Bio

Dr. Wierzowiecki graduated from the University of Texas Health Science Center in 2000 with a Masters Degree in Physical Therapy. In 2006 he obtained his transitional Doctorate in Physical Therapy from Temple University. His clinical practice experience includes acute care physical therapy, outpatient physical therapy, pediatric home health, and skilled nursing physical therapy.

Dr. Wierzowiecki's management experience spans from lead Physical Therapist in acute care and outpatient settings to management of multiple facilities employing diverse multidiscipline staff. For more than 15 years Dr. Wierzowiecki has served as a Director of Rehab in the skilled nursing setting and has been responsible managing multiple facilities. At the corporate level he has played an integral role, as team lead, for design and implementation of staffing models, productivity standards, clinical education, annual review process, and bonus system structure.

Dr. Wierzowiecki's current focus is on the changing treatment paradigm in the continuum care model for patient outcomes from acute care to home. This focuses on establishing close relationships with acute care providers, skilled nursing facilities and home healthcare agencies.
