

Drawing I ART1316

Spring 2022 TR 12:30 - 3:15 p.m. MUS205

Course Description

This is an introductory course in Drawing. The course is designed to foster a foundational understanding of the basic pictorial concepts of Drawing. Emphasis is placed upon the development of fundamental skills in drawing through the investigation of media and the exploration of various technical approaches to producing both descriptive and expressive drawings.

Course Objectives

The Student will:

- Be provided with instruction and activities designed to improve the ability to “see” and draw accurately.
- Be provided with learning experiences designed to improve objective drawing skills.
- Be provided with a working vocabulary for the language of drawing.
- Be provided with opportunities to apply the formal elements and principles of design.
- Be provided with activities that concentrate on basic drawing using a variety of drawing media and techniques.
- Be provided with the opportunities to develop good craftsmanship and a professional attitude.
- Be provided with instruction and activities that will provide a good foundation for further study in visual art.

Course Content

As a structured approach to Drawing this course is designed to introduce students to the fundamentals of drawing. Students will be required to learn and demonstrate an understanding of the language, concepts, practice, and criticism of drawing issues and products. Drawings will be done primarily from the still life, working with a variety of basic drawing media and papers (see supply list). In this regard, students will be required to learn and demonstrate a strong understanding of:

- Drawing tool and material usage.
- Line and proportion
- Elements and principles of composition
- Application of value
- Creating Spatial Illusion

Attendance policy

Attendance is vital since a good deal of learning (involving concepts, skills, and interaction with other students) takes place in class. Students are expected to arrive on time, attend class regularly, and participate in all activities.

Absences:

Excessive absences WILL be reported to administration and will affect your final grade. If the student accumulates more than three (3) un-excused absences his/her grade will be reduced by a full letter grade, and continue to be reduced for each additional unexcused absence. The accumulation of more than seven (7) un-excused absences will result in failure from the class. In this regard, it is the student’s responsibility to withdraw from class if they do not want to receive a failing grade.

Note: an excused absence will be granted only for documented health and family purposes. This means you must provide “official documentation” such as an official doctor’s note, a newspaper clipping, or official university letter etc. in order to be excused.)

Late Arrival or Early Departure

- You will be marked absent if you are more than 15 minutes late or if you leave before class is dismissed.
- If you are tardy, it is your responsibility to inform the instructor after class so that the record can be updated.
- Three Late Arrivals = One Absence.
