Grading

Getting to know you (3% of grade):

There is a getting to know you sheet posted in the week one folder. Complete and submit the getting to know you sheet.

Weekly Reading Notes (20% of grade):

You will submit reading notes each week (excluding the weeks you are facilitating) under the weekly module in blackboard. Weekly reading notes are due each Saturday by 11:59pm. This is a method for taking notes on your weekly readings, which will be useful for drafting and answering your developmental question response. Using this method, the notes are between 1 and three pages in length for each reading. I have attached a sample of what your reading notes should look like at the end of this syllabus. If there are multiple readings for the week, you will submit them as one document. Each note has a complete APA citation as a heading followed by this summary of information:

Purpose of the article: a concise statement as to the main aim of the article or reading

Main points: a listing of the key points in the reading

Core concepts: description (in some cases, a definition) of any core concepts in the reading

Conclusions: a statement of the main conclusions(s)

Commentary: statement of the main thing you learned from this reading

Weekly Discussion Questions (20% of grade):
Each Tuesday, the facilitators will develop and post a discussion question that pertains to the readings for the week. Students will have until Thursday at 11:59pm to post their response to the discussion question and until Friday at 11:59pm to respond to at least 2 other peers. Keep in mind that you cannot just post your response and never look at it again. You must keep checking for responses to your submission and respond to any of the comments on your submission. This activity is intended to be a discussion, (not just a single post).

Facilitation (40% of grade):
Each Tuesday, the facilitators (detailed on the schedule) will develop and post a short lecture using Kaltura, Zoom, or Powerpoint. The facilitators will create the discussion thread for the week and post their lecture and video in the thread. This lecture should be 15-20 minutes in length and should summarize the readings for the week. You may develop slides to help you summarize and detail the readings or you may choose to lecture without slides. The Facilitators for the week will also develop and post a thoughtful discussion question related to the readings for the week and monitor peer’s reply to the discussion question. Keep in mind, posting a discussion question such as “Did you like this reading” is not thoughtful and does not stimulate discussion. You can find tutorials for how to make and upload a Kaltura or Powerpoint presentation using the Recording and Uploading Video Instructions on Blackboard.

Developmental Question Response (17% of final grade):
There is a list of questions posted on blackboard that are related to a number of topics in developmental psychology. These questions are similar to something you would see on a qualifying exam. You will select one of these questions, and develop a 3-5 page response to that question using APA style (12pt font, double-spaced, name & SID in header, reference page at end of response, no abstract or cover-page needed). Responses should be thoughtful and well detailed and include citations from the readings covered in this course and potentially other reading not covered in this course.

Grading System

Course grades will be dependent upon completing course requirements and meeting the student learning outcomes. It is my policy that if at the end of the term a student is less than half of a percentage point away (i.e. >.51) from the next grade level, that student is rounded to the next grade level.

The following grading scale is in use for this course:

- A = 90.00-100 points
- B = 80.00-89.99 points
- C = 70.00-79.99 points
- D = 60.00-69.99 points
- F = 0-59.99 points

Additional Sources Support:

You are more than your grades or your ability to perform in college. Your general well-being is important to me as a faculty member, and this university. Issues such as insufficient food, safe housing, and mental health concerns may leave you struggling to complete assignments and perform to your standards. We have support on campus for students in these positions.

Food Pantry - Research shows that college students experience food insecurity at higher rates than the American household rate, and that food insecurity can negatively impact academic performance and persistence. Ram Pantry ³ (325-942-2729) exists through the Office of Multicultural Affairs and is available 8-5, Monday through Friday to assist with food scarcity. Food services resources are also available to all city and county residents. For a list of all local Food Bank, Blessing Boxes, and Meal Sites Locations follow the link to the Flyer ¹³. For information on all local food services please visit The Concho Valley Regional Food Bank which is located at 1313 South Hill Street San Angelo, Texas 76903. Phone: (325) 655-3231 Email: info@conchovalleyfoodbank.org.

Counseling Services - Diminished mental health, including significant stress, mood changes, excessive worry, or problems with eating and/or sleeping can interfere with optimal academic performance. The source of symptoms might be strictly related to your course work; if so, please speak with me. However, problems with relationships, family worries, loss, or a personal struggle or crisis can also contribute to decreased academic performance. ASU provides mental health services to support the academic success of students. Counseling Services ⁴ (325-942-2371) offers free, confidential psychological services to help you manage personal challenges that may threaten your well-being between and is available 9-3 Monday through Friday or 24/7 through the ASU Crisis Hotline at (325-486-6345). Getting help is a smart and courageous thing to do -- for yourself and for those who care about you.

Students With A Goal (SWAG)⁵ Program - SWAG’s mission is to promote lifelong student success by providing innovative resources to ASU students. We are committed to helping students picture, plan, prepare, and pursue their academic goals to become successful students and professionals. The program will help students explore different learning processes by helping them access their own study routines, model new strategies, and put new skills into practice.

Writing Center - The mission of the Writing Center ⁶ is to help all students become better writers and readers. The Writing Center is a peer tutoring service where students help students. It is staffed by specially selected and trained graduate assistants and peer tutors who offer one-on-one conferences about writing and reading. The Writing Center serves all ASU undergraduate and graduate students. We work with students from any discipline, at any skill level, and on any stage of the writing or reading process. The Writing Center tutors also provide feedback on scholarship, job, or graduate school applications.

Plagiarism is a serious topic covered in ASU’s Academic Integrity policy 10 in the Student Handbook. Plagiarism is the action or practice of taking someone else’s work, idea, etc., and passing it off as one’s own. Plagiarism is literary theft. In your discussions and/or your papers, it is unacceptable to copy word-for-word without quotation marks and the source of the quotation. It is expected that you will summarize or paraphrase ideas giving appropriate credit to the source both in the body of your paper and the reference list. Papers are subject to be evaluated for originality. Resources to help you understand this policy better are available at the ASU Writing Center.6

Student Evaluation of Faculty and Course

Students in all programs are given the opportunity to evaluate their courses and the faculty who teach them. Evaluations are most helpful when they are honest, fair, constructive, and pertinent to the class, clinical experience, or course. Faculty value student evaluations, and use student suggestions in making modifications in courses, labs and clinical experiences.

Angelo State University uses the IDEA (Individual Development and Educational Assessment) system administered through Kansas State University for all course evaluations. The Office of Institutional Research and Assessment administers IDEA for the entire university, online and has established a policy whereby students can complete course evaluations free from coercion.
