Admission Decisions

Students are emailed by the office coordinator once they have met the admission requirements and have taken Introduction to Social Work and Theory and Practice. B.S.W. program admission applications are reviewed once the office coordinator approves that all requirements have been met. All email correspondence from the B.S.W. program will be directed to the student’s ASU email address assigned during the application process. Applicants must regularly check the ASU email address for any correspondence related to their application.

It is the applicant’s responsibility to ensure all application materials are submitted by the application deadline, including uploading unofficial transcripts. Applicants may monitor their application process from the InPlace portal. Incomplete applications will be marked as rejected with an explanation for rejection. Students may amend their applications during the review process. Please note that time taken for corrections or amendments could result in an application being placed on the waitlist.
Admission Statuses: Regular and Provisional

There are two types of admission status for the B.S.W. program: regular and provisional admission. Admission status is based on prior academic performance and measured by the applicant’s prior grade point average (G.P.A.) based on a 4.00 (or equivalent) grade point scale.

Regular admission to the B.S.W. program is offered to applicants who earned a 2.50 G.P.A. or higher on a 4.00 (or equivalent) G.P.A. scale, have no ethical or conduct infractions, and receive satisfactory evaluations from their field instructors. Provisional admission to the B.S.W. program is offered to applicants who earned lower than a 2.00 G.P.A. on a 4.00 (or equivalent) G.P.A. scale. Provisionally admitted students are granted one semester to earn a 2.50 G.P.A. or be dismissed from the B.S.W. program.

Probationary status. Probationary status in the B.S.W. degree program is offered to students who hold regular or provisional admission status in the program, and their overall grade point average (GPA) drops below a 1.50 or there social work GPA drops below 2.50. Probationary status is only awarded for one semester; at the end of the semester in which probationary admission was awarded, the student will be evaluated for regular admission or will be dismissed from the B.S.W. program.

Confirmation of Admission Acceptance

After review of the completed application, applicants will be emailed a Confirmation of Acceptance, placed upon the waitlist (if the program has reached capacity), or denied admission. Those admitted to the B.S.W. program will be emailed a Confirmation of Acceptance, which must be completed within twenty-one (21) days to demonstrate intent to attend the program. Failure to meet this deadline may result in placement on the waitlist.

Should admitted applicants choose not to enroll in the academic year for which admission was granted, they will need to reapply through ApplyTexas for the academic year in which they choose to enroll. This includes the additional incursion of any fees associated with the application process.

Waitlist Policies and Procedures

As previously stated, once the program admits and confirms enough students to reach capacity, all subsequent qualified applicants will be placed on the waitlist. If seats become available, individuals on the waiting list are accepted into the program on a “first-come, first-served” basis. This means that waitlisted individuals will be considered in the order in which their applications were received via Inplace. The Department of Social Work and Sociology will notify persons on the waitlist as/if positions become available via the applicant’s ASU email address.

Individuals on the waiting list who are not admitted for the upcoming academic year must reapply the following year, if they choose. Waitlisted individuals who reapply will be given priority review and acceptance for the following year’s cohort.

Communication Upon Admission

In addition to possible Confirmation of Acceptance and Waitlist notifications, newly admitted students will be sent additional email messages about enrollment processes and upcoming orientations. All email correspondence from the B.S.W. program will be directed to the applicant’s ASU email address. Applicants and newly accepted students are required to regularly check incoming email for university communication, especially from the Office of Financial Aid and the Department of Social Work and Sociology.

Official Degree Plans

Approximately one month before students begin courses in the Fall they should meet with an advisor to complete the Undergraduate degree plan. Degree plans provide the department with how many students are in the B.S.W. program and provides students a scheduled sequence of courses a student should take each semester throughout the duration of the program.

Program Options: On-campus and Online

The B.S.W. program offers both an on-campus and an online program option.

On-campus students attend all of their courses as well as the comprehensive examination in person at Angelo State University. Online students attend all of their courses online. Students living within 250 miles of San Angelo must attend the comprehensive examination on-campus when it is administered during the final semester of the program. Students living farther than 250 miles from San Angelo will take the comprehensive examination in a format that is proctored and administered online.
Transfer Credit

Students must adhere to the transfer credit policies of the undergraduate program to which they are admitted. Official transcripts showing the successful completion of the courses petitioned to be transferred must be on file in the admission office. At least one-third of credits toward an undergraduate degree must be earned at ASU. No undergraduate work for which the student received a grade lower than “C” will be accepted for transfer credit. All transferred coursework must have been completed no more than six years prior to the awarding of the bachelor’s degree at ASU.

