ACADEMIC REGALIA

The academic gowns, caps and hoods worn at commencement ceremonies date back to the early days of the oldest universities in the Middle Ages. Monks, scholars and clerics wore them to keep warm in the damp, drafty and unheated buildings. The traditional academic regalia have been revised to the modern dress you see today.

The cut of the gown, which is usually black, also varies with the degree held. The bachelor’s gown is worn closed, reaches between 8 and 10 inches from the floor, and has long pointed sleeves from which the arms exit at the wrist. The master’s gown may be worn open or closed and has long pointed sleeves closed at the end with the forearm coming through a slit near the elbow and the flowing sleeve extending down the thigh. While the bachelor’s and master’s gowns have no ornamentation, the doctor’s gown is fullest in cut and may also be worn either open or closed. It is distinguished by the velvet panels down the front and around the neck and full, bell-shaped open sleeves with three velvet bars. This velvet trimming may be either black or the color distinctive of the field of learning.

The black cap, or mortarboard, originated at Oxford. However, other universities may use other types of caps which are legitimate for wear in any American processional when the individual holds his doctoral degree from one of these institutions. The tassel is customarily worn on the left. Men may remove their caps during the prayer, the playing of The National Anthem and the alma mater.

Among the faculty and administration, the gold tassel on the cap indicates the doctoral degree. The white tassel on the cap is for the Master of Arts, the Bachelor of Arts and the Bachelor of General Studies; drab, the Bachelor and Master of Business Administration, and Master of Professional Accountancy; light blue, the Master of Education; brown, the Bachelor of Fine Arts; pink, the Bachelor of Music Education; peacock blue, the Master of Public Administration; gold-yellow, the Bachelor and Master of Science; apricot, the Bachelor and Master of Science in Nursing and Associate in Applied Science in Nursing; and teal, the Doctor of Physical Therapy.

ACADEMIC HONORS

Baccalaureate honor graduates who have completed the residence and grade point average requirements for earning a degree are distinguished in the program with an asterisk by their names. Those graduating *cum laude: 3.50 to 3.69 (overall grade point average); magna cum laude: 3.70 to 3.89; and summa cum laude: 3.90 to 4.0.

Alpha Chi and Phi Kappa Phi are national honor societies organized to recognize and promote scholastic excellence. These societies extend invitations for membership to students whose GPA ranks in the top 7.5% of the junior class and students whose GPA ranks in the top 10% of the senior class. In addition, Phi Kappa Phi extends an invitation to graduate students with at least 18 graduate hours whose GPA ranks in the top 10% of all graduate students.

The gold cords adorning the regalia of some of the graduates represent those achieving summa cum laude, magna cum laude or cum laude distinction. The green and blue honor medallions adorning the regalia of some of the graduates and faculty represent membership in the Alpha Chi National Honor Society. The white and blue honor medallions adorning the regalia of some of the graduates and faculty represent membership in the Phi Kappa Phi National Honor Society. Other academic honor societies may provide cords, medallions, ribbons or pins designating the achievement of their members.
The Angelo State University Alumni Association offers an integral link between former students of San Angelo College, Angelo State College and Angelo State University with their alma mater. Association financial support provides a number of worthwhile enhancements for the university, outstanding patronage for ongoing student activities, and student scholarships. The social goals of the association are to create a viable career network for fellow members and to further enrich the reputation of the school.

Some of the most recent Angelo State University graduates are the sons and daughters of alumni who graduated when the college first gained its four-year degree status. Their parents are alumni who attended the college when it was accredited as a two-year school. Significantly, a very high percentage of the university’s alumni claim that if they were to have to make their decision again as to what university they would attend, they would not alter their choice.

All former students are encouraged to help forge the connection between the university, students and other alumni adopting this motto, “Proud of the Past, Part of the Present, Planning the Future.”

ALUMNI COIN

Upon receiving a degree, each new graduate is presented with an Angelo State University commemorative bronze coin, compliments of the ASU Alumni Association.

