Communication

The professor will respond to email and/or telephone messages within 24 hours during working hours Monday through Friday. Weekend messages may not be returned until Monday.

Written communication via email: All private communication will be done exclusively through your ASU email address. Check frequently for announcements and policy changes. In your emails to faculty, include the course name and section number in your subject line.

Written communication via Blackboard: Students are expected to use formal writing skills and give appropriate credit to the source for his/her ideas. Written work should conform to the APA (2010) 6th edition (2nd Printing or higher only) guidelines for referencing.

Virtual communication: Office hours and/or advising may be done with the assistance of the telephone, Collaborate, Skype, etc.

Use Good "Netiquette":

- Check the discussion frequently and respond appropriately and on subject.
- Focus on one subject per message and use pertinent subject titles.

- Capitalize words only to highlight a point or for titles. Otherwise, capitalizing is generally viewed as SHOUTING!
- Be professional and careful with your online interaction. Proper address for faculty is by formal title such as Dr. or Ms./Mr. Jones unless invited by faculty to use a less formal approach.
- Cite all quotes, references, and sources.
- When posting a long message, it is generally considered courteous to warn readers at the beginning of the message that it is a lengthy post.
- It is extremely rude to forward someone else's messages without their permission.
- It is fine to use humor, but use it carefully. The absence of face-to-face cues can cause humor to be misinterpreted as criticism or flaming (angry, antagonistic criticism). Feel free to use emoticons such as J or :) to let others know you are being humorous.

(The "netiquette" guidelines were adapted from Arlene H. Rinald's article, The Net User Guidelines and Netiquette, Florida Atlantic University, 1994, available from Netcom.)

Teaching Strategies

Students are expected to be “active learners.” It is a basic assumption of the instructor that students will be involved (beyond the materials and lectures presented in the course) discovering, processing, and applying the course information using peer-review journal articles, researching additional information and examples on the Internet, and discussing course material and clinical experiences with their peers. Please see the Course Schedule for test, exam, and project due dates, etc.

Assignment and Activity Descriptions

Please note: More detailed instructions, rubrics (if applicable), etc. for these assignments are posted with each on in Blackboard.

- Self-Introduction Video: Students create and submit a self-introduction video to get acquainted with classmates. Videos are created with a software program made available through Blackboard (posted in the Discussions tab).
- Practice Test and Webcam Check: These assignments help prepare student for taking online quizzes and exams. Both are of these are open throughout the semester, can be completed multiple times, but are only graded once (highest grade is recorded).
- Chapter Tests: 15 chapter tests (one for each chapter (1-15) in the required text) will be posted in Blackboard. The chapter tests are intended to provide the student with formative feedback regarding their respective level of comprehension of the required reading. These tests are posted in sequential order for a period not to exceed 36 hours. Students have 30 minutes to complete each individual chapter test.
- Labs: Five lab activities provide students with a variety of hands-on, kinesthetic experiences relative to selected course competencies. Since some of the lab activities require the involvement of other people, students are strongly encouraged to conduct these labs with 2 to 3 others enrolled in the course. Roommates, friends, or family members are permissible. Labs materials and instructions are posted in Blackboard.
- Group Discussion Boards: Group Discussion Boards (one discussion per content module posted in the Groups tab in Blackboard) are provided to help students analyze, synthesize, apply, and evaluate course content, express thoughts, and engage others' opinions and ideas in a healthy and productive learning environment. Students are expected to respond to the professor's prompts and participate in the student discussions that ensue (respond to 3 classmate posts for each module).
- Research Project: This research project provides students an opportunity to utilize the library resources of Angelo State University to locate, retrieve, review, and learn from current literature relative to human motor development. During Module 1, students are expected to submit electronic copies of one refereed journal article for approval. At the beginning of Module 6, students will submit their completed research project (a review of the article retrieved and approved at the beginning of the semester). Instructions and other materials are posted in Blackboard.

- Unit Exams: Through two unit exams, students have the opportunity to demonstrate their ability to comprehend, analyze, synthesis, apply, and evaluate the major concepts, principles, theories, and professional practices associated with human motor development. These exams are posted in Blackboard at the conclusion of Module 3, and Module 6 for 2 hours. Students have 90 minutes to complete and submit each exam.

Assignment Submission

All assignments MUST be submitted through the appropriate link in the Blackboard site. This is for grading, documenting, and archiving purposes. Issues with technology use arise from time to time. If a technology issue does occur regarding an assignment submission, email the professor at doyle.carter@angelo.edu and attach a copy of what you are trying to submit.

Please contact the IT Service Center at (325) 942-2911 or go to your Technology Support tab to report the issue. This lets your professor know you completed the assignment on time and are just having problems with the online submission feature in Blackboard. Once the problem is resolved, submit your assignment through the appropriate link. This process will document the problem and establish a timeline. Be sure to keep a backup of all work.

Late Work Policy

As stated previously, this course is organized into modules. Students but complete all assignments associated with each module before progressing to the next. Assignment due dates are expressed in the document title: Course Schedule, which is posted in Blackboard. Late assignments are not accepted without prior approval of the professor. In other words, students must communicate with the professor before a due date if there is a foresee a problem completing an assignment on time. Since all due dates are posted at the beginning of the semester and sufficient time is provided to complete all assignments, prior approval to submit a late assignment is rare. Furthermore, the professor reserves the right to deduct points for late assignments that are accepted past the original due date.

Student Evaluation of Faculty and Course

Students in all programs are given the opportunity to evaluate their courses and the faculty who teach them. Evaluations are most helpful when they are honest, fair, constructive, and pertinent to the class, clinical experience, or course. Faculty value student evaluations, and use student suggestions in making modifications in courses, labs and clinical experiences.

Angelo State University uses the IDEA (Individual Development and Educational Assessment) system administered through Kansas State University for all course evaluations. The Office of Institutional Research and Assessment administers IDEA for the entire university, online and has established a policy whereby students can complete course evaluations free from coercion. The student learning outcomes emphasized in the class are:

1. Gaining a basic understanding of the subject (e.g., factual knowledge, methods, principles, generalizations, theories)
2. Learning to apply course material (to improve thinking, problem solving, and decisions)
3. Developing specific skills, competencies, and points of view needed by professionals in the field most closely related to this course