It is the student’s responsibility to:
- Make the request for transfer credit to the B.S.W. Program Director;
- Obtain and supply the official transcripts for requested courses; and
- Submit a copy of each course syllabus from the original school to the B.S.W. Program Director for the courses whose credits are to be transferred.

Credit for Experience, Correspondence and Extension Courses, or Other Non-Academic Training

Angelo State University does not allow the transfer or use of undergraduate credit earned by experience or by correspondence or extension courses to apply toward a bachelor’s degree. Further, the B.S.W. program does not accept non-academic training for transfer credit toward the bachelor’s degree (e.g., work experience, field education experience, continuing education credits, and life experience).

Overall a minimum of 30 semester credit hours in residence of which 24 semester hours must be advanced; 24 of the last 30 hours required to complete this degree must be taken in residence. Social work courses that are required to be taken in residence include: SWK 4371, 4372, and 4373.
When pursuing the undergraduate bachelor’s degree student’s must complete a total of 120 semester hours. These hours are divided into groups that include: the core education requirements, academic major, general electives, and advanced social work elective courses. Some courses are required to be advanced (3000 and 4000 level courses) while others can be from lower division selections (1000 and 2000 level courses). B.S.W. students do not have a minor field of study.

While the B.S.W. degree program at Angelo State University focuses on generalist social work practice, with the careful selection of advanced elective courses through the academic advising process students can effectively build skill sets in the following areas that reflect faculty expertise as well as a chosen corresponding field education location can effectively build knowledge and skills sets across a wide range of social work practice opportunities, such as:

- Children, adolescents, and families;
- Active military members, veterans, and military families;
- Health and mental health settings;
- Addictions and substance use disorders;
- Gerontology and aging populations; and
- Social and community development.

The B.S.W. Curriculum

The B.S.W. program’s curriculum is designed to prepare undergraduate-level social work practitioners to work in a variety of areas including, but not limited to, child, adolescent, and family services; health and mental health; addictions and substance abuse; criminal justice and corrections; and gerontology and aging within a variety of community social service organizations. In addition, the B.S.W. degree also prepares graduates for state licensure (LBSW) exams.

An emphasis is placed on the ecological perspective, providing students with an understanding of the reciprocal relationship between a person and the environment. The general intervention model serves as the template for engaging, intervening, and assessing clients. In addition to these approaches, a range of theories are applied throughout the curriculum to offer students a variety of lenses through which social workers examine, interpret, and seek to improve human behavior through the course of the lifespan.

Recommended Course Sequence for Social Work Majors

The following sequence of courses constitutes the B.S.W. program curriculum listed in the order in which each course should be completed. It is important that all courses are taken in the sequence listed to graduate in the projected time allotted.

Academic Advising

All B.S.W. students will be advised by their faculty advisor prior to the start of each semester. Advising includes discussions of academics, professional development, and career development. If a student takes issue with a decision or comments made by a social work faculty member during the academic and professional advising process, the student is directed to first discuss the issue or circumstance with the particular faculty member. If a resolution to the issue cannot be reached, the student is directed to address their appeal in writing to the B.S.W. Program Director. After the written appeal is received, a conference between the student and the B.S.W. Program Director will be scheduled as soon as possible to address the issue. If a resolution cannot be reached at this level, the student may appeal this decision in writing to the Department Chair.

The Bachelor’s Portfolio

The Bachelor’s Portfolio project is the B.S.W. program’s capstone assignment which, in conjunction with the comprehensive examination, forms the culminating assessments of all bachelor degree candidates. Work from throughout the bachelor program is organized and discussed according to social work competencies in knowledge and skills gained during the course of study. This project will discussed in SWK 4373, the Social Work Practice III course and may require a textbook: Digital Portfolio Construction: A Guide for Showcasing Social Work Skills written by Fitch, Ruffalo, and Austin (ISBN: 9781516527106).

The Comprehensive Examination

As stated, the comprehensive examination is one of two crowning overall assessments for students of the B.S.W. program. Colloquially referred to as the “comp exam,” this assessment is covered in depth during SWK 4373, the Social Work Practice III course and Field education courses (SWK 4371 and SWK 4372). Students are required to purchase exam preparation materials through the University bookstore. This exam fulfills two important functions: it assesses student competency in undergraduate-level social work education and prepares the student for the B.S.W. licensure examination administered by ASWB.

