Explanation: This course is a directed course in Studio Art. The course will provide an opportunity for the student to independently explore various methods, materials, and processes of Studio Art. I will teach and direct this research course. The student and I have discussed the study and have agreed on the following approach.

The study will consist of:

- 1.) Scheduled meetings between the instructor and student for the purpose of evaluating the student's progress during the study.
- 2.) The research and discussion of important concepts and techniques and their significance to the development of the student's work.
- 3.) Periodic review and critique of the student's artwork to foster visual research and creative problem solving.
- 4.) The completion of a portfolio that demonstrates a focused investigation of studio art concepts and techniques.
- 5.) The completion of a "Final Project" demonstrating significant investigation of the process of studio art. This project is to be discussed and completed under the supervision of the instructor.