The face of the coin prominently features the University Seal with the ASU motto “Fiat Lux,” Latin for “Let there be light,” over a lamp of enlightenment. The lamp rests on a book, representing knowledge, and both are flanked by laurel branches to signify success. The crowning element of the inner medallion is a five-pointed star representing the State of Texas. These components are encircled by an outer ring listing the university name and the institution’s founding year, 1928. The reverse side of the commemorative coin displays a representation of the LeGrand Alumni and Visitors Center, headquarters of the ASU Alumni Association, and an enduring symbol to all graduates that they will forever have a home at their alma mater. Made possible by the gifts of hundreds of alumni, the LeGrand Center is the welcoming gateway for all graduates and friends of ASU to remain connected with the university.

OFFICIAL UNIVERSITY CLASS RING

Each gold ring symbolically captures the uniqueness of Angelo State University. The top of the ring boldly represents the university seal with the school motto “Fiat Lux,” or “Let there be light,” encircled by the university name and founding year, 1928. One side of the ring shows the State of Texas with a star marking our fair city, San Angelo. Below that, the branch of oak represents hospitality, endurance and triumph – all vital aspects of life at Angelo State. On the other side, our mascot Dominic, a burly Rambouillet Ram, symbolizes strength, courage and an intense resolve, especially when the going is rough.

The Official Ring is engraved inside with the words “Continue the Quest.” “The Quest” represents one’s ability to soar beyond the shackles of ignorance and misconception into a new life of freedom and accomplishment.

Students wear the ring with the school name facing them. Upon the granting of degrees at commencement, graduates turn the ring around, with the name facing outward. This symbolizes that the graduate is now ready to face the world.
HONORS PROGRAM

The Angelo State University Honors Program provides academically talented and motivated students with enhanced educational opportunities both inside and outside the classroom. Students are invited to join the Honors learning community based on their SAT/ACT test scores, high school graduating class rank and demonstrated extracurricular involvement. Students admitted into the Honors Program must maintain a 3.25 GPA and actively engage in program activities.

Students graduating with Highest University Honors (††) completed a minimum of 18 semester credit hours of Honors coursework plus an Honors thesis, while those earning High University Honors (†) completed only the 18 semester credit hours of Honors coursework.

SYMBOLS OF AUTHORITY
OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

The Mace

The University Mace was designed by a committee composed of faculty, students and staff in 1995. Crafted of native woods, the mace features a white oak orb with inlaid carvings in mesquite of a Rambouillet Ram, the columns of the Porter Henderson Library and Twin Buttes, highlighted with a Concho Pearl. A double-sided bronze casting of the university seal is mounted atop the orb and a cast bronze cylindrical collar with polished bronze raised letters spelling out Angelo State University, Angelo State College and San Angelo College forms the base of the orb.

The native pecan for the staff of the four-and-a-half foot mace comes from joists of Fort Concho. The carvings are the artistic work of Dr. Judith Hakes, a retired member of the university’s education faculty and an accomplished wood carver. The actual construction of the mace was accomplished by Bobby Peiser, retired Angelo State University campus security director, known for his skills as a craftsman with fine woods. Special acknowledgements go to Nathan’s Jewelers for the gift of the Concho Pearl and to Janette M. Sloper for casting the metal used in the mace.

The Medallion

The Medallion, symbolizing the authority of the president, was designed by a committee composed of staff members. It is worn by the president at official university ceremonies. The Medallion measures four-and-a-fourth inches in diameter and bears the university seal. It is cast in 14 karat gold plated over brass metal with blue and white resin enamel. Presented by the Angelo State University Ex-Students Association, February 1996, is engraved on the back. Eleven identical one-and-a-half inch medallions, one bearing the name of the current president and ten bearing the names of past presidents or interim presidents, embellish the gold chain which supports the medallion. The presidential medallions alternate with eight white medallions with the representation of a ram’s head. The casting of the medallion was done by Janette M. Sloper of Sloper Jewelry Co., Inc., in San Angelo.