All on-campus students and all online students living within 250 miles of San Angelo must take the comprehensive examination in person. Rare exceptions to this policy may be made on an extremely limited case-by-case basis by the B.S.W. Program Director, who makes the final decision.

Requirements for Graduation with a B.S.W. Degree

All requirements must be met for the B.S.W. degree pursuant to the University Undergraduate Catalog. Applications for graduation must be filed online or in the Dean’s Office (College of Health and Human Services) during the appropriate time; consult the University Undergraduate FCatalog and ask the social work department’s office coordinator for detailed instructions.
The Minor in Social Work

The Department of Social Work and Sociology at Angelo State University offers a social work minor to interested students. Students may obtain an academic minor in Social Work which is grounded in the person-in-environment perspective. Courses in the minor provide students with an understanding of people who may require social services. Students are offered courses that will expose them to biopsychosocial theories of human behavior; assessment and evaluation methods; communication skills; and micro and macro level intervention skills essential in today’s outcome based social service environment. This minor is highly applied, structured, and provides exposure to the social work profession. The Social Work Minor consists of SWK 2307, SWK 2316, SWK 3307, and 9 semester hours from the following courses: SWK 4303, SWK 4305, SWK 4307, SWK 4309, SWK 4313, SWK 4317, SWK 4325, SWK 4327; and includes a total of 18 semester hours of course work. Of those 18 semester hours, at least six semester hours from the upper level course options listed above, are required in residence.

The Academic Policies of the B.S.W. Program

Academic Policies Specific to the B.S.W. Program

Field Education Placements. The social work field education experience is administrated by the Social Work Program’s Field Education Director. According to the CSWE, field education, is the signature pedagogy of the social work profession in which students become socialized as a practitioner while integrating theory with practice. Its intent is to combine the theory of the classroom with the reality of the practice environment. Only social work majors may enroll in a social work field education course. Student placements in particular field settings are negotiated between the student and the B.S.W. Field Education Director. Please see the B.S.W. Field Education Manual for details about field education requirements and placements.

Substance Use. Angelo State University does not condone the possession, use, or distribution of marijuana, LSD, other hallucinogenic drugs, or narcotics by anyone in any campus facility or during practicum or at an internship site. Additionally, ASU has established a drug free campus policy where the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, or use of any drug, narcotic, or controlled substance is prohibited on campus or practicum or internship site by university policy and by the Texas Tech University System Board of Regents as well as by state and federal statute. Any individual found in violation of this policy is subject to disciplinary action pursuant to policy.

Requirement to Follow the Texas Behavioral Health Executive Council and Texas State Board of Social Worker Examiners Rules and Regulations. Students who have been admitted into the B.S.W. program are required to follow the Texas Behavioral Health Executive Council and Texas State Board of Social Worker Examiners Rules and Regulations found in the Consolidated Rule Book for Social Work (https://www.bhec.texas.gov/statues-and-rules/index.html). Violations of these rules and regulations will result in dismissal from the B.S.W. program.
Practice as a Student and the Use of Titles. B.S.W. students may practice as social work students under the supervision of a field instructor. A license to practice social work of any kind is required. Additionally, B.S.W. students may not refer to themselves as a social worker if they are not licensed to do so. Otherwise, students may refer to themselves as a social work bachelor’s students.

Failure to Satisfactorily Complete Coursework

In addition to the standards of the College of Health and Human Services, the B.S.W. program has set forth its own additional criteria related to academic standing, probation, and dismissal:

Failing and Repeating Courses: Students are allowed to fail a maximum of two (2) separate courses throughout the duration of the B.S.W. program (i.e., receive a grade of D or lower). A failed course may be repeated once. If the course is not satisfactorily completed (a grade of C or better) when retaken, the student will be dismissed from the program. If three (3) or more courses throughout the duration of the B.S.W. program receive failing grades, the student will be dismissed from the program;

Field Education Practicum: Due to the pedagogical and professional importance of the field education experience, two courses must receive a grade of “C” or better for the student to graduate from the B.S.W. program: SWK 4371: Social Work Field Education I and SWK 4372 Field Education II.

Comprehensive Examination: Students in the B.S.W. program are allowed three attempts to satisfactorily complete the comprehensive examination which is administered in the final semester of the program. Students who are unable to pass the comprehensive examination after three attempts may repeat the coursework the following spring, if the student is still not able to pass the examination then they can make a written appeal to B.S.W. Program Director.

