Fridays (all day) Management, Instruction, and Research Center, Depart early and return late on Friday evenings

Instructor:

VIN 222

Office hours:
See attached schedule; email anytime.

Student Learning Outcomes:

By completion of the course, students will be able to:
1. Develop a grazing management plan,
2. Determine the most appropriate breeds and species of livestock,
3. Develop a brush management plan,
4. Incorporate wildlife management into a collective ranch management plan,
5. Project ranch income over a 5 year period

Grade:

Your grade for this course will be based on your participation and your final project. All students are expected to attend and participate in every class meeting. During trips, we will be meeting with livestock/range/ranch professionals from around the state. Students are expected to dress appropriately (nice boots or shoes, nice jeans, and collared button-down shirts).
Travel time:
Our travel time will vary some depending on van/vehicle availability. Depending on where we are going, we may leave very early in the morning and may not arrive back until after dark. On some trips, you will be expected to pack a lunch.

Expectations:

On days that we travel, you are expected to arrive before our scheduled departure time. I will not wait for you if you are late. Do not arrive hung-over or smelling of alcohol. I expect everyone to dress appropriately for meeting with ranchers and Ag professionals. That means no T shirts or jeans with holes in them. I would prefer the gentlemen in the course to wear nice jeans, boots, and a button-down shirt. Cowboy hats for the gentlemen are also very appropriate. For the ladies, I expect the equivalent female attire (excluding cowboy hats).

We will look professional and act professional in every sense of the word. Gentlemen, we will be clean-shaven. Facial hair is fine but it will be trimmed and look professional. Please remember; not only are we meeting with professionals and leaders in the Agriculture field, we are also representing Angelo State University, School of Graduate Studies, and the Department of Agriculture.

You will pay attention to all of our speakers, treat them with the utmost respect, and ask questions when the opportunity arises, but do not ask how big their ranch is or how many cows they have.

If you do not follow these rules, I will load you on a bus and send you home.
