoints as a member of a team by working toward a shared purpose or goal with members of their team and by creating and evaluating their peers' drafts, presentations, and arguments.
- Students will work effectively with others to support and accomplish a shared goal by devoting efforts to team task, interacting with others, contributing to the team, and resolving and synthesizing divergent viewpoints within a group.

Personal responsibility will be demonstrated in a final reflection essay.

- Students will demonstrate the ability to evaluate choices, actions and consequences as related to ethical decision making by identifying their own core beliefs and the sources of those beliefs in order to connect their choices and actions to decision-making and by recognizing possible consequences of their decisions.

PREREQUISITES:

Completion of 1301 or equivalent credit

REQUIRED MATERIALS:

One USB to be used for this class only

ATTENDANCE POLICY:

This class adheres to a departmental attendance policy that allows for four (4) unexcused absences. If a student accumulates more than the allotted four (4) unexcused absences, the student will not pass the course. For an absence to be excused, students must provide documentation in a timely fashion testifying as to their legitimate absence, such as a doctor's note, notice from the health department, or ASU Student Affairs. Being late to class will constitute an absence.

EXTENUATING CIRCUMSTANCES:

At times, there may be special circumstances that might require additional consideration on my part (such as medical or family emergencies). In such cases, the student must appeal to the Student Life Office. Any additional consideration will be at my discretion even after I am contacted by the Dean.

Please be aware that situations like weddings, court dates, work, non ASU sponsored events, etc., are not considered extenuating circumstances.

BLACKBOARD:

In order to ensure that students have access to course materials at all times, all assignment sheets, required reading assignments, and related handouts will be posted on Blackboard. When indicated on the syllabus, students are required to access corresponding assignment sheets, required reading assignments, and/or handouts and have those documents available in class. Failure to produce the required documents in class on the scheduled class dates will result in an absence. All students enrolled in the course are automatically enrolled in Blackboard.

ACADEMIC HONESTY:

Academic integrity is taking responsibility for one's own class and/or course work, being individually accountable, and demonstrating intellectual honesty and ethical behavior. Academic integrity is a personal choice to abide by the standards of intellectual honesty and responsibility. Because education is a shared effort to achieve learning through the exchange of ideas, students, faculty, and staff have the collective responsibility to build mutual trust and respect. Ethical behavior and independent thought are essential for the highest level of academic achievement, which then must be measured. Academic achievement includes scholarship, teaching, and learning, all of which are shared endeavors. Grades are a device used to quantify the successful accumulation of knowledge through learning. Adhering to the standards of academic integrity ensures grades are earned honestly. Academic integrity is the foundation upon which students, faculty, and staff build their educational and professional careers.

Students must understand the principles of academic integrity and abide by them in all classes and/or course work at the University. Academic Misconduct violations are outlined in Part I, section B.1 of the Code of Student Conduct. If there are questions of interpretation of academic integrity policies or about what might constitute an academic integrity violation, students are responsible for seeking guidance from the faculty member teaching the course in question.

Angelo State University expects its students to maintain complete honesty and integrity in their academic pursuits. Students are responsible for reading and understanding ASU's Student Code of Conduct, which is available here: <https://www.angelo.edu/live/files/27603-student-handbook-2020-21>

Students who are determined to have violated this policy will receive a failing grade on the assignment as well as a failing grade in the course. They will also be referred to the English and Modern Languages Department Chair for further action.