- Students who choose to make a written appeal and repeat the coursework. These students must make a written appeal to the B.S.W. Program Director explaining their reasoning for wanting to repeat the coursework and why a second attempt is justified. Appeals will be reviewed by Program Director and Field Director. Once an appeal has been approved, the student must schedule the courses corresponding to the failed domains when those courses are normally scheduled during the academic year. These courses must be satisfactorily passed those courses or the student is dismissed from the program. After successfully passing the necessary courses, students have three attempts to pass the comprehensive examination in the next spring semester in which it is offered. If the comprehensive examination is not successfully completed after three attempts, the student is dismissed from the program.

- Students who choose not to make a written appeal and/or repeat the courses corresponding to failed domains of the comprehensive examination. These students are dismissed from the program.

Academic Standing: Good Standing, Probation, and Suspension

The standards for academic standing set by Angelo State University and the College of Health and Human Services is intended to define the academic requirements for continuation of undergraduate study and are listed in the university’s Operating Policy and Procedure 10.07 Undergraduate Academic Status (accessible via https://angelo.policystat.com/policy/token_access/53a7e4c6-46d7-463c-9610-cba4ce2053aa/). Angelo State University recognizes three academic statuses: good standing, probation, and suspension.

Good Standing. All degree programs require an overall 2.00 grade point average in the student's major field and a 2.00 grade point average in the major field in residence. Some degree programs have requirements beyond the minimum identified above (the B.S.W. program requires a 2.50 to be in good standing). A student who meets minimum academic requirements is in good academic standing and eligible for all extracurricular activities, as governed by the rules of the specific activity. Some academic and extracurricular programs have requirements over and above the respective minimum requirements by major.

Probation. Academic probation is an emphatic warning that the quality of the student's work has not met Angelo State University's minimum academic standards and that the quality must improve during the probationary period in order for the student to continue at Angelo State University. A student will be placed on academic probation at the end of the fall or spring semester in which the Angelo State University GPA is less than 2.00. A student will be removed from academic probation at the end of any long semester or summer term if the Angelo State University GPA is 2.00 or higher.

Students placed on academic probation are given two probationary semesters (fall or spring terms) to raise their Angelo State University GPA to 2.00. For example, if a student is placed on academic probation because the Angelo State University GPA has fallen to 1.85, then at the end of the two following probationary semesters the Angelo State University GPA must be 2.00 or higher, or the student will be placed on First Academic Suspension. Students with an Angelo State University GPA of 0.0 after two long semesters will be placed on
First Academic Suspension. Grades earned in coursework in which neither hours nor grades are calculated toward the GPA will not affect a student's academic standing.

Suspension. Students can be suspended from Angelo State University courses if they are not in good standing. At the end of one long semester period for a First Academic Suspension, students can apply for readmission to Angelo State University for the subsequent semester. Re-enrolling students who have taken courses at another college or university must meet Angelo State University's transfer requirements for readmission. Readmission applications must be completed seven (7) business days prior to the semester for which the student is applying. Students who re-enter Angelo State University following an academic suspension do so on academic probation. For specific regulations, refer to paragraph on "Academic Probation". If the Angelo State University GPA is less than 2.00 at the end of the second probationary semester, the student will be placed on second academic suspension. See section C below for information regarding appeals of a Second Academic Suspension.

Exceptions

Exception’s to the suspension policy may only be made in situations involving documented cases of serious illness or personal misfortune or when students are making discernible progress toward completion of a degree program. Students will receive notification by the Angelo State University Registrar that outlines the suspension appeals process. The appeal must be completed in accordance with the time frame established by the Registrar. Prior to filing an appeal, students must clear all existing holds. If the appeal is granted by the Academic Review Committee, the student will return to Academic Probation.

Unless other special conditions are imposed by the dean, students granted reinstatement and re-admitted on academic probation are given two probationary terms (fall or spring terms) to raise their Angelo State University GPA to 2.00. In addition to any special conditions imposed by the dean, students must meet the conditions under "Academic Probation" explained above. At the end of the second probationary semester, if the Angelo State University GPA is less than 2.00, the student will be placed on the appropriate academic suspension.

