International Law and Law of War 2000-2004, Rhein-Main AB Germany

Developed training course and taught in support of the 16th Expeditionary Support Squadron for Air Force members deploying to the Balkans. The course included International Law covering Status of Forces Agreements specific to the myriad regions of the Balkans, Follow the Flag Status and customary international law. Additionally, the course included the Law of Armed Conflict, Standard Rules of Engagement and Rules of Engagement specific to the Balkans Area of Operations (AOR), and Customary International Law as it pertains to inherent right of self-defense. The one hour block of instruction was taught 2-3 times a week to hundreds of Air Force personnel prior to deploying to support the NATO Stabilization Force (SFOR) in Bosnia and Herzegovina and the NATO Kosovo Force (KFOR).

Alcohol and the Law 2000-2009, Rhein-Main AB Germany, Incirlik AB Turkey and Goodfellow AFB Texas

Developed training course and taught at a briefing designed to prevent alcohol related incidents and for Airmen involved in alcohol related incidents. The briefing weaved both military, overseas country and state law with alcohol risks and legal repercussions. The 1-hour training was taught once a month to hundreds of personnel spanning the timeframe.

Individual and Team Combat Tactics 2006-2011, Goodfellow AFB Texas

Taught individual and team combat tactics such as bounding overwatch, flanking, staggered column formation, reaction to direct and indirect fire and combat search of enemy personnel. From 2006-2009 the training was taught to each Goodfellow AFB military member prior to deploying to a war zone. From 2009-2011 the training was taught once a year to Angelo State University ROTC Cadets. Hundreds of personnel were trained during the timeframe.
Operations Security (OPSEC) Fundamentals 2011-present, Goodfellow AFB Texas

Developed and taught OPSEC fundamentals with specific training on Goodfellow AFB OPSEC concerns, counter-measures and unit coordinator responsibilities. The 1-hour training session is taught to new OPSEC Coordinators and given as refresher training annually. To date, the training has been given to over 150 personnel.

Contingency and Operations Plans Fundamentals and Key Personnel 2011-present, Goodfellow AFB Texas

Developed and taught Contingency and Operations Plans training; the 1-hour training covers inception and maintenance of plans necessary to mitigate a crisis. Additionally, taught specific Goodfellow AFB plans requirements as well as specialized training for Key Personnel (Wing Commander, Vice Wing Commander and all Group Commanders). To date, the training has been given to over 140 personnel.