Academic Policies Relating to All University Programs

Academic Honesty. The university expects all students to engage in all academic pursuits in a manner that is beyond reproach. Students will be expected to maintain complete honesty and integrity in their experiences in the classroom. Any student found guilty of any form of dishonesty in academic work is subject to disciplinary action. Procedures for discipline due to academic dishonesty have been adopted by the Texas Tech University Board of Regents and are published under the Section on Student Services and Activities in the University’s Student Handbook. In summary, the Social Work Program’s policy concerning academic honesty is consistent with Angelo State University’s policy concerning academic honesty found in the University Undergraduate Catalog.

Plagiarism. Plagiarism is the action or practice of taking previously produced work, ideas, etc., and presenting it as new. This includes one’s own work. The act of plagiarism is considered to be literary theft. It is unacceptable to copy a piece of work verbatim without the use of quotation marks and the appropriate reference citation.

It is the student’s responsibility to be aware of what plagiarism is (including self-plagiarism) as well as how to properly cite material using the most recent publication guidelines established by the American Psychological Association (currently 7th edition). It is expected that students will summarize and paraphrase ideas, giving appropriate credit to the source in both the body and the references sections of submitted work. Papers are subject to be evaluation for originality via Turnitin, SafeAssign, or other such software. Please consult the ASU Writing Center resources for more information. Students found in violation of plagiarism (whether intentionally or unintentionally) during the B.S.W. program may be subject to a variety of consequences including (but not limited to) a zero grade for the submission, a zero grade for the course, and/or dismissal from the B.S.W. program.

Technology Requirements. Course syllabi, video lectures, and supplementary learning materials are all posted via Blackboard, ASU’s learning management system. Online students are required to abide by all technology requirements as their ability to access and participate course material depends on online access.

On-campus students are highly encouraged to possess the technology requirements listed below to ensure the ability to meaningfully participate in all supplemental coursework throughout the B.S.W. program. While on-campus students do have the ability to access computer technology supplied via student computer labs across campus, undergraduate students often find they engage in their studies at all times of day throughout the week. It is the student’s responsibility possess or have access to the listed technology requirements to access online learning resources.

- Computer capable of running Windows 7 or later or Mac OSX 10.8 or later
- Latest version of Firefox, Safari, or Chrome (or other Chromium-based) Internet web browser
• High-speed Internet access (required for online video conferencing, such as WebEx, as well as Internet-based testing)
• Ethernet adapter cable (required for Internet-based testing; wireless connections may intermittently drop, resulting in incomplete test submission)
• Webcam (required for online video conferencing and Internet-based testing)
• Microsoft Office (or compatible Office suite software)
• Adobe Acrobat Reader (or other PDF viewing software)

Student Rights. Students have a right to study and work in a non-discriminatory environment free from harassment. The ASU B.S.W. program affirms and respects diversity and difference among students, faculty, field instructors, staff, and others involved in the program. Students have a right to appeal certain decisions and file grievances, including (but not limited to) admission decisions, academic and professional advising comments and recommendations, and so forth. If a student takes issue with a decision made by a social work faculty member, the student is directed to first discuss the issue or circumstance with the particular faculty, staff member, or administrator in question. If a resolution to the issue cannot be reached, the student is directed to address their appeal in writing to the B.S.W. Program Director. After the written appeal is received, a conference between the student and the B.S.W. Program Director will be scheduled as soon as possible to address the issue. If a resolution still cannot be reached, the student may appeal the decision in accordance with university policy through the proper channels (as listed in the University Undergraduate Catalog). In most cases, the decision of the B.S.W. Program Director is final; however students are advised to follow ASU’s appeal and grievance policies found in the University Undergraduate Catalog.

Student Absence for Observance of Religious Holy Days. A student who intends to observe a religious holy day should make that intention known in writing (email is acceptable) to the instructor prior to the absence. Please see Operating Policy 10.19 – Student Absence for Observance of Religious Holy Day (accessible via https://angelo.policystat.com/) for more information.

Accommodations for Students with Disabilities. Angelo State University is committed to the principle that no qualified individual with a disability shall, on the basis of disability, be excluded from participation in or be denied benefits of the services, programs, or activities of the university, or be subjected to discrimination by the university as provided by the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA), the Americans with Disabilities Act Amendments of 2008 (ADAAA), and subsequent legislation.
Student Disability Services is located in the Office of Student Affairs and is the designated campus department charged with the responsibility of reviewing and authorizing requests for reasonable accommodations based on a disability. It is the student’s responsibility to initiate such a request by contacting an employee of the Office of Student Affairs in the Houston Harte University Center, room 112 or by
